John D. Planning UN Trip

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker is making plans to attend the United Nations General Assembly, it was reported today.

Announcement of the prime minister's decision was expected to be forthcoming later in the day.

With the announcement from London that Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan is planning on going to the United Nations, Mr. Diefenbaker was conferring with external affairs advisers. He has also been in touch by long distance telephone with External Affairs Minister Howard Green, who is now in New York.

The decision of Mr. Macmillan and Mr. Diefenbaker to go to New York is taken here as an indication that both Britain and Canada have been informed that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will submit new disarmament proposals to the UN.

Mr. Diefenbaker's decision to go to the UN may set back by a few days his call to Ottawa of representatives of farm, business, labor and other leaders to discuss unemployment.

5-Point Plan Urged to Fight Poverty, Illness

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—President Eisenhower today pleaded for acceptance of the United States program to help countries overcome poverty and develop in independence without outside interference.

The president, in his address to the 15th United Nations General Assembly, put forward a five-point program for Africa and also made specific recommendations calling for controlled disarmament, international control of outer space, food for peace, and the transfer fissionable materials from military to peaceful purposes.

He urged the United Nations to open an offensive against poverty, illiteracy and disease in Africa and called on the major world powers to avoid an arms race in the awakening continent.

Eisenhower charged that "a few nations" had flagrantly violated United Nations edicts in the Congo crisis "for their own selfish purposes."

Intervention Would Deny Rights

He said the attack by the Communist bloc on Secretary-General Dag Hammarksjold regarding his Congo policies was nothing less than a direct attack against the United Nations itself.

"The people of the Congo are entitled to build up their country in peace and freedom," said Eisenhower.

"Intervention by other nations in their internal affairs would deny them that right and create a focus of conflict in the heart of Africa."

An attentive listener to Eisenhower was Soviet Premier Khrushchev, whose mission to the UN has been interpreted as a desire to extend Soviet influence in Africa as well as promote Russia's disarmament concepts.

The president completed his speech and left the assembly shortly before one o'clock (10 a.m. PDT).

Khrushchev brushed off a request for comment with a terse: "I'm going to lunch."

Yugoslav President Tito said: "It was a positive speech. That's all I can say now."

Polish Communist boss Wladyslaw Gomulka said: "It's too early to comment." Hungarian Communist chief Janos Kadar gave a similar reply.

Eisenhower said the issues posed in the Congo "could well arise elsewhere in Africa."

Adding that the issue would determine whether the UN would be able to protect not only African countries but also countries elsewhere from outside pressure, he said:

"It is the smaller nations that have the greatest stake in the effective functioning of the UN."

"Any nation, seduced by glittering promises into becoming a catspaw for an imperialistic power, thereby undermines the United Nations and places in jeopardy the independence of itself and all others. . ."

The president said the African nations themselves should "choke off competition in armaments."

"The outstanding speed and success of the United Nations in dispatching substantial forces to the Congo should give these states assurance that they can rely on the United Nations to organize an effective response if their security is threatened," he said.

Briefly Eisenhower's proposals for Africa were:

1. Non-interference in the African countries' internal affairs;
2. Help in ensuring their security without wasteful and dangerous competition in armaments;
3. Emergency aid to the Congo;
4. International assistance in shaping a long-term African development program;
5. UN aid for education.

Khrushchev Withholds Applause

When President Eisenhower finished, the delegates applauded briefly, but Khrushchev and the Communist bloc refrained from applauding.

The president left and Yugoslavia's President Tito came to the stage to make his major speech.

External Affairs Minister Howard Green was at his place at the head of the Canadian delegation which greeted Eisenhower with warm applause.

All diplomatic and gallery seats were taken in the blue and gold assembly chamber but the crowd seemed more subdued than at the Assembly opening Tuesday.

The United States, Eisenhower said, is ready to submit to any effective and truly reciprocal inspection system.

He criticized the Russians' walkout from Geneva disarmament negotiations June 27, just as the United States was submitting new proposals, and said:

"Time and time again, the American people have voiced this yearning — to join with men of good will everywhere in building a better world. We

'Constructive And Helpful'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—External Affairs Minister Green said today President Eisenhower's speech to the General Assembly was "very constructive and helpful."

"I was very pleased at his support for the UN and for his attitude towards Africa. In addition, we were pleased that he urged resumption of disarmament talks by saying negotiations can and should resume.

"That is the plea we placed before the recent meeting of the UN disarmament commission."

PM Calls 'Brain Trust' On Unemployment

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government plans to mobilize the collective brainpower of representative national organizations to help it combat the rising tide of unemployment in Canada.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, in a national television address Wednesday night, said he will confer before the next session of Parliament with business, labor, farm and other leaders to get their proposed solutions.

At the same time, in pledging that the unemployment problem will not be left to work itself out, he said the government already has drawn up for parliamentary approval plans based on "a current and realistic appraisal" of the situation.

The prime minister's speech came hard on the heels of the government's latest unemployment report earlier in the day. For the second straight month, it showed the jobless rolls increasing in a summer period when they normally decline slightly before the usual winter rise to peak figures.

"Before the next session of Parliament I intend to call to

Rent Strikers Out After Fierce Riot

LONDON (AP)—A force of 400 policemen today evicted two embattled tenants from municipally-owned flats in the tough St. Pancras borough after a riotous clash with angry crowds.

A dozen policemen and rioters were injured and 17 persons were arrested.

At the height of the melee, stones and rotten eggs were thrown at the police.

Bailiffs who broke through the crowds with police assistance finally removed the tenants—Don Cook, 38, and Arthur Rowe, 59, a waiter.

Cook and Rowe had been barricaded in their flats behind barbed wire entanglements since eviction notices for non-payment of their rent fell due Aug. 28.

Cook and Rowe stopped paying their rent as a protest against increases decreed by the St. Pancras borough council.

Mobutu Guarded After Uprising

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (Reuters)—Army strongman Joseph Mobutu pressed today for the withdrawal of Ghanaian and Guinean troops from the Congo and sought ways to arrest former Premier Patrice Lumumba.

At the same time, police opened fire to disperse several hundred Congolese troops who marched on Mobutu's home after holding a meeting to protest against their irregular pay.

Ghana officers at Camp Leopold said the soldiers were not armed and fled when the gendarmerie fired over their heads. No casualties were reported.

Three officers were arrested but later released. Two armored cars were brought in to guard Mobutu's home after the demonstration.

The 30-year-old colonel demanded the departure of the Ghana and Guinea United Nations contingents Wednesday night after the reported discoverey of a plot by the two nations to restore Lumumba as premier.

Mobutu told reporters he had found documents linking "Communists and Guineans and President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana."

Meanwhile, Lumumba remained in the official residence of the premier with a

HUGE WELCOME

Armed Man Held As Ike Nears

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower got a tumultuous welcome from an estimated 125,000 New Yorkers today as he arrived to address the historic United Nations meeting. The president grinned broadly and waved.

Police and security forces had one bad moment in the midst of the cheering reception, however. A man with a rifle was seized just as the president's car was about to pass by.

The incident occurred near the Manhattan end of the Queens-midtown tunnel while the presidential motorcade was en route from Idlewild Airport to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The man identified himself as Julius Maar, 67. He said he was taking the rifle to a gunsmith to have the stock lengthened. The gun was not loaded and Marr had no ammunition.

Maar, a neatly dressed man of medium build with tinges of grey hair, said in halting English that he held a doctorate of law in Hungary. He showed papers indicating he arrived in the United States on July 17, 1956, as an immigrant from Hungary.

Four persons, one a young woman, held aloft printed signs saying:

"We are counting on you, Ike." "Please don't trust the Red murderers." "No compromise with communism."

Eisenhower stood in the open limousine and gave a "V" for victory sign.

Before the president's arrival, press secretary James Hagerty told reporters there would be no Eisenhower conference here with Russian Premier Khrushchev.

SAIGON (UPI) — Laotian government troops today recaptured the town of Paksane, 80 miles east of Vientiane, and drove the revolutionary forces of pro-western Gen. Phoumi Nosovan into retreat, Vientiane Radio said in a broadcast heard here.

The radio, quoting the Laotian army high command, said the recapture of Paksane, where heavy fighting had been reported for two days, "definitely puts an end to the revolutionary committee's military ambitions."

Girl, 9, Innocent Victim Of Cuban Riot in N.Y. Cafe

NEW YORK (AP)—A nine-year-old Venezuelan girl, struck in the back by a stray bullet in a fight between supporters and opponents of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, died today at St. Clare's Hospital.

The girl, Magdalina Urdaneto of Caracas, Venezuela, was dining with her tourist parents in a restaurant Wednesday, when a gang of Castro sympathizers burst in. An anti-Castroite, Louis Rodriguez, 25, was wounded in the shoulder.

Beer bottles flew, fists swung, and tables and chairs were overturned during the melee. It was touched off after a pro-Castro man sighted five anti-Castro men who came in to order sandwiches at the El Prado restaurant, on Eighth Avenue near 51st Street.

A man was arrested today in connection with the free-for-all, and another man was being sought as the actual gunwielder.

The pro-Castro man used a telephone in the restaurant, and minutes later about a dozen adherents of Castro appeared.

RESTAURANT EMPTIED

When police arrived, the restaurant was practically empty. Lying on the floor were the girl, wounded in the back, and Louis Rodriguez, 25, an anti-Castroite, shot in the shoulder.

Rodriguez, whose wound was not serious, listed his home as Brooklyn. Two other anti-Castro victims who required hospital treatment were Francisco Pereira and Humberto Triana, both 23, who said they were Cuban exiles. They were beaten over the head.

TITO, CASTRO GRAB SPOTLIGHT

Nikita Finally Outshone

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Cuba's Fidel Castro and Yugoslavia's President Tito outshone Nikita Khrushchev briefly today at the UN General Assembly meeting.

Just before the session began, Khrushchev had the unusual experience of being bypassed by photographers. They shot over his head to photograph the greeting between Castro and Tito, who was sitting right behind the Soviet premier.

Castro, swaggering in his revolutionary fatigues, had just walked across the assembly hall to greet Khrushchev—the second time the two have embraced warmly since the assembly opened three days ago.

After chatting for a few minutes, Khrushchev resumed his seat and Castro stepped along to greet Tito.

It was then that some of the photographers ignored Khrushchev for the Yugoslav and Cuban.

Khrushchev and Tito met for the first time since their arrival in New York as they entered the lobby of the UN building. The two smiled, chatted and marched together down the aisle to their seats.

Khrushchev immediately began to complain to Tito about the Soviet premier's treatment in New York. Officials have confined him to Manhattan.

Speaking in Russian, Khrushchev said: "I have a small territory, so I have to come out in the corridors to take a walk."

Continuing his complaints, Khrushchev told Tito:

"They shout and shout, the demonstrators, and now I recognize the same voices. . . . This is decadence."

Tito, speaking in halting Russian and a low voice, remarked to Khrushchev that Fidel Castro, "is a hero."

How the matter of Castro came up at that moment was not clear.

Tito and the Russians fell out in Stalin's days when he publicly refused to bow to total Moscow domination.

. . . UNEMPLOYMENT

Ottawa representatives of business, labor, farm and other leaders of the nation," Mr. Diefenbaker said.

Later, he said in an interview that he plans to seek the views of organizations such as the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Manufacturers Association, the Canadian Construction Association, the agricultural federations and labor leaders.

He said he looks for expressions of opinion at meetings, indicating there may be a series of talks and not one conference. Invitations would be going out soon.

Mr. Diefenbaker's statements lent weight to persistent speculation in the capital that Parliament will be summoned into session this fall before the full onslaught of winter unemployment comes.

MUST EXPAND TRADE

Mr. Diefenbaker said in his TV address that the long-term solution of the unemployment problem is dependent in large measure on continued expansion of Canada's trade. He warned:

"We cannot achieve this if we price ourselves out of the markets of the world because of unreasonable demands from any quarter."

In the last three fiscal years exports had increased by 10 per cent while imports declined slightly. National annual income had increased by 12.4 per cent and was still rising.

"Unfortunately, our economy is not going ahead fast enough to meet the demands of the unprecedented increase in the number of our people who, for various reasons, are looking for jobs."

Test Marred By Loss Of Signals

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An air force Blue Scout rocket hurled a payload deep into space Wednesday, but the test was marred by loss of signals from the package.

The experiment could have led to methods of detecting nuclear explosions high above the atmosphere.

The payload was to travel 16,000 miles from the earth in about 3½ hours. After a 3½-hour descent, it was to burn up in the earth's atmosphere.

CMA CHIEF HAILS PLAN

MONTREAL (CP) — T. R. Mclagen, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said Wednesday he is happy about Prime Minister Diefenbaker's proposal to combat unemployment.

"I think it's a wise move. The government will get a lot of advice about what should be done to solve the unemployment problem."

'Too Little Too Late' —Perrault

VANCOUVER (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker's plan for meetings to study unemployment problems "sounds like too little and too late to the Liberals," British Columbia Liberal leader Ray Perrault said in a statement Wednesday night.

"Surely the Prime Minister requires no further evidence that the need for new jobs is critical," Mr. Perrault said.

The government needs more than advice; it needs representation from bodies which control public funds—such as municipalities and provinces—bodies prepared to spend money co-operatively to get the country out of the unemployment rut."

He said the Liberal party has urged federal and provincial unemployment conferences for several months, but these conferences had to be "more than talk sessions."

guard of Ghanaian troops. The Ghanaians said they would not resist any attempt at the "lawful arrest" of Lumumba. Mobutu conferred with legal advisers Wednesday on how to go about taking Lumumba into custody.

Mobutu also disclosed that he has ordered the expulsion from the Congo of left wingers Serge Michel, Lumumba's press officer, and Mrs. Andree Blouin, a close friend of Lumumba's deputy premier, Antoine Gizenga.

Reliable African sources said the plot to restore Lumumba to power as premier was discovered in three letters found in Lumumba's briefcase when he was held in custody briefly last week at camp Leopold.

One letter was said to be from Nkrumah asking Lumumba to station Ghanaian troops in key places in the Congo and then demand the withdrawal of the UN.

A second letter was said to be from the Guinean capital of Conakry, urging Lumumba to trust no one but the Guineans and Communists. The third was aleged to be signed by Ginzenga calling for 30 Czech technicians to take up posts in the Congolese administration.

COMMISSION TAKES OVER

Mobutu's administrative commission, appointed Tuesday to run the country until the end of the year, took over the government buildings in Leopoldville Wednesday. The commissioners — university graduates and students — said no members of the rival governments of Lumumba and Joseph Ileo would be allowed to enter the buildings.

Some Congolese sources said the commission now has the backing of President Joseph Kasavubu, who two weeks ago named Ileo as premier in Lumumba's place and later appointed Mobutu chief of staff.

Eaton's Transfer W. Bart Carson To Toronto Post

W. Bart Carson, merchandise manager of Eaton's store in Victoria for the past eight years, has been promoted to the fashion and accessory group of departments in the nation-wide mail order division and the Ontario branch stores.

He will leave for Toronto with his wife and student son at the end of the month.

Mr. Carson is a past president of Victoria Gyros, serves on the board of directors of the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria, chairman of the publicity committee for Red Cross blood donor clinics, an elder and member of the board of stewards of First United Church and a member of the chamber of commerce.

Austin Willis

One of Canada's best-known stage, screen and television personalities—Austin Willis—is now being presented to the local radio audience in a refreshingly-different type of five-minute daily program. It is called "Stories to Remember" and it features Mr. Willis narrating intriguing vignettes of life picked up in his travels through many lands. These stories are unusual, often poignant, frequently humorous, sometimes ironic—always deeply interesting. "Stories to Remember" is brought to you by MATINEE, the cigarette that tastes right all day . . . and is heard each day Monday through Friday on CKDA at 9.25-9.30 a.m.

PRISONER AT GRAVE

'Thank You for Seeing My Son'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Roland Lopez, his hands manacled, stood between two detectives and cried quietly beside a little boy's grave.

Lopez, 27, a convicted robber, had escaped from prison to attend the funeral of his stepson, Joseph, 5. But police caught him first.

After the services Wednesday he turned to detective Vernon Weigand and said: "Thank you. Thank you for letting me see my son before he went to Heaven."

The officers led Lopez away—back to prison, where he faces a charge of escape. It carries a sentence of from one year to life.

Last January Lopez began serving five years to life at Chino prison, a minimum security facility, for the robbery of a bowling alley near his Sacramento home Dec. 15.

His wife, Josephine, and Joseph Cordova, her child by a previous marriage, moved to a hotel in nearby Pomona so they could see Lopez on visiting days.

On Aug. 18 little Joseph fell down a stair. After 18 days in general hospital, he died.

Lopez asked prison officials for permission to attend the funeral. Rules prohibit it.

WALKED AWAY

So, Lopez said, he walked away from a work gang. He knew Joseph's body had been taken to the coroner's office, because he and his wife didn't have money for funeral services.

"I spent five days and nights outside the coroner's office," he said, "as near as I could get to Joseph."

Detectives traced Lopez and arrested him. In the meantime, services had been arranged. A couple Mrs. Lopez met in the hospital while Joseph lay dying, raised $50 and called a mortuary to see if that would buy a funeral.

The mortician heard the story and agreed to provide the funeral arrangements free.

Pomona police heard Lopez' story and agreed to let him attend.

NEW YORK BALCONY SCENE

By BRUCE AGNEW

Nikita: the Diplomatic Romeo

JULIET: I have forgot why I did call thee back.
ROMEO: Let me stand here till thou remember it.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nikita Sergeivich Khrushchev likes balconies.

The short, baldish Soviet premier, smiling and laughing at his own jokes, waving at "the real Americans" — the ones who waved back — and shaking his fist good-naturedly at the suggestion that anyone might want to assassinate him, held not one but two Romeo-and-Juliet talks with reporters outside the Soviet mission on Park Ave. Wednesday.

His first hour-long balcony scene was unrehearsed, unexpected, and played strictly for laughs.

'A Good Place for Press Conference'

"I just came out to take the air and here you are," he said, beaming. "I didn't know there was such a good place to hold a press conference."

But his second appearance was a command performance.

Russian newsmen, it seemed, had missed it in the afternoon. So Nikita Sergeivich had to do it all over again, for the folks back home.

He came out on the small, iron-railed balcony above the entrance to the building at 6.40 p.m. This time he was flanked not only by Russian officials but also by some Russian TV cameramen.

He tossed off jovial answers to the first few questions, but turned serious, and paced back and forth on the balcony without answering questions.

"Why are you so serious?" a reporter shouted.

"I'm resting," Khrushchev shouted back.

Laughter Contagious to All

The bald pate on the balcony evoked thoughts below of a pint-sized Mussolini.

But Khrushchev's smile had returned by the time normally dour-faced Andrei Gromyko returned from the United Nations. Khrushchev, on the balcony, and Gromyko, on the sidewalk, held a shouting conversation in Russian. The reporters started laughing.

Khrushchev grinned and chanted "Down with Gromyko." The reporters roared. Gromyko walked into the building.

When Khrushchev was laughing, as he was for most of the two balcony scenes, he looked like a Santa Claus without whiskers. At the few times he was serious, it was another matter.

"Do you still think my grandchildren will be Communists?" a reporter asked.

"Ask that question of yourself," the serious Khrushchev said.

'Only a Madman Would Say That'

What about Khrushchev's reported promise that "We will bury you"?

"I never said such a thing. How can anyone bury a people? Only a madman would say that. The system changes, but the people will live."

Khrushchev's last balcony statement was a joke he told Gromyko. Both started laughing. Newsmen shouted to his interpreter asking "What did he say?"

"It's untranslatable," the interpreter said.

ARRESTED — Walter J. Sarnitz, 37, an Austrian citizen and self-employed broker in export-import business in New York, has been arrested by FBI in New York and accused of master minding an international attempt to defraud California's Bank of America of $20,000,000. (AP Wirephoto)

Flin Flon, busy mining centre in the heart of a fine hunting and fishing area, is 600 miles by road northwest of Winnipeg.

'HANDLED ILLNESSES WELL'

MONTREAL (CP)—Dwight Eisenhower, who had in rapid succession a coronary thrombosis, abdominal disorder, major surgery and a minor stroke, might have been retired long ago if he had been a corporation executive rather than United States president.

"But he handled his illnesses well and continued an active life," Dr. D. C. Bews of the Bell Telephone Company said Wednesday in a service club address.

Dr. Bews said a man should not be considered "finished" on the basis of medical evidence alone. The individual's willingness to carry on after an illness should be considered.

Parents Approve Tour

Parents of 166 Greater Victoria students who made a seven-week tour of Europe last summer are all in favor of continuing the tours.

They think the B.C. Student Travel Association did a "wonderful job."

"We made an independent survey of 54 parents picked at random from the group," said Charles A. Gibbard, principal of Oak Bay High School.

"All gave glowing reports of the tour and said they would recommend it to other parents."

The tour was arranged by R. W. Mercer of Oak Bay High, who accompanied the students on a tour of seven countries.

Next tour for Victoria students is scheduled for 1962. The 1961 tour will be made by students from the lower mainland.

Bedell Smith Bounces Back

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Retired Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, nail-hard soldier-diplomat, was home today in "very fine" condition less than a year after he entered the hospital critically ill with lung ailments.

The 64-year-old friend and former comrade-in-arms of President Eisenhower walked out of Walter Reed Army Hospital Wednesday, living up to his reputation of being "tougher than a 15-minute egg or a 25-cent steak."

Municipal SOS

THE UNION OF BRITISH COLumbia Municipalities at its current convention has again emphasized the crippling burden thrust upon it by present methods of school taxation. The resolutions on that point underscore the need for relief if the governments closest to the people are to carry on effectively.

The simple fact is that home and property owners are forced to pay so much for schools that other services are curtailed. The mayors, reeves, aldermen and councillors know that the municipal taxpayer cannot and will not pack an increasing load indefinitely. The delegates can point to the defeat of school bylaws to prove their point. Property owners are turning down new classroom construction because they are convinced the burden on them is already too heavy.

At the same time it is apparent that schools must be built and that someone must pay for them. The municipalities quite justifiably argue that the costs should be assumed by the senior government.

That such a course is practical was amply argued during the last provincial election. The Liberal Party's arithmetic on the feasibility of such a scheme was not disproved. The Conservative Party's advocacy of a plan to lift the charges from the municipal taxpayer received no adequate rebuttal.

The election is now over. The Government has been returned. There appears to be every reason why the administration should take another of its "second looks" at the problem to justify the objective of its department of education — to give as nearly equal educational opportunity as possible to all the children of this province.

When children lack adequate accommodation in some areas, they are not being given educational opportunity equal to that of communities which are sufficiently supplied with school facilities.

This, surely, is an issue which transcends party politics. That is the case, at least, as far as the municipalities are concerned. They wear no party labels, but they appear unanimous in seeking help essential to them. The area in which they see the most equitable means of providing assistance lies in school finance.

The Fading Vision

A MOST UNUSUAL INCREASE in summer unemployment for the second consecutive month has raised Canada's unemployed total to 322,000 and presented Prime Minister Diefenbaker with the most serious problem of his administration.

To be sure, the unemployment appears to be localized in various sections of the country, rather than general. But summertime unemployment at this height promises a critical situation in the coming winter, when jobs will be seasonally more scarce.

In British Columbia, the mid-August figure of 44,848, is 10,000 more than that for the same date last year. For Canada as a whole the total is up 83,000 from August, 1959, and 11,000 more than last July.

There is scant comfort for the Government in the news that more Canadians are at work than before, for the labor force is increasing too—and at a faster rate than the available jobs.

Canadian production costs are too high. We are being priced out of world markets, and even in domestic markets producers demand the protection of tariffs. Since jobs depend on the sale of goods, Canadian products are going to have to be made more saleable if jobs are to be increased.

Obviously this must involve a fundamental correction. "Make-work" jobs and relief payments, necessary as they are to help unemployed workers survive slack periods, cannot provide an answer to the basic problem. It is relatively easy for the Government to spend money on temporary measures—although even in this department the financially hard-pressed Diefenbaker Government is having trouble. It is quite another matter to come up with a solution for the cause of unemployment.

This is one of the problems Mr. Diefenbaker was going to solve in his "vision" of Canada's future. He has not solved it. In fact it is growing worse, although of course the Government is not directly responsible for the cause of unemployment. Only a few months ago Mr. Diefenbaker and his ministers were saying there was no unemployment problem. Now the Prime Minister announces he will seek the advice of management and labor for a solution his Government has not been able to provide.

Mr. Diefenbaker says that "if everybody will co-operate" in the winter works program, as many as 150,000 to 250,000 jobs may be provided. It is to be hoped that this vision is more substantial than his original one.

Historic Step, Historic Site

IT IS VERY GRATIFYING THAT after years of negotiation and petition from local individuals and groups, the federal Government is taking further steps to safeguard Fort Rodd Hill and Fisgard Light as national historic sites.

It is nearly two years since Ottawa announced that the 44-acre area on the west side of Esquimalt Harbor would be set aside for this purpose, but only this week has word come that the necessary transfer from the departments of defence and transport is under way. The properties will come under control of the department of northern affairs and natural resources, and be developed and preserved as historic ground.

The area is thus safe from sale to private interests or other disposal, and should soon be available to the public for use as a park and point of interest to visitors.

There are few sites in the vicinity of greater value in this respect. Combining rocks, trees, grassy fields and small beaches, Fort Rodd Hill presents an excellent view of the Strait and the Olympics. The buildings and fortifications on the property hold great historic interest for Victorians, and the lighthouse, built more than a century ago, was the first on the British Columbia coast.

There can be no doubt that this will prove to be one of the most popular recreational parks in the area, and thanks are due to those individuals and organizations who for so long sought to preserve it.

Good-Natured Internationalism

VICTORIA MOVED PLEASANTLY into the international realm on the rugby field Wednesday evening, playing hosts to the visiting Japanese Yawata team.

The tourists showed the speed, opportunism and co-ordination notable in certain other postwar Japanese activity, and like the country's drive toward economic recovery, used those characteristics to achieve success.

The game was excellent entertainment for spectators, but above all it demonstrated a good-natured spirit not too common in international meetings these days. There was about it none of the external tensions which have arisen around so many contests between the teams of different nations. The players were engaged in a game, played it well, appeared to enjoy every minute of the match and infected the galleries with the same attitude.

We can stand much more of the same efforts to return sport to sport.

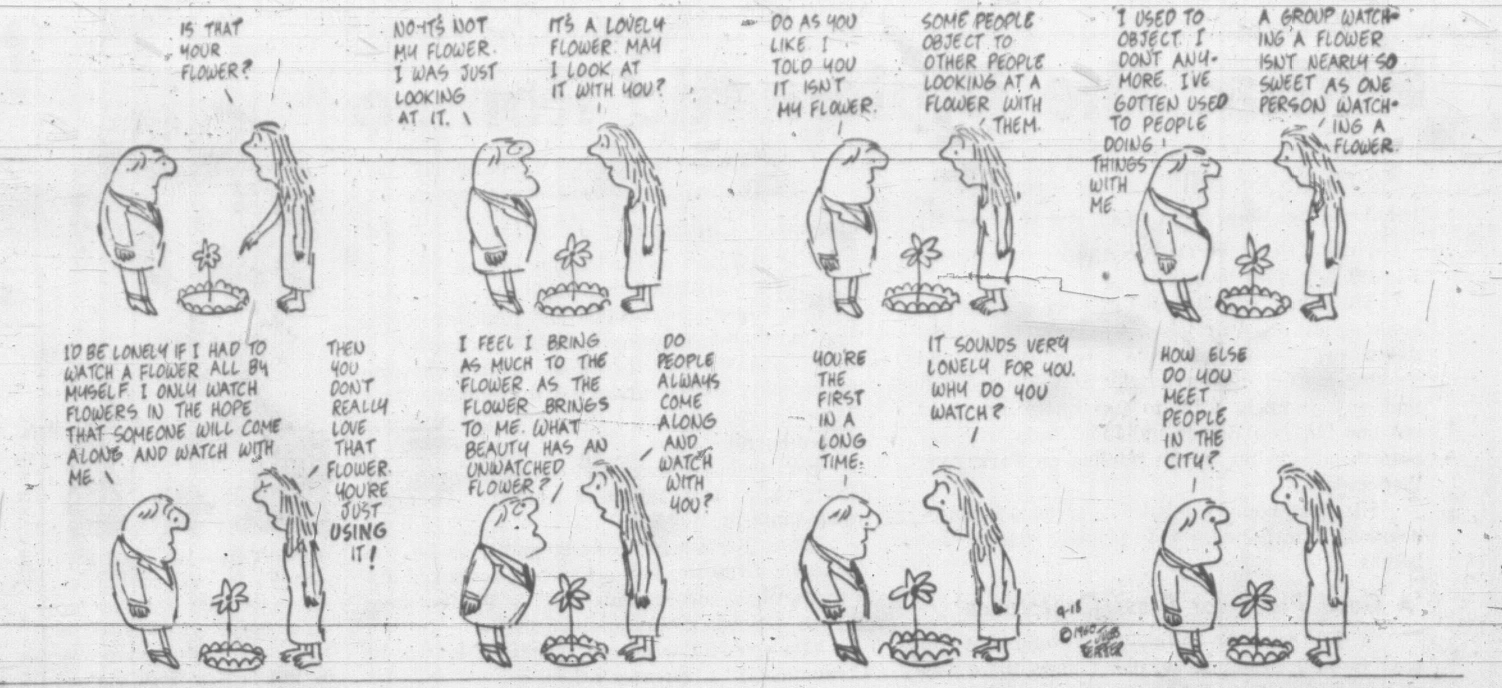
Before the Indians, What?

AS COMPARATIVE NEW-COMers, white British Columbians should note with interest the investigations being carried out to determine the origins of their predecessors here.

Archeological work this year by experts from the University of British Columbia provide further material to suggest that post-Ice Age inhabitants of the province came north as the glaciers retreated some time after 10,000 B.C. The excavations in the Fraser Canyon do not, it seems, rule out the theory that Indians here when the whiteman came arrived over the land bridge from Asia, but at least it appears that there were some humans in residence to welcome them, or to contest their invasion.

It is interesting to learn such matters—interesting also to speculate on how such theories may influence a position frequently taken by some of our natives in relation to compensation sought from the whiteman. Every now and then an Indian spokesman will rise to demand that the government pay to the bands money for the land white settlers have presumably usurped.

The Fraser Canyon discoveries seem to strengthen the case for the whiteman's insistence that Indians produce deeds of sale from those in earlier residence.



IS THAT YOUR FLOWER?
NO—IT'S NOT MY FLOWER. I WAS JUST LOOKING AT IT.
IT'S A LOVELY FLOWER. MAY I LOOK AT IT WITH YOU?
DO AS YOU LIKE. I TOLD YOU IT ISN'T MY FLOWER.
SOME PEOPLE OBJECT TO OTHER PEOPLE LOOKING AT A FLOWER WITH THEM.
I USED TO OBJECT. I DON'T ANYMORE. I'VE GOTTEN USED TO PEOPLE DOING THINGS WITH ME.
A GROUP WATCHING A FLOWER ISN'T NEARLY SO SWEET AS ONE PERSON WATCHING A FLOWER.
I'D BE LONELY IF I HAD TO WATCH A FLOWER ALL BY MYSELF. I ONLY WATCH FLOWERS IN THE HOPE THAT SOMEONE WILL COME ALONG AND WATCH WITH ME.
THEN YOU DON'T REALLY LOVE THAT FLOWER. YOU'RE JUST USING IT!
I FEEL I BRING AS MUCH TO THE FLOWER AS THE FLOWER BRINGS TO ME. WHAT BEAUTY HAS AN UNWATCHED FLOWER?
DO PEOPLE ALWAYS COME ALONG AND WATCH WITH YOU?
YOU'RE THE FIRST IN A LONG TIME.
IT SOUNDS VERY LONELY FOR YOU. WHY DO YOU WATCH?
HOW ELSE DO YOU MEET PEOPLE IN THE CITY?

Assessing the Possibility of a Sino-Soviet Break

NIKITA S. KHRUSHCHEV most probably has not just one, but three important meetings on his immediate schedule. After making his usual constructive contributions to the International Zoo at the UN, he may well go to Cuba for a cosy weekend with Fidel Castro. And in October, he is expected to meet with Mao Tse-tung in North Korea. Among these dates which the demonologists think Khrushchev has on his calendar, the one with Mao will surely be the most significant if it takes place.

Alsop

The point is that the relations between the Soviet Union and Communist China are now so tense that there is a clear possibility of an open break between the two giant powers of the Communist bloc.

It is enough to say, here, that the evidence pointing to a Soviet-Chinese break is far stronger today than all the warning evidence that was available before the Soviet-Yugoslav break. Although Khrushchev will no doubt bellow for admission of Communist China to the United Nations, this will be a ritual gesture. The reality will still be the possibility of a break.

In his quarrel with the Chinese, moreover, Khrushchev has no free options. The Kremlin cannot back down in this quarrel, without compromising Moscow's claim to be the New Rome of Communism.

It is Mao Tse-tung who has to decide whether to back down or to accept the break. And as yet there is no evidence at all that Mao Tse-tung is getting ready to back down.

In these circumstances, the point of issue in the quarrel has great potential importance. Superficially, it is doctrinal.

The Chinese have called the Soviets "blasphemous" for asserting that the holy Lenin believed in the possibility of peaceful coexistence with the capitalist powers. The Soviets have called the Chinese "blasphemous" for saying that the holy Lenin believed in the inevitability of war with the capitalist powers, as a necessary preview to the world triumph of the Communist cause.

But this superficial, doctrinal dispute undoubtedly conceals a far more crucial dispute about a concrete issue. As one dispute must also reflect the other, the concrete issue is all but certain to be Chinese insistence upon a war-like adventure which the Soviets regard as altogether too risky.

If Mao Tse-tung finally accepts a break on this issue, it must mean, in turn, that he is prepared to launch his desired adventure without assurance of Soviet support.

Such is the logic of the Sino-Soviet quarrel. Other points are involved, but the war-vs.-peace conflict, is fairly central.

If a break comes, therefore, it will knock into a cocked hat one of the absolutely basic and most comforting assumptions of the Western policy makers—the assuption that the Soviets can always be counted on to retain a power of veto over Chinese adventures involving any military risk.

The collapse of that long-standing assumption is an ugly thing to contemplate. Yet a Chinese challenge to the Soviet power of veto is about the only way to make sense out of this Sino-Soviet quarrel.

There is nothing else that could drive Khrushchev to consider a break with Mao, as he is obviously doing, unless Khrushchev believes that internal strains in China are so great that the Chinese regime itself is in danger from within. The two factors may inter-act, in truth, but their internal strains would naturally produce a desperate Chinese hankering for external military success.

One question remains: where on earth can the Chinese hope to gain a nationally unifying military success without full Soviet support? There is, unhappily, a possible answer.

There is the exposed position on the offshore islands in the Formosa Strait, that the Soviets authorized the Chinese to make a carefully limited assault on two years ago.

That assault failed, partly because of American action, but mainly because of the sheer military incompetence of the Chinese effort. In particular, the Chinese Communist artillery, which ought to have interdicted all access to the offshore islands, instead altogether failed to establish an effective blockade.

Since that time, little has been done to strengthen the offshore islands. But since that time, according to the best informed estimates, everything has been done to strengthen the Chinese Communist artillery preparation.

For these reasons, the possibility of a Sino-Soviet break, which ought only to raise the hopes of the West, is also causing considerable Western apprehension.

PROBLEMS OF MEMBERSHIP AND POLICY

By MAX FREEDMAN

Fate of the United Nations May Hang in the Balance

UNITED NATIONS, New York: As the General Assembly continues, the supreme question before the United Nations is the fate of the world organization itself. This week 14 new states have become members. By end of the year the membership will be about 100. Since 1945 the organization membership has nearly doubled. Already there are suggestions that the rules of the United Nations should be changed to favor the Communist bloc and the African-Asian nations. The most important change would be an increase in the membership of the Security Council so that Russia would no longer be in a helpless minority.

Max Freedman

There is much to be said for altering the size of the Security Council, quite apart from the self-serving arguments of Russia. Quite plainly the Security Council has ceased to be an accurate reflection of the developing membership of the United Nations. Its membership should be changed to give greater representation to the African-Asian nations.

No Dupes

There can be no greater folly than to assume that these governments will allow themselves to be used as agents or dupes of Soviet policy. They are ready to support the West, as their votes have shown—especially during the debate on the dispute in the Congo—when they believe that western policies are worthy of this support.

To regard the present geographical representation on the Security Council as fixed and immutable and to oppose all changes as destructive of the dominant Western position, could have only one result. It would make Russia the inevitable champion of the new members, and she would gain dangerous assets in the African-Asian bloc, regardless of the final outcome of this campaign.

The wisest Western policy would be to anticipate the development, to urge a free decision by the General Assembly, and to prevent the Soviet Union from posing as the sole or major champion of inevitable change.

But if there must be flexibility under the question of membership and procedure, there can be none on the future of Secretary General Hammarskjold. The special session of the General Assembly on The Congo has been used by the Communists to attack the Secretary General with unprecedented personal criticism that has brought from him a veiled hint of possible resignation.

High Courage

An overwhelming majority stands firmly behind Mr. Hammarskjold, recognizing and applauding his unique services for peace in the Congo crisis. The personal skill and high courage of Mr. Hammarskjold in every phase of this crisis has earned him the respect and praise of almost every nation outside the influence of the Communistic bloc.

He is entangled in his present difficulties, not because of his mistakes, but because of his constant loyalty to the mandate of the Security Council. He could have intervened in the internal quarrel of the Congo, as Russia has desired, only by ignoring the character of the United Nations and violating the precise instructions given him by the council.

Mr. Hammarskjold will welcome any committee that lends him its "good offices," in the accepted diplomatic phase, in working for a solution of the Congo problem but he may resign if the General Assembly ultimately sanctions an "administrative committee" that would in effect, by invading his prerogatives and limiting his future freedom of action, amount to an indirect censure of his conduct.

The Western nations have been unable to prevent the personal embarrassment of the Secretary-General. They can prevent his resignation by the simple device of standing firm against all Soviet blandishments or threats. Anything less than this firm unity would be unforgivable.

Premier Castro's visit has aroused almost as much attention—and public indignation—as the arrival of Premier Khrushchev. There is a growing conviction that Mr. Castro has blundered in coming to the United Nations. He may appear too obedient to Moscow's wishes to satisfy his own people.

And anything less than outright opposition to Moscow's purposes will increase his estrangement from his neighbors in Latin America.

The United States believed before the Assembly began that it would lose the vote of many Latin American members on important issues because the debate has been confused by the misleading charge of colonialism and imperialism. But the resentment of Castro's government as an unruly and derisive member of the Organization of American States will serve to keep these members loyal to the leadership of the United States.

With Influence

Among the visiting leaders no one will be more influential with a great variety of states than will Prime Minister Nehru of India.

At first Mr. Nehru was unwilling to visit the General Assembly, because it has become the major arena for the cold war. He decided to come because later reflection convinced him that it would be possible to use the increased strength of the Asian-African nations to moderate the antagonisms of the great powers.

For the last few years the central member of the Asian-African bloc has been India; and there has been a popular saying at the United Nations that the General Assembly can do nothing that fails to satisfy the eccentric judgment of Mr. Khrishna Menon, the chief Indian delegate. This role of leadership may be curtailed in the future but India's influence will still be a major reality at the United Nations.

For that reason it is a matter of rejoicing that the wisdom and maturity of Mr. Nehru have become available to shape India's policy during this formative new period. It is an influence from which the West, if it is wise, has nothing to fear and from which it has much to gain.

Surprising Result

One of the most surprising results of the present emergency is that it has forced France to assume new burdens. France's record in the United Nations has been blemished and unheroic. She has often derided the Security Council, and mocked its decisions when they affect a colonial power. She has shown more resentment over the Suez quarrel than Great Britain has ever done. President de Gaulle has sometimes spoken as if the United Nations were only a tiresome irrelevancy in world affairs.

Since Algeria, the French government has been driven into repeated criticism of the United Nations. Against this background, it is strange to find many of the Africans coming to the French delegation and hoping that France will defend their interests in the coming debate against the Communist challenge. By any measure this result must be accounted a valuable and undeserved blessing by the Western powers. France's bridge of friendship with the African nations will strengthen the whole free world.

The events of the next two weeks may determine the course of the United Nations for many years. They hold promise as well as peril for the free nations. To face this test as if the advantages belonged to the Communist world is to be guilty of a grievously wrong estimate of the strength and wisdom and generosity that sustain the Western position.

As Our Readers See It

Take Heart From Gains

May I through your columns express my deep appreciation to all those who helped in any way in our Saanich CCF campaign, and to the thousands who supported us at the polls.

While we are disappointed at the results in Saanich, we take heart from the fact that the CCF was the only party to make appreciable increases in provincial popular vote and elected members. Against the smears and scare campaigns, and the "millionaires' clubs," we consider this in itself a victory.

We were glad to see the large turnout of voters, because in a democracy the vote is not only to choose a government, but also to register opinion. Thus no one's vote is ever "lost," so long as people vote for what they really want.

Now our CCF educational work continues. I would be happy to hear from any in Saanich who might wish to take a more active part with us, to join the CCF, or simply to find out more about CCF policies and principles.

'The Impossiblists'

It is not without some amusement that the members of Canada's third oldest political party view the turmoil of the British Labor Party. Their reformist conundrums of whether to nationalize more or to nationalize less or to have wars with atom bombs or without atom bombs rings the bells of history.

In 1904 the London delegation to the Social Democratic Federation moved that the conference debate whether Marx had said that state capitalism and reforms were a step toward Socialism. The conference showed how democratic it was by expelling two of the questioners of official policy and labeled the doubters "Impossiblists." Later that year 120 "Impossiblists" founded the Socialist Party of Great Britain based on the sound Socialist principles of common ownership and free access to the wealth society produces.

As the Labor Party blunders to its doom history is well illustrating who the impossiblists really were.

LARRY TICKNER.

Tradition in Bruce County

May I say at this time that many residents of Oak Bay wish to pay tribute to Mr. James George on his recent campaign in the provincial election.

Mr. George waged a courageous and creditable fight in the tradition of his family in Conservative politics which dates back to the early days of Bruce County in Ontario. His presentation and knowledge of the issues was outstanding; and I for one, hope that his services will be available in the future for the people of British Columbia as they have been in the past.

ON THE TIMES — By ART STOTT

Alchemy of the Playing Field

VICTORIA played the touring Japanese rugby team last evening. Before the game, the minds of some old-timers must have gone back to the first game between the city's reps and the visitors from Japan in the early '30s.

Stott

Rugby was our senior winter sport at that time. If memory serves, we'd gone out of hockey when the Patrick rink burned, soccer was passing through one of its periodic doldrums and basketball was waiting for the Blue Ribbons to start Victoria on the way to national eminence. Canadian football was struggling against icy prejudice and an aloof disinterest.

The boys with red corpuscles turned out for rugby partly because most of them enjoyed the game, partly because it was the thing to do. The thin side-line force that used to stand in the rain at Oak Bay Park, the Willows enclosure and Cranmore road had swelled to grandstand capacity for important games at the Athletic Park.

* * *

Kids starting high school in September used to gaze at sunny skies and pray for rain to soften the turf. High delight was a workout with lots of time to practice drop kicks, to learn how to snug a lofted ball into your arms and chest and to develop the technique of hitting a runner low, from the knees down.

They trained, played, ate and slept rugby and their heroes were the men who made the red-jerseyed McKechnie Cup team.

When the Japanese side came over we didn't know how to figure the visitors. We expected them to be fast, tricky and small. The team was all of that—and composed of remarkably good orthodox rugby players too.

We on the sidelines formed a conventional partisan Victoria crowd. We came prepared to applaud politely if the Japanese boys produced a good play—but not to like them. Most of us went away with a considerable affection for the boys in their striped jerseys who played a good brand of rugby and showed a degree of sportsmanship we hadn't expected.

Later, at a smoker in the JBAA's Gorge clubhouse, a few of us came to know the students from Kyoto and other universities better, though we faced the problem of a language barrier.

When they sailed away, we said goodbye to old friends.

* * *

All this happened long years and a war ago. Canadian sentiment toward Japan has undergone a couple of revolutions since then. Some of the scars of those years and that war are still sensitive.

Yet it seems to me that if we are going to live and enjoy living in the world we have today, we can profit from more visits such as that by the Japanese rugby team. It helps to remind us that people, wherever they come from, share more similarities than they show differences. And there are not too many areas in which they can appreciate one another better than on a sports field.

I haven't yet met a rugby player worth calling a rugby player who didn't respect a good fair tackle thrown at him by an opponent, no matter how hard it brought him down, nor respect the tackler any the less for his efficiency.

Just possibly these international games may turn thoughts to the Olympic ideal in which contestants are supposed to be dedicated to the glory of sport. We gain something when we appreciate that ideal, lose a great deal when external, chauvinistic influences distort its image into a narrowly nationalistic symbolism. The first visiting Japanese rugby team helped to prove that point for a lot of us.

They Don't Even Like It Free

LONDON—Around the shows . . . Reuben Ship, Canadian script-writer who has such a good reputation behind him at home and here in radio and TV, has had a friendly reception for his first movie. It Is There Was a Crooked Man, starring Norman Wisdom.

Reyburn

Knockabout comic Wisdom, although the darling of English audiences in variety shows, hasn't translated too well onto the screen in previous films.

In Crooked Man, about an explosives expert forced to work for a gang of crooks, feeling is that Ship has pulled off the trick of providing Wisdom with "his best film comedy yet."

As a bonus the movie company have signed Ship to do another for them, a romantic comedy which will take him shortly down onto the Riviera.

London audiences, it seems, do believe in looking a gift horse in the mouth. Producers of the American musical show The Princess, annoyed by the unanimous panning it got from the critics, said we'll show 'em and are currently letting in all-comers free for a week.

Idea, they hoped, was that these non-paying patrons would spread the word that it's a wonderful show and prove the critics wrong.

But despite the fact that anyone can walk in, houses haven't been packed and many members of the audiences have been walking out long before the last curtain.

Among the disgruntled comments: "I can't even ask for my money back."

Fashions change: Recently the promoters of Britain's teen-age pop singers were all for the strong and virile when giving their proteges names to perform under—as in Marty Wild, Tuffy Power and Bill Fury.

Now they've gone all biblical. Latest batch of young men being plugged in the disc world includes Russ Sainty, Adam Faith and Eden Kane.

Eartha Kitt, here for a two-month night-club engagement, has annoyed the locals by announcing that on her many visits to this country she still hasn't found an Englishman who can dance.

Rightly it's pointed out to her that she's well adrift.

The English are the world's best dancers. Year after year at the international ballroom dancing competitions they come out tops.

HOME GARDEN — By HILDA BEASTALL

Have Right Bulbs for Potting

The flowers from spring bulbs are so fresh in their appeal that most gardeners like to grow a few in pots for winter blooms indoors.

Hilda

A greenhouse is not necessary, but some knowledge of the basic needs of the plants is of importance to obtain fine flowers.

The sooner the bulbs are potted, the better the results. Hyacinths, daffodils and tulips can all be done now, and will flower in that order.

Choose heavy, firm, top-size bulbs, and enquire of the grower or supplier as to their suitability for growing in pots. Certain varieties are excellent for the purpose, others quite unsuited.

One hyacinth bulb to a four-inch pot, three tulips to a five-inch half-pot; and two narcissus bulbs to a six-inch half-pot gives some idea of the accommodation needed.

The soil mixture should be open in texture, and humusy in content. Two parts rotted compost, one part coarse sand and a tablespoon of bonemeal to each large pot will make a good mixture. Blue Whale peat moss may be used in equal quantity with the compost for bulbs, except hyacinths.

Have the noses of the bulbs just about level with the soil when potting is completed. If the soil mixture is damp, no further watering is needed at this time.

The important part about growing bulbs indoors is to give them a long rooting period in a cool, dark, moist place before bringing them into house warmth where they will produce leaves and flower stems.

Eight to 10 weeks is needed for this rooting period, that is why the bulbs must be started now.

Every gardener will have a different place which he considers suitable — buried in a trench in the garden; covered with damp soil or sawdust in a cold frame; on an earth floor beneath closed-in house steps; even a dark cupboard in an unheated basement. Any may be used. In the two last cases, the pots would have to be inspected about every two weeks at least to see that the soil was damp enough to encourage roots.

During the last week of November, roots should be showing through the drainage holes of the pots, and it will be time to bring the earliest varieties in the house.

TO PROTECT HUMAN RIGHTS

Commonwealth Charter Studied

OTTAWA—The merit or otherwise of drafting a Commonwealth declaration of human rights is among the questions lawyers who have been meeting in Canada's capital are taking home for study.

The most spirited discussion during the Commonwealth and Empire Law Conference which concluded Wednesday whirled around the question of human rights and civil liberties and the role of the lawyer in protecting them.

There could be no free-wheeling debate on Commonwealth civil and human rights without mention of South Africa, and South Africa came in for full measure of attention.

REPORT SUBMITTED

This was noted in the civil rights report submitted on the final day of the week-long conference by Sir Hugh Watson of Scotland, one of more than a dozen reports summing up views that emerged from debate.

Sir Hugh's summary said:

"Much interest was aroused in the speeches from somewhat different points of view of two delegates from South Africa, both of whom made a strong point that their respective professional bodies were doing their utmost in the face of great difficulties to maintain and safeguard in South Africa human rights and liberties as generally accepted and protected in other parts of the Commonwealth.

"It was largely these speeches which caused several delegates to support a suggestion that there should be evolved a written declaration of human rights for the entire Commonwealth, amounting in effect to a Commonwealth charter."

MUST BE VIGILANT

The report said the conference consensus on the general question of human rights—aside from the harsh apartheid policies in South Africa—was that lawyers must be active in opposing any abuse of legislation by regulation or similar governmental instruments.

Solicitor-General Balcer, in closing remarks to the conference, said the real bond of the Commonwealth is that of the rule of law "which means for us equality for all without any distinction of race, religion or color."

The conference decided on the fullest study by its advisory committee of an earlier suggestion by Prime Minister Diefenbaker that steps be taken towards establishing a Commonwealth law institute. Mr. Diefenbaker said it would fill a growing need for legal knowledge that would be of particular value to new member nations.

VMD Submits Lowest Bid For Mains

Victoria Machinery Depot was low bidder on a Greater Vancouver water district contract to supply about 28,000 feet of water main.

Contract will be awarded Sept. 30.

A VMD spokesman said if the contract is awarded on the basis of low bids, it will provide badly needed winter jobs.

VMD alternate bids for use of a combination of Canadian and foreign steel plate were $427,504 and $400,172, and for use of all foreign steel plate, $396,294.

The local firm outbid Vancouver Iron and Engineering Works and Dominion Bridge.

CONVERT TWO VANCOUVER MAIN STREETS

'Little Bit of Paris' Plan

VANCOUVER (CP)—A civic committee has suggested a plan which could convert two Vancouver main streets into a little bit of Paris at little cost.

A report of a committee of the Downtown Business Association says the two streets, Granville and Hastings, could have broad sidewalks, street trees and shrubs, colorful newspaper kiosks and perhaps sidewalk cafes.

This would be a cheap alternative to the costly shopping malls tried in Ottawa and other cities where wheeled traffic is eliminated from certain streets.

The plan calls for elimination of curb parking on the sections of streets considered, widening of sidewalks by five feet, leaving bays for bus and taxi stops, and decoration in the Paris fashion.

The committee is considering street decorations and improvements for Vancouver's 75th birthday party next year.

Committee chairman Bill Leithead said the plan would "cost hardly anything at all" and would not interfere with the functions of the streets.

The plan will be discussed with city engineering officials.

Read why this champion loves Milk-Bone

"jolly good chewing without those perfectly beastly bone splinters"

...says Ch. Basil III of London, Eng.

Dogs of all breeds and occupations agree that Milk-Bone gives a dog an excellent way to get the fun and vital tooth and gum exercise of gnawing, without a real bone's danger of splintering or upsetting the digestion. They can thank Milk-Bone's firm bone-shape for that. And dog-owners are thankful for the nourishment Milk-Bone gives their dogs—all the important nourishment of milk, meat, bonemeal and vegetables.

Whatever else your dog eats, he needs Milk-Bone to satisfy his bone-hunger. Get Milk-Bone in the size that suits the size of your dog—regular or large.

Trans-Canada 'Local' Trains Start Saturday

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada's major railways are introducing a new transportation concept this weekend: The trans-continental local train.

The CNR and CPR both operate two trains daily each way between Montreal and Vancouver, with separate sections of each train linking Toronto to the trans-continental routes.

But they have decided, for the sake of efficiency and economy of operation, to encourage travellers to use one train for short distances and this means that if you are travelling from Vancouver to Winnipeg or Montreal by train, you will be better advised to take the CPR's Canadian or the CNR's Super-Continental. They alone will have sleeping-car accommodation and dining facilities along their entire routes.

If your trip is to be a short one, say from Regina to Swift Current, Sask., or from Gogama, Ont., to Hornepayne, Ont., one of the "locals" will be the train you want.

The CPR's Dominion and the CNR's Continental are being "re-tailored," effective Saturday, to provide local service along the entire trans-continental routes.

Artificial Larynx To Be Introduced

MONTREAL (CP) — The Bell Telephone Company of Canada has announced it is bringing out a battery-powered larynx for persons who have lost their voices through surgical removal or paralysis of the vocal chords.

The new device is designed to be held against the outside of the throat.

$ EXCHANGE

VICTORIA—Banks buying U.S. cheques at 3 per cent discount. Buying cash at 3¼. Silver at 5⅛ per cent. Selling cheques at 2¼ per cent discount, cash at 2¾.

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar was at a discount of 2 9/16 per cent in terms of Canadian funds at noon today. Pound sterling at $2.74½.

NEW YORK (CP) — Canadian dollar at $1.02⅝ in terms of U.S. funds. Pound sterling at $2.81 7/16.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Quiet Trading Seen At Toronto, N.Y.

Quiet trading was the order today on both the Toronto and New York stock markets.

Buyers adopted a wait and see attitude and the trading pace was slow.

Downward trend also continued in dealings on the Montreal exchange.

AT TORONTO Calgary Power paced industrials with a two-point gain at 24. Noranda led mines lower, off ¼ at 38⅛.

Western Oils, always susceptible to change, were moving lower, led by Home A and B with drops of 15 cents at $8.35 and $8. Pacific Petroleum was up ⅛ at 10½.

AT NEW YORK on a quiet Canadian list, Dome Mines added ½ and International Nickel dropped ¼.

American exchange prices—generally irregular—included a ¼ drop for Canadian Marconi.

AT MONTREAL the downward trend continued on the stock exchange amid light trading today.

AT LONDON there was a further recovery on the stock market today. Best prices were not always held but selective buying of industrial equities produced fairly widespread gains.

Gilt-edged securities were firm and dollar stocks improved.

Mining markets were generally quiet but golds improved slightly. Coppers were dull and oils were mainly lower.

AT VANCOUVER trading was quiet with prices off slightly. Peace River Pete moved 5,000 at 30. Canam Copper traded 2,000 at 18. Craigmont sold 800 at $5.60. Silver Standard moved 6,000 at 28. Silbak traded 2,500 at 44.

B.C. Cattlemen Face Reduced Exports to U.S.

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Reduced demand from the U.S. is expected to result in a marked reduction in B.C. cattle exports this year but ranchers are hopeful that increased demand from Eastern Canada will prevent any sharp decline in total sales.

Manager Ralph Devick of the B.C. Livestock Producers Co-operative here says the association hopes to market a total of 20,000 head of cattle this year compared with 21,300 in 1959.

Prices are slightly lower than last year, however, with feeder cattle selling at about 20 cents a pound.

Business Lost to B.C. Through Labor Unrest

* * *

Kent Sworn As Chamber President

Lt.-Col. Aubrey Kent was formally sworn in as president of the 800-member Victoria Chamber of Commerce in succession to W. Allan Pendray at the chamber's 96th annual meeting Wednesday.

"I will devote all the time possible to chamber work and I hope our members will give as much time as possible to our various committees," Col. Kent said.

"Your decisions in committee are important and you have no right to complain if you don't take part in making them. If you don't attend you had better shut up."

Col. Kent admitted that he took over the presidency with some nervousness because 95 presidents before him had accomplished "wonderful things" for Victoria.

"I am conscious of a deep responsibility in accepting this office," he said.

W. C. Mearns was sworn in as vice-president. New directors are H. Barnes, George Farmer, W. Gilmour, J. C. Haddock, Sam Lane, J. H. McKay, J. A. Wallace, A. E. Walters, Dr. R. J. Wride.

British Columbia's future depends to a great extent on better labor-management relations in industry, Maurice P. Finnerty, president of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce, said here Wednesday.

"We simply cannot measure the business we have lost because of labor unrest in this province," Mr. Finnerty told Victoria Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting in the Empress Hotel.

"We have unfortunately acquired a reputation across this continent and throughout the world of being unable to settle differences between labor and management without costly strikes.

"This, with our reputation of having a costly labor force, has scared investors away from this province.

"It is impossible to calculate the number of factories and industrial plants that were not built here because of our strikes."

Mr. Finnerty said B.C. faces another grave problem in the scale of its taxation.

"We have reached the stage where one-third of all the dollars produced are paid to some form of government, either at the provincial or federal level.

"Any further increase will limit the ability of business to retain profits for expansion and the creation of new jobs.

"And any further taxation on the individual will prevent him from being able to provide for his family in old age and make him dependent on the government.

"This is a frightening prospect in a free enterprise country."

Guard Forest Industries

Mr. Finnerty emphasized that 50 per cent of all wealth in B.C. comes out of its forest industries and these must be safeguarded if B.C. is to retain its prosperity.

He added that perpetual yield from the lumber industry has been largely assured through forest management.

During the past 15 years, he said, British Columbians have enjoyed a prosperity that would have seemed "unbelievable" before the war when B.C. was largely an agricultural country.

All people had shared this postwar prosperity whereas the boom which followed the First World War benefited only a comparative few.

To continue and improve on this postwar prosperity B.C. must face up to the dangers of permitting higher taxation and continued labor unrest.

Mr. Finnerty, who is president of CKOK Ltd., Penticton, and vice-president of Okanagan Television Co., congratulated the Victoria Chamber on its 96th birthday and its long record of service to the city.

He said he would shortly make a tour of B.C., visiting most of the 120 boards and chambers which make up the B.C. Chamber.

Import Female Labor

DRESDEN, Ont. (CP)—The Canadian Canners Limited plant here has imported 135 female workers from Detroit, 60 miles away. Jack Bruce, industrial relations manager for the firm, said permission to import the women had been given by the National Employment Service. Seasonal employment makes the recruiting necessary.

ANNUAL CONVENTION of the Canadian Paint Varnish and Lacquer Association at the Empress Hotel, Sunday to Wednesday, will be presided over by C. H. Neroutsos, a native of Victoria, and president of the group. Now resident in Montreal, Mr. Neroutsos was born and educated in this city. He is president and managing director of International Paints (Canada) Ltd.

HOPES DASHED

Saanich Fair Unlikely At Colwood

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said Wednesday night that his hopes of having the Saanichton fall fair held in future at Colwood seem to have been "dashed."

Ald. Edgelow is president of the B.C. Agricultural Association which is seeking to have some exhibition facilities built by next fall at Colwood.

He had expressed a hope that the grounds would be used for the Luxton and Saanichton exhibitions.

W. W. Michell, vice-president of the Saanichton fair, said he doesn't think there is much chance of the exhibition being moved.

"I am sure the board would not consider it," he said.

Stanley Hiscocks, a director of the Luxton fair, said however that his group would probably be interested in co-operating in a Colwood fall fair.

"We would like to see a class A fair. We are not interested in horse racing, of course."

Night School Fills Up

Record night school registration is expected this year with several of the school board's courses full already.

Since Sept. 6, a total 1,750 have enrolled in the fall term's classes.

A film lecture series, The World Around Us, has already got 200 customers. Sewing, piloting, golf, furniture upholstery and ballroom dancing also have near capacity registration.

With two weeks left for registration before classes open Oct. 3, school board officials today said it's likely more than last year's 5,100 students will enrol.

There are several new courses, however, which have plenty of vacancies.

One of them is astronomy in the space age with Dr. R. M. Petrie of Dominion Astrophysical Observatory.

Others include first baby, a course on child care and motherhood; tele communications, transistors, geology for rockhounds and stone polishing, frame house construction and ornamental needlework.

Drug Problem Talks Ended At Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — The justice department has concluded discussions with the British Columbia Attorney-General's department on the narcotics problem and will start talks with other provinces shortly, Justice Minister Fulton said Wednesday.

The talks with B.C. came first because of the extent of narcotics addiction in this province, he told a press conference.

They had covered the question of co-operation between the two levels of government in an anti-narcotics program, announced earlier this year by Mr. Fulton.

"We are planning now on talks with other provinces," he added.

15 SHIPS LEAVE ESQUIMALT FRIDAY

Exercises, Sports for RCN

Fifteen ships and 2,250 men will sail from Esquimalt Friday morning for five days of all-round exercises and sports.

The business part of the cruise will start en route for Barkley Sound with fleet manoeuvres, minesweeping, screening and joint exercises with aircraft from Comox and Patricia Bay.

The lighter side will begin Saturday in Mayne Bay, when the annual fleet pulling regatta will be held to decide winner of the "Cock of the Fleet" prize.

Fleet Champion will also be decided with competitive exercises such as fire drill, man overboard drill, action stations, nuclear contamination drill and emergency repair practice.

There will also be a sports program including a salmon derby.

Ships taking part are five destroyer escorts, six frigates, three minesweepers and the maintenance vessel Cape Breton, which sails in advance this afternoon.

Exercise commander is Capt. J. A. Charles of HMCS Assiniboine. Rear-Admiral E. W. Finch-Noyes will observe the exercise.

Henry Steinhauer, who died in 1885, was a Chippewa Indian who became a Methodist minister and missionary in the Northwest Territories.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

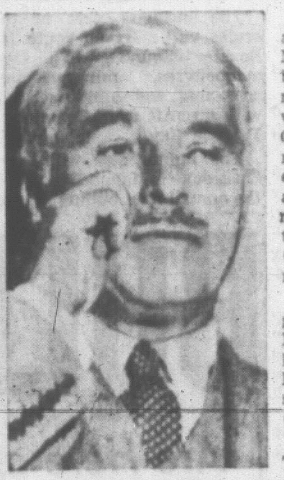
CARL SANDBURG
. . . with misty eyes



CHARLIE CHAPLIN
. . . 1,000 pages already

NEW YORK—Hugh Downs, according to some letters I'd received, must be going to a hair-dresser; he was sporting a new hair wave. His wife Ruth laughed when I told her about it. "That's because he shampoos it every other day so he won't have to use a pencil on it," she said. "Because Hugh is getting —." (I hate to use the word, but Bing Crosby, George Jessel, Charles Boyer, Frank Sinatra and both Ike and Mr. K have it, too.)

* * *

Barbara Rush, a brunette, phoned her husband Warren Cowan from the beauty parlor: "Darling, I've got news for you. I'm blonde!"

Replied Warren: "And I've got news for you, darling. You're also single!" (But she isn't, because she convinced him it was merely streaked and not blonde.)

Carl Sandburg and Bette Davis sneaked over to Upstairs at the Downstairs with their entourages after "An Evening with Carl Sandburg" opened—to see a preview of the new cafe show. What a fine gentleman Sandburg is! He claimed he often tells jokes from this column "and people think I'm funny." He said also that he watched Bette Davis with misty eyes and that "they sometimes made me think I'm a pretty fair writer." Alert, he noticed that one of the Upstairs' new sketches mentions a cigaret. He called out from the audience, "PLUG, PLUG. PAYOLA!"

* * *

Just a kind word about Marilyn Monroe, please. Her picture "Misfits," is only a week behind sked. Considering her week's illness, that makes it practically on schedule! (Libby Holman visited Montgomery Clift on the Reno set—and became one of several hundred extras in one scene) . . . Joan Collins flew from Europe to Hollywood to smooch Warren Beatty a few hundred times before he goes into uniform.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Lerner and Loew's "Camelot," opening Nov. 19, is sold out till July . . . Cute singer Jill Corey's almost set to play Lucille Ball's sister in "Wildcat" . . . At El Morocco: Mexico's top comic, Cantinflas . . . Tennessee Williams' notes and original script of "Period of Adjustment" were lost in the hurricane.

The Harry Trumans, dining at the Steak Pit in Paramus, N.J., learned Rockefeller had been there. "I like him" Truman said. "Remember — he worked for me" . . . Charley Chaplin's autobiography's already 1,000 pages long, and an editor groaned: "We'll need an axe to chop it down" . . . Jimmy Durante'll give Joey Bishop the first Lou Clayton Award (named for Jimmy's late partner).

EARL'S PEARLS: "We'd guess Arthur and Kathryn Murray have quite a ballroom hit in that new Lumumba and Katanga we've been reading so much about." — Hayes (Kans.) News.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: There's the college girl who comes from a very poor family. Sending her to college was what made it poor.—Hugh Allen.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "The perfect marriage — the one where no alimony is asked at the divorce."—Clive Bannister; Nixon, N.J.

Joe E. Lewis says at the Copa that egghead comic Mort Sahl doesn't expect big laughs: "He's happy if the customers nod at his lines and say, 'How true, how true.'" . . . That's earl, brother.

EDUCATIONISTS TOLD

Jargon Obscures Language Values

TORONTO (CP) — The jargonization of verbalization may be leading educationists to fail in articulation between levels leading to cross-fertilization ideawise.

Translation: We are letting jargon obscure our sense of the value of language.

Addressing the Canadian Education Association Tuesday Chief Justice Dana Porter of the Ontario Court of Appeal warned that too many English-speaking Canadians let the use of jargon borrowed from technical disciplines lead "to a jumble of complex vagaries."

"There are many categories and not least are the soothing jargon of the politician and the deplorably inexcusable jargon of the professional educationist.

"It is quite old hat now to speak of vocational training. Educationists provide their pupils with marketable skills."

We don't write or speak any more, but "communicate and verbalize."

Chief Justice Porter said French-speaking Canadians are largely free of this.

REVERE THEIR LANGUAGE

"They have a reverence for their language. For them it has fundamental significance.

"When a high school teacher and a college professor talk to each other, what occurs is 'articulation between two levels' leading to a 'cross-fertilization of ideas.'"

In a radically new field such as driver education, which aims at "competency in traffic society," the curriculum demands the use of "driving stimulators and off-street, multiple-car facilities;" to determine "to what extent the basic manipulative skills can be perfected in large group situations."

Earlier, the three-day convention heard a proposal to create a standing committee of provincial ministers responsible for education in Canada.

Dr. C. E. Phillips of Toronto, president of the association, said the committee would allow the CEA to give provincial governments "more confident, immediate and effective service on those occasions when it serves as an agency for co-operative action by the provinces."

Ask Andy
HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Don Siegel, aged 13, of Saratoga Springs, N.Y., for his question:

What Is a Click Beetle?

This acrobatic beetle is named for the noise he makes when he turns a somersault. He is also called an elater and in North America there are about 500 of his cousins. These fellows are found throughout New England and the Southland, through Texas, Arizona and southern California. They are not counted among our insect friends, for elaters feed on our potatoes and other root crops.

The larvae of the click beetle are small yellow grubs known as wireworms. They live in the ground or in old tree stumps and rotting wood. Some of these little beasties feed on our young corn or wheat seeds before our crop plants can get started. Some of the grown beetles feed on other insects or on plant leaves.

The click beetles of the tropics are often gaily colored and some of them can glow in the dark. Our native click beetles are more drab in color, though some of them are spotted with a pair of eye-like dots. They are long and slender insects, brown, black or grey. One common variety has a pair of dark eye dots on his shoulders.

Though the click beetle does not do much climbing, he is all prepared for a fall. If he lands on his back, he does a neat little somersault and rights himself. This is the trick which makes the click from which he gets his name.

Like all insects, the click beetle has a body in three parts. He has a head, a thorax or chest and an abdomen or tummy. He has a waist between his thorax and his abdomen and here we find the gadget which helps him click. The entire insect, of course, is covered with a crisp shell.

At the joint where the thorax and abdomen meet there is a little prong and a groove. The prong is on the abdomen and it extends up to fit in the groove, which is in the thorax.

Flips in Somersault

When the beetle is in a normal position, the prong and groove fit together to form a smooth surface. This changes when the insect falls on his back. For a minute or so he remains quite still. Then the tail end of his abdomen begins to tip down and the prong separates from the little groove. The tail end then tips up and the prong and groove lock together. Then, in a flash, the little gadget works like a spring. Click—the beetle turns a somersault in the air.

Chances are he will land right way up and stand there on his six legs. But there may be too much or too little spin on the turn and Mr. Click Beetle lands on his back again. In this case he will try again. Sometimes it takes a dozen somersaults before the beetle is rightside up—and each one of them happens with a click.

* * *

Andy sends a Hammond's International World Globe to Phillip Alber, age 11, of Lansing, Mich., for his question:

Do guinea pigs come from Guinea?

This cuddly fellow is not a pig nor is he a native of Guinea. He is a bunny-type animal of Peru and the Andes Mountains. Sometime in the 16th century he was taken to Europe and this may have been when the mixup occurred in his name. Those were days of great sailing and trading ships. There was a lot of traffic between Europe, the New World and the rich Guinea coast of Africa.

Ships between the New World and the Old would often put in to African ports to load and reload. The first Guinea pigs to arrive in the Old World must have done so on one of the famous Guinea trading ships. The first part of their long journey was forgotten and everyone thought that the furry little bunnies had come from Africa and the little visitors never bothered to correct this misinformation about themselves.

World Scouting Meeting In Ottawa

An event of world-wide interest is scheduled to take place in Ottawa from Sept. 28 to 30 when the Boy Scouts International Committee, sometimes referred to as World Scouting's "Security Council," holds its annual meeting.

This is only the second time that the international committee has met in the Western Hemisphere, the last being immediately after the Eighth World Jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake, when the committee met at Niagara Falls.

Health Centre Plans Advance

(From Duncan Bureau)

Duncan Kinsmen Club has instructed architects to prepare preliminary sketch plans for a new $45,000 community health centre at Duncan.

The move is the first step in an ambitious project being undertaken by the club to replace the present old and overcrowded building, housing the Central V.I. Health Unit, with a new and spacious structure.

Provincial and federal grants of $26,000 are assured for the project, leaving the club about $19,000 to raise. However, various provincial and national health agencies are expected to give financial support.

The provincial government is in the process of transferring the site of the present building, on Canada Avenue, to the city of Duncan, clearing the way for actual start of the project. With the city assuming title to the property, Kinsmen will not have to incur expense on this account.

SEVERAL OFFICES

The new health centre as planned by the Kinsmen Club will have an area of 4,500 square feet and will provide offices for nurses, the medical director and sanitary inspector.

First ground on the project will be broken next week when the city sinks a series of test holes to determine the type of foundation required.

Bush Fire Under Control

(From Duncan Bureau)

North Cowichan municipal workmen have established a fire guard around a 20-acre fire burning near the summit of Stoney Hill, between Birdseye Cove and Maple Bay, and expect it to burn itself out shortly.

There is little chance of it spreading, but night and day patrols will be maintained until it is extinguished.

It broke out Monday and posed a difficult problem to firefighters because of the steep and rugged terrain being burned. Municipal employees and two bulldozers worked around the clock until it was subdued.

DUNCAN — The Duncan Christian School, operated by the Duncan Christian School Society, will officially open here on Trunk Road Oct. 1 in the church building.

The school is being operated by settlers of Dutch descent and already has 18 pupils. It is similar to a school in Victoria that has 45 pupils.

The basic idea, said Rev. L. T. Schalkwyk, Dutch Reform Church minister, is to teach the Christian philosophy of life, excluding Darwin's evolutionary theory, Santa Claus and the birth of Jesus at Christmas.

Miss Ann Bultsma teaches 45 minutes a day for four days weekly, and lessons are reviewed on the fifth day.

NANAIMO — The annual hobby show will be held here Sept. 29 in Exhibition Park.

A report to the exhibition board said there are already 92 entries, and many more are expected.

Included will be an amateur radio station and exhibits from the Archery Club.

NANAIMO — The Vancouver Island Exhibition in 1961 will be moved ahead one week so as not to conflict with the Pacific National Exhibition which will open Aug. 19.

This would allow for a greater range of exhibits.

Revenue this year was down compared with 1959, but there was still a profit of $350.

Expenditures amounted to $12,425.

There was a drop of almost $1,000 in admissions because of reduced rates this year.

COURTENAY — Plane wreckage found during the weekend by two airmen near here has turned out to be the remains of a U.S. Navy plane located several times in recent years.

The RCAF said a USN Neptune crashed on McCreight Mountain in 1950 with 11 men aboard.

The airmen who reported the "find" were Calvin Smith and Joseph Porkolab.

WoodProducts Week Committee Formed

(From Duncan Bureau)

Jack Stothers, manager, Western Forest Industries, Honeymoon Bay, has been named chairman of the local National Forest Products Week committee. Observance will be Oct. 16-22.

John Connery, manager B.C. Forest Products, Cowichan Division, is chairman of the speaker's committee. Working with him is Art Anthony, sales manager, Macmillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd., Chemainus Division.

Joe Gergel, manager Garner Brothers, Duncan, is chairman of the literature and merchandising committee.

Chairman of the special projects committee is Peter Stone, Hillcrest Lumber Co. He will be assisted by Doug Brown of BCFP and Glynne Jones, assistant sales manager of MB-PR.

PUBLICITY GROUP

Bryce P. Page, manager of MB-PR Chemainus division, is chairman of publicity and is being assisted by Frank Collins, BCFP, and Clarence Evans, Mayo Lumber Co.

The group is planning a series of promotions and speaking events in connection with the week, designed to focus attention on wood in all its uses, is sponsored by the Hoo-Hoo Club for lumbermen and the Canadian Wood Development Council.

COUNT POWER BOATS SUGGESTS COA PREXY

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's showing in Olympic competition will continue to deteriorate unless a crash program of physical exercise is started across the country, says Ken Farmer, president of the Canadian Olympic Association.

"We are getting soft," Farmer told a service club meeting, adding that Canada could expect its future Olympic teams to come home not only without gold medals, but without any medals, "unless we prepare ourselves better."

"Go to any Canadian lake in the summer and count the power boats. Paddling and rowing have become too strenuous for our generation."

SPORTS DIARY

By JIMMY CANNON

NEW YORK—What the Yankees are goes back to Babe Ruth. And the tradition seems to improve the skills of this year's team which is not shaped for greatness. The legend persists because they serve it well.

The guys change but those who are there now hold onto it. The kids on the Yankees know it is not a whisky-created myth told on sleeper jumps by reporters drinking the road secretary's booze. It is down in the books but it is not yet finished because they're making it work.

This is not a team as the Yankees used to be. But last weekend they did it in the old Yankee way. The old ones such as Whitey Ford and Gil McDougald can tell the kids the truth of what it was like when Joe Di was in centrefield and Allie Reynolds was getting the fast ball where he wanted it to go.

It was real for them because they were part of it. September was always the old Yankees' month, starting with Ruth. It is also this club's because they got four games ahead of Baltimore and Chicago by beating the Orioles four straight times. They had lost first place to this same team that defeated them thrice and shut them out twice in a three-game series early in the month. You do it when it counts and it means more as September dies. This is the Yankee way.

* * *

Baltimore is a young team but they weren't turned out in Yankee style as their season came down to these four games. They did all they could but they were betrayed by a defect which has crippled them all year. They can make the complicated plays. Their pitchers stand up. But they can't score runs and that's what settled them. There was something else, too.

* * *

That can't be computed by the accountants who reduce baseball to the precise numbers of the box score. The language of arithmetic doesn't tell the secret of the sport. In time they will realize what happened to them.

No one talks about being inspired in a clubhouse or a dugout. Young sports writers might. Players don't. But the Yankees, each one, from Mickey Mantle to Jim Pisoni, depend on it, as much as they do their bats.

They work for wages and their piece of the World Series is a bonus. They always have, from Ruth to Roger Maris, played better when a game meant more. It's no accident because it has happened too often. They wouldn't get the money if they didn't have the pride.

Whitey Pitched With Old Insolence

It touches most of them if they stay long enough. You expect it from Ford and Berra and they have had mediocre seasons. No one is more a Yankee than Ford. He is cynical about it and plays it for laughs. He got the first game for them and in his last assignment against Kansas City the last-place club had used his stuff for batting practice.

But there he was last Saturday, throwing with that old insolence, and he hasn't been that fast all season long. This was one game in many and all count alike in the final standings. But this was the day he brought it with him. Don't tell me that's a coincidence.

Manager Casey Stengel saved Berra. He is 35 and tired from incessant work. He is laid off to rest up but he borrowed enough from the good years for those four games to resemble what he was before the years became a burden.

"Was there a lot of cheering in the clubhouse?" I asked Berra after Sunday's double-header.

"Some of the kids did," Berra replied. "But I'm used to this."

* * *

If you're a Yankee for long, you anticipate such excitement. You know that you win the big games, one way or another, and Ralph Terry did it in the second game Sunday. He didn't give up a hit until Ron Hansen singled in the eighth. The other blow was Jackie Brandt's two-out single in the ninth.

* * *

He had it all year but he was using it wrong. Going into Sunday's big game he had won eight games and lost just as many. He was trying to be too cute and, instead of using his deceptive fast ball, he was throwing to spots and trying to get them out with junk like the screwball. But Sunday his fast ball was deceitfully swervy.

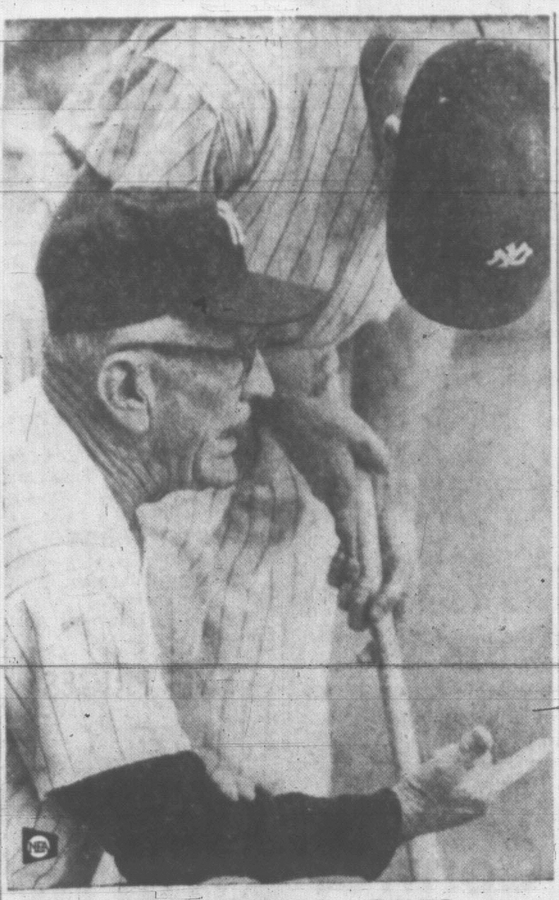
They had the luck, too, because both their runs were made on cheap hits. But Terry pitched his two-hit shutout with a rain-slippery baseball and there was no luck in that. The guys who were there when Joe Di was could explain it if they wanted to. But, after these four games, the kids also know the secret of the Yankee way. They did it. That's better than talking about it.

PEPI AGREES TO STAY FOR FOUR YEARS MORE

MONTREAL (CP)—Pepi Salvenmoser, credited with coaching Canadian skiers Lucile Wheeler and Anne Heggtveit to international titles, has been signed to a four-year contract by Canadian Amateur Ski Association.

Several other countries were interested in obtaining the services of the Austrian pro, considered one of the finest coaches in the world.

Salvenmoser will continue to handle Canadian international teams as he has done since 1954, calling them to Europe at a given time and preparing them for several weeks prior to major competitions.



LIKE THIS, SEE?

Just past 70, Casey Stengel imparts wisdom of his half century in baseball to eager young Tony Kubeck, with appropriate gestures. Casey knows what he's talking about. His New York Yankees have won six in a row and are fast closing in on another American League pennant. (NEA.)

Dale's Looking Like the Best Since Big John

By UP International

New York Yankees had a choice and they sure made the right one when they picked Dale Long.

A month ago, the Yankees were informed by the San Francisco Giants that both Long and Dave Philley were available.

Actually, there wasn't much to choose between the two. Both were seasoned veterans and either could fill the bill as a pinch-hitter and part-time first baseman.

But they selected the 33-year-old Long and the $20,000 he cost them could turn out to be the best money they ever spent. Not only is he hitting a cool .400 for the Yanks in their surge toward the American League pennant, but as a former member of the Pirates, his knowledge of Pittsburgh's hitters could prove invaluable during the World Series.

CAN'T WAIT

"I can't wait to get into the Series against the Pirates," Long says. "I hit pretty good against them when I was with the Giants."

There's little doubt now that Long will get his chance against the Pirates. He's certainly earning it with batting. The six-foot, four-inch first baseman paced the Yankees to a 10-3 victory over Washington Wednesday when he singled twice and drove in three runs in a seven-run, fifth-inning rally.

Long injured his right foot with a foul tip during that big inning and wound up going to hospital for X-rays, but it was nothing serious.

Casey Stengel agreed after the game that Long, who has collected 10 hits in 25 times up since joining the Yankees, looks like the best pick-up since big John Mize.

NINE RUNS UNEARNED

The victory, credited to Whitey Ford, was the Yankees' sixth in a row and was helped along by Mickey Mantle's 37th homer off loser Pedro Ramos. The Senators also helped with four big errors that made nine of the Yankees' runs unearned.

In winning, the Yankees reduced their pennant-clinching "magic number" to five. They are 4½ games ahead of the Chicago White Sox, who took over second place with a 7-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics, and five games ahead of the Baltimore Orioles, who dropped to third by bowing to the Boston Red Sox' 4-1. Cleveland and Detroit were idle.

Milwaukee defeated Cincinnati, 3-1, and Los Angeles registered a 12-inning 5-3 win over St. Louis in the only two National League games played.

Bulldozing 'Baby' Ace In Yawata Rugby Deck

Japanese Club Opens Tour With 13-11 Win Over Tide

By DOUG PEDEN

Yawata Rugby Club 13, Victoria 11

Masatake Kusatsu may be considered the baby of the Yawata Rugby Football Club, but you can wager a gross of yen that today he also rates as the "big" man of the touring Japanese team in more ways than one.

Graduated from high school last spring, the 17-year-old forward steps in at six-one and 185 pounds, which makes him the youngest and huskiest member of Japan's best club team. He is also the fellow who made the play that produced the winning points Wednesday night at Royal Athletic Park as the Yawata squad opened a six-match Canadian tour with a 13-11 victory over Victoria's representative side.

Kusatsu snapped an 8-8 deadlock 27 minutes into the second half when he picked up a bouncing ball eight yards from the Victoria line and plunged into pay dirt in the bulldozing style of a good Canadian football fullback.

Toshihisa Uchimura booted the conversion to make it 13-8 and that margin was enough to offset a late Victoria try by fleet Gordie Hemmingway.

Even if Kusatsu hadn't collected the go-ahead try, he would still have had to be tabbed as the standout for the agile tourists.

Owning a good turn of speed and an apparently bottomless supply of energy, the youngster was up on the ball all the way. Leading the forwards, he continually spoiled things for the Victoria backs with good tackles and several times he also popped up in the Yawata backfield to help out on runs.

Tourists Got Away to Early Lead

With neither side able to consistently open up the game for their backs it was mostly a battle of forwards. The Crimson Tide athletes, playing their first match of the season, surprised more than a few of the 1,177 paying customers with their excellent condition, and in the long run it was kicking that proved the difference.

Each club racked up three tries, but Uchimura made good on two of three conversion attempts, while Victoria's Don Burgess was able to drill only one of his three shots between the uprights.

Catching the Victorians off balance at the start with their driving, ball-hounding tactics, the tourists got quick tries by forwards Hideaki Watanabe and Yasuhiko Yamazaki and were ahead 8-0 after seven minutes.

Tackling their chores with an enthusiasm seldom shown by the Tide in several seasons, the Victorians started to carry the play late in the opening half. Tall Peter Clarke got them into the scoring column, taking a throw-in from Charlie Bishop one yard out and diving over the line to make it 8-3 at the intermission.

Fleet Bob Hutchison, finishing off a 35-yard run with Gerry Main and Ray Calton, counted Victoria's second try and a convert by Burgess set the stage for Kusatsu's tie-breaking tally.

Hemmingway followed up a Calton kick and scooted 40 yards down the touchline for the final Tide try with five minutes remaining.

Although close-marking tactics on both sides made long runs a rarity, it was an interesting match all the way. Exchanges were marked by effective tackling and alert play by rival forwards, plus the remarkable ability of the Japanese to quickly scoop up loose balls and accelerate to full speed in a few strides.

Deception and Speed Best Weapons

Giving away an average of about 30 pounds per man, it was evident that the tourists' best weapons for building up a safe lead were deception and speed. And in a close match they had to become weary in the late stages from tussling with heavier opponents. Alertness and determination of the good Victoria side seldom gave the Japanese room to shake loose their elusive runners and there was no doubt the visitors were tired at the finish and apparently satisfied to settle for the narrow victory.

The triumph kept intact an unbeaten Canadian record for Japanese teams. The first touring Japanese club collected five wins and a draw in six Canadian games in 1930.

The Yawata club plays at Vancouver Saturday, moves east for games at Toronto and Montreal and winds up the current jaunt with two more games at Vancouver.

Fujii Was Still Happy Despite Loss of Funds

Ko Fujii, a $60-a-month travel agent, scrimped, saved and borrowed so he could come to Canada on a tour with the Japanese rugby team.

Fujii, who was acting as interpreter as the Yawata Rugby Football Club, opened its six-match tour at Royal Athletic Park Wednesday night, lost all Monday night.

A thief slipped into a Vancouver hotel room and stole $750 belonging to Fujii and his room-mate, Sam Hashimoto of Vancouver.

Officials of the B.C. Rugby Union have started a fund for the 27-year-old university graduate, who supports four brothers and sisters.

PLAYERS WEARY

Ko was still able to look happy after the Yawata club squeezed out a 13-11 win over Victoria's Crimson Tide, although he thought the Japanese could play better. He said his mates were a bit tired from their trip to Canada and from attentions by generous hosts. "Too much reception," he said.

The crowd of about 1,200 at the match was about the same as the Yawata club usually sees at regular league matches, he said. But in many games the Japanese crowds are much larger and turnouts of 30,000 or more watch main tournament matches.

Yawata is rated the best club team in the Japan Rugby Union, which embraces about 1,200 clubs.

SAILORS WIN CUP

Porky the Best In Boxla Series

PORT CREDIT, Ont. (CP) — Champagne corks flew like lacrosse balls Wednesday night after Port Credit Sailors downed Nanaimo 9-7 to bring Eastern Canada its first Mann Cup since 1954.

Sailors took the best-of-seven Canadian senior lacrosse championship 4-1 from the team that was favored to capture the final in four straight.

Porky Russell, rotund Sailor goaltender, was voted by sports writers as the most valuable player in the series, picking up the Mike Kelly memorial medal.

Carried off the floor by his youthful, howling teammates, Russell was bombarded by popping corks in the team room downstairs. He fielded most of those, too.

GOT STRONGER

Sailors came on stronger as the series progressed. They beat Nanaimo 10-9 in the first game and 12-11 in the second. Port Credit clipped the Westerners 17-13 in the third game and Nanaimo benched goalie Fred Fulla in favor of New Westminster's Les Norman.

Norman held the Easterners out 11-4 in the fourth game but Wednesday night, despite a shooting edge enjoyed by his veteran teammates, he couldn't do it again.

The score was 3-3 coming out of the first period and 4-3 for Sailors at half-way mark. They stretched it to 7-5 by the end of the third.

Jack Bionda played himself into exhaustion, scoring three times and assisting once. Don Sherry, Bill Chisholm, Skip MacKay and Fred Usselman got the other Nanaimo goals.

Larry Ruse was high man for the night-scoring four for Sailors. Florian Tomchishen, Ken Crawford, Bill Allan, George Kapasky and Brian Aherne fired the other Sailor tallies.

Nanaimo drew seven of the 10 penalties, but coach Red MacMillan declined to comment on the officiating, saying: "How would that sound now?"

MacMillan had been critical of the refereeing all through the series. It was following his bitter complaints after the second game that the Canadian Lacrosse Association replaced the referees for subsequent games.

CAME CLOSE

Nanaimo came close to tying the game in a roaring fourth period.

Down 8-5 after five minutes, Usselman and Bionda fired goals 20 seconds apart.

That was the last time Russell missed. In the last half of the period he made fine stops against MacKay, Arnie Dugan, Bionda, Gordie Gimple and Archie Browning.

Nanaimo was playing every man up. Then, with 10 seconds left in the game, Aherne broke loose and put the game on ice.

HEMUS GETS A VOTE . . . . . . FOR 'MANAGER OF THE YEAR'

Solly Conquered a Town and Tradition

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — You baseball buffs are probably all gassed up today over who is going to be the "manager of the year," but I'll give you guys like Danny Murtaugh, Casey Stengel, Paul Richards and Cookie Lavagetto — and I'll take a feller named Solly Hemus.

Solly is the squeaky-voiced gent who handles the St. Louis Cardinals. He has them right up in second place even though this is a team which finished seventh in the National League just a year ago.

All of which is due to the fact that Hemus refused to take a lot of lip from a lot of folks.

Early in the season, everybody from Gussie Busch, the owner of the Cardinals, all the way down to the left-handed bat boy, was telling Solly in no uncertain terms how he ought to manage the club. Solly listened abjectly for a while. The result was that the Cards lost their first five games.

There was an immediate scalp hunt in St. Louis. Solly was a bum. The inference was that he was going to be succeeded by a lippy citizen named Leo Durocher.

Then Solly took off by himself and told them all to go jump in the lake.

Solly was in a squeeze. In St. Louis they have a ball player who amounts to a tradition, a lad named Stan Musial. The fact that Stan the Man was over the hill didn't mean much to most of the critics. Musial was a legend; the last of their old heroes. He had to play.

Not only that, the uproar insisted that Stan had to play first base even though Solly had two other first basemen whose talents Musial no longer could match. Bowing to orders, given and implied, Solly put Musial on first and fouled up the whole team.

Bill White, a solid first baseman, had to play center field because there was no place else to go. The same applied to Joe Cunningham. It got so ridiculous that Solly, in an attempt to keep Musial on first, had two first basemen in the outfield.

They were great on ground balls—but flies were another matter.

Then Solly chucked it all.

Refusing to knuckle down to the screams of the indignant, he planted Musial in the outfield and restored the status quo of the infield. Then, to the accompaniment of more screams and jeers, he benched the local hero completely. On top of that, he didn't even use the idol of Sportsman's Park in a pinch-hitting role.

This, they stormed, was akin to using a short order cook in the Waldorf or putting a second lieutenant in charge on D-Day.

Solly ignored them. And he sweated with the workaday troops. Hemus developed Julian Javier into a redoubtable second baseman. He came up with some help from pitcher Ray Sadecki. And he brought on Ernie Broglio, once the property of the Giants, until the right-handed fast baller took his place among the best pitchers in the league.

When he was ready, Solly sent Musial back into the outfield and Stan responded with some solid blasting in the old Musial tradition, keeping the Cards in the pennant race with timely hitting. The Man made a great comeback and he's still the hero of Cardinal customers. But Solly had proved a point.

Hemus didn't only have to lick the opposition. He had to conquer a town and a tradition. Nobody in baseball has had it tougher, or made it bigger. Take your pick. But Solly's my man as the manager of the year.

A hot tip is something horse players cherish. Some of them become so enamored of hot tips — born out of an owner's optimism, a jockey's wink or a stable boy's loud mouth — they wind up leaving the track wearing little more than a barrel.

Not all hot tips, however, lead to poverty. For instance, take Texas Idol. Unplaced in his last 10 starts in which he displayed substantial leadfootedness, Texas Idol went to the post in the third at Sandown Wednesday at odds of 20-1.

For punters who pursue form, Texas Idol could have been 200-1. Among even the chosen few who had wind that Texas Idol was a "good thing" there was an inclination to forget about it because Andy Burstyk's four-year-old gelding had in the irons apprentice Johnny VanLoon, still searching for his first win ever.

To the complete amazement of most of the 2,500 patrons, Texas Idol broke alertly, hugged the rail and took over on the far turn.

Master VanLoon had the race in his pocket turning into the stretch—and then almost lost it. He had a loose rein on Texas Idol and the latter looked as if he might run up into the grandstand.

WON BY NOSE

The young rider snatched Texas Idol up hastily, put him to a drive and just nosed out another longshot, the 10-1 Vickie's Beau.

When announcer Jack Short called attention to VanLoon's initial taste of victory, the smile on Johnny's face spanned the width of the track. So did the price the winner paid—$55.80 for $2.

An equally enjoyable afternoon was spent by another reinsman, Charley Ulrich. He accepted five mounts, won on three and had a second. Only one—Lady J—was a favorite.

BRILLIANT RIDES

He gave brilliant rides to Doll Song ($7) and Early Rambler ($10.60). With five wins he leads the jockey contingent, a situation which may remain unchanged throughout the meeting if he keeps up the good work.

Favorites had a frustrating time. Keats Island, Our Hour and Looks Better all left their backers breathless and broke. Winner of six this season, Looks Better never looked worse.

A moody sort who was the despair of his former trainer, Ken Darbyshire, Looks Better roared out of the gate like a snail, catapulted behind the pack like a tortoise and finished several fathoms behind the leaders. The first two—Early Rambler and Merrica—combined to make 62 people happy and rich—$87.10 worth.

MUTUEL MURMURS . . . For the second consecutive day, the mutuel play was up . . . Punters pushed $51,504 through the mutuels compared with $50,356 for the same day last year . . . Fillies and mares won six of the seven heats — the seventh going to the gelding Texas Idol . . . The latter, incidentally, was purchased not too long ago by Andy Burstyk "for a song." Form chart is on Page 31.

LIKES PLACE BETS

Shudda's in Whirl Stake Improves

One of those happy fellows down by the rail at Sandown Park Wednesday was none other than Shudda Haddim, the self-styled seer of the Sidney track.

Shudda cashed a place ticket on Whirl Glory in the second race and was missing only 30 cents from his original stake of $25 when he headed for Sandown today.

Making one play each day, he now likes the system of place bets and had a place parlay going on McFibber, Loretta's Babe and Sunny Beau in today's races.

Friday he's going back with a win parley, risking $2 on Whirl Glory in the first and Keats Island in the second.

Soccer Sailors Enter Drydock

The Victoria and District Football League, which jumped to an even dozen teams earlier this year, is back to 11 teams.

Navy, which floundered through a winless season last year, has gone into drydock.

League president Eddie Viggers said today difficulty in organizing a contending team, due in part to sea drafts, has forced the Sailors to withdraw.

The league, which last year enjoyed one of its most successful years in recent times, now consists of Ladysmith, Nanaimo, defending champion Evcoes, Gorge Hotel, Esquimalt, Canadian Scottish, Saanich Thistles, Kickers, Vic West, Heaneys and Brodies.

SEMIFINAL SATURDAY

Action resumes Saturday with Gorge Hotel facing the still-strong Evcoes in a McGavin Cup semifinal at Royal Athletic Park. Winners advance to meet Scottish in the final of the pre-season knockout competition on Thanksgiving weekend.

Regular league play commences Sunday with four games scheduled.

Nanaimo visits Ladysmith while games in Victoria will see Brodies and Kickers play at Heywood Avenue Park, Esquimalt and Vic West at Central Park, and Thistles and Heaneys at Reynolds Road Park.

All games start at 2.30.

MICKEY ENDS LAND SPEED RECORD TRY

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Mickey Thompson of El Monte, Calif., has abandoned his effort to smash the international auto speed record.

The 31-year-old drag strip operator ended his current series of speed runs after reaching only 305 miles an hour in one spin Wednesday. Thompson said bubbles of salt forming on the 12-mile straightaway course cut his traction by half and caused the wheels to spin independently.

Goalie Signed By Buckaroos; Rollins Quits

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Don Head, 27-year-old netminder who played with Windsor Bulldogs in the Ontario Hockey Association senior "A" ranks last season, Wednesday signed a two-year contract with Portland Buckaroos, new entry in the Western Hockey League.

While Head is embarking on a professional career, angular Al Rollins is calling it quits after 17 years of stopping pucks.

Rollins, 33, who played with Winnipeg Warriors and New York Rangers last season, has requested to be placed on the voluntary retired list.

Rollins spurned a New York contract last month and then was traded to Boston. A Calgary resident, he says he's quitting because "there's no point in trying to run a business from the other end of the country."

Second Loss For Canucks

STALINO, Russia (CP) — Canada's touring soccer team lost to Shakhter Miners, 2-1, Wednesday after managing to hold the slick Russians scoreless for more than half the game.

The host team's edge was obvious from the opening whistle and the Miners' goalkeeper Stelkov had nothing to do until midway through the first half.

In contrast, goalie Ken Pears on the Canadian all-star team saved his mates time and again.

The Canadians lost their first game 3-1 Sept. 15 but earned a 2-2 tie in the second Sept. 18.

Ski Park Plans Get Green Light

VANCOUVER (CP) — Recreation Minister Westwood said Tuesday the government will permit private capital to develop ski facilities at Manning Park.

He said a cabinet meeting will be held there soon to permit all ministers to see the park's potential.

In mentioning private development, the minister said he was not thinking in terms of a resort suitable for the 1968 winter Olympics.

Novices to Take Over For Road-Stock Meet

It will be a night for the novices at Western Speedway Saturday and the occasion may be the swan song for another season of racing at the Millstream Road track.

Road stocks, the late-model cars that proved popular in an earlier appearance this season, will take over again Saturday. Handled by novice jockeys, they could become a regular feature at the speedway next season.

In the feature race of the evening, it will be co-favorites Dave MacDonald and Steve Michaud battling it out with other fledgling drivers.

MacDonald was well out in front in a previous meeting this year when he spun out on the last lap and Michaud came in with an easy win.

The program will include five heats, main event and a women's "powderpuff" race.

A further meet may be held Thanksgiving Day for both stockers and late-model cars.

"Put up much of a fight?"

Stan Six Back In 4th Place

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Former British Open Champion Peter Thomson of Australia shot a four-under-par 66 Wednesday and took the lead after three rounds of the nine-round International Marathon golf tournament.

Thomson's 66 gave him a 54-hole total of 207 and a three-stroke lead over South Africa's Gary Player. Player had a 68 today. Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., with a 73, slipped to third place at 212. Stan Leonard of Canada shot a 72 for 218.

The fourth round will be played in Canberra Friday.

Chapman Likes Rookie Centre

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Canucks, minus several key players who contributed heavily to last season's Western Hockey League championship march, are skating themselves into shape for two exhibition tilts against Detroit Red Wings of the National League next week.

The Canucks, who have lost all-star goalie Hank Bassen, defenceman Sandy Hucul and centre Gord Vejprava, tangle with the Red Wings at Penticton, B.C., next Monday and here Tuesday.

And while there will be many new faces, coach Art Chapman already is comparing his 1960-61 team favorably with last season's champions.

"We should be stronger on left wing," Chapman said. "I know we'll be stronger on right wing. At centre we have added Chick Balon and he was the best rookie I saw at the New York camp."

Balon last season set a Saskatchewan Junior League scoring record while playing for Prince Albert Mintos.

Bolstering Chapman's wing positions are rookies Ed Ehrenvert and Ron Barylick from Brandon of the Manitoba Junior League, John Sleater from Springfield of the American League and Jim Powers, who was with Seattle last year. All are right wingers.

On the port side, much travelled Murray Wilkie was added to the list Tuesday.

The loss of Hucul has left one blue line spot open. Frank Roggeveen, a former Edmonton Flyer and last season with Springfield, and rookie Duncan McCallum from Brandon, apparently have the inside track.

Battling to replace Bassen, drafted by Detroit during the summer, are George Wood, with Nelson Maple Leafs last year, and another Brandon graduate Don Holmes.

SHIP STRIKE NOT ALL OVER

One Liner Sails Others Held Up

LIVERPOOL, Eng. (Reuters) — The 22,000-ton Cunard liner Sylvania sailed just before midnight Wednesday night for Montreal with a full crew and 900 passengers. The liner was held up by Britain's wildcat seamen's strike.

Earlier, more than 1,500 seamen voted conditionally to return to their ships Monday. But strikers at Manchester, Glasgow, Tyneside and Sunderland decided to continue Britain's six-week wildcat seamen's strike.

Back-to-work decisions were taken by seamen at Middlesbrough, Hartlepool and Hull after the Liverpool men agreed to return on condition that 100 per cent support be given them by the trade unions in the event of what they called victimization by the shipping companies.

In London, an unofficial strike of quayside cargo checkers tied up 120 ships Wednesday and brought the port to a standstill.

REQUEST MADE TO END TERROR AT SIU MEET

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—An outbreak of fist-fighting at the Steelworkers Union convention Wednesday led to a formal request that the federal government step in to end what was called a "reign of terror" at meeting.

Donald Rarick of McKeesport, Pa., an opponent of union president David McDonald, engaged in a bloody melee with McDonald supporters just off the convention floor. A Rarick supporter was roughed up in another such incident Monday.

McDonald, blaming Rarick for instigating Wednesday's fight, warned that if he did it again he would be ousted as a convention delegate.

Rarick said he was jumped upon, beaten and robbed without provocation just before Labor Secretary James Mitchell was called upon to address the convention.

Suit to Halt PNR Work Held Off

From Times' News Services

PRINCE RUPERT — City solocitor J. T. Harvey said Wednesday the city's suit against the Pacific Northern Railway will be held in abeyance pending a scheduled hearing on the railroad's plans by the Public Utilities Commission.

Mr. Harvey said the action, in any event, could not be heard at the current B.C. Supreme Court assize here because of pressure of business before the court.

The city has decided therefore, to take no action on the suit until the proposed PUC hearing has been held and the commission has ruled on whether it has jurisdiction over construction of the proposed line to the B.C.-Yukon border.

Prince Rupert has maintained that the 700-mile line should be started here, instead of at Summit Lake, 30 miles north of Prince George, to assure lower freight charges.

OPTICAL ILLUSION

VANCOUVER — Orange-red flares spotted in the Ootsa Lake area of north-central B.C. were probably an optical illusion, the RCAF search and rescue division said Wednesday.

An Omineca Air Services plane was sent to the area, 300 miles northwest of Vancouver, when hunting guide Leo Van Tyne reported seeing eight to 10 flares arch above the tree tops between 20 and 30 miles away. Neither the pilot nor RCMP officers who approached the area by boat were able to find anything.

"LABOR ON TRIAL"

VANCOUVER — A United States trade unionist said Wednesday night the labor movement is on trial in the minds of the public.

Dr. A. Conrad Posz, education director of Northwest Schools in Portland, Ore., said at an education conference of railway unions in British Columbia all organized labor is viewed with suspicion because of the actions of a few labor leaders.

BIG FISH NETTED

NELSON—Game warden R. A. Rutherglen has supplied the Kootenay Lake General Hospital with a 300-pound sturgeon from the Lardeau area which provided 250 meals for patients and staff. Mr. Rutherglen said he landed the huge fish, measuring nine and a half feet, by means of special heavy sturgeon fishing equipment while his partner Gilbert Palmer caught a 110-pound sturgeon on a regular 20-pound test line.

FIVE CONVICTED

NEW WESTMINSTER — Five men, including three brothers, Wednesday were convicted on a charge of rape and remanded by Mr. Justice Harry Sullivan to Friday for sentence. An assize court jury deliberated one hour before finding Jake Anatooskin, Herbert Oldershaw, Bob Singh, Harpudgy Singh and Pretium Singh guilty. All are from New

TOURS START FRIDAY

The first of a weekly series of guided tours of art gallery exhibitions will start at 2.10 p.m. Friday.

Last year 10 members of the gallery Women's Committee, under Mrs. Adele Fahey, completed a seven-month course of preparation for this project under Moncrieff Williamson.

The regular Friday tours are open without charge to all visitors in the gallery. Special tours for groups also are being offered without charge other than the customary gallery entrance fee.

DIANA GRAHAM
. . . too much morphine

'Golden Girl' Found Dead; Doctor Held

HOUSTON, Texas (UPI) — Homicide Lt. Breck Porter said today he thinks the "Golden Girl" of the sensational call girl trial of oleo heir Mickey Jelke was killed by an overdose of morphine, but tests are being run on about 200 kinds of poison.

The nude body of Diane Marie Graham, 29, was found Wednesday in her plush apartment. She had been dead for several hours when police arrived. They had been called by W. R. Hill, an attorney, who in turn had been called by Dr. William Westwood McClellan.

McClellan, 47, admitted he had been in Mrs. Graham's apartment since Monday.

Homicide Capt. Weldon Waycott said McClellan "told us he had not been out of bed since Monday, and had no recollection of anything that took place."

McClellan was released on a writ of habeas corpus. He was put under a $5,000 material witness bond, and ordered to appear in court Friday for a hearing on the writ.

SELFISH WIFE, HUSBAND HOME, UNION HURT

Wives who are "too selfish" to allow husbands to take three hours on a Sunday once monthly to attend local union meetings were castigated Wednesday by Frank Hilton, an IWA delegate to the Victoria Labor Council.

"Their wives say the old man must take them for a drive, or he must watch television.

"I say that if we didn't have our labor unions today the old man would still be working a 60 to 70-hour week. Then how much time would he have with his family?"

UNIONIST CHARGES

Electorate 'Blackmailed'

A charge that pipeline magnate Frank McMahon "blackmailed the electorate" into putting Social Credit back into office, was voiced here Wednesday by Victor Midgley, a top labor official.

Mr. Midgley, a member of the provincial executive, B.C. Federation of Labor, and carpenters' delegate to the Victoria Labor Council, said Mr. McMahon claimed 10,000 construction workers jobs would be lost if a CCF government was elected.

Mr. Midgley was speaking at a Labor Council meeting.

"We'll be lucky," said the labor spokesman, "to see 1,000 jobs for construction workers coming out of the proposed pipeline extension from Fort St. John to the Yukon border."

He said also that "with Mr. McMahon's well-known anti-union record, construction workers in B.C. don't want his jobs if he won't abide by our way of life."

Ambulance Kills Man

MONTREAL (CP) — A police ambulance rushing to answer an emergency call that turned out to be a false alarm killed an elderly man Wednesday. The victim was identified as Joseph Blanchette, 85.

always stand ready to consider any feasible proposal to this end. We ask only this—that such a program not give a military advantage to any nation and that it permit men to inspect the disarmament of other nations.

"A disarmament program which was not inspected and guaranteed would increase, not reduce, the risk of war."

Nuclear Stockpiles Biggest Danger

Specifically, the president said danger "is posed by the growth and prospective spread of nuclear weapons stockpiles."

"To reverse this trend," he said, "I propose that the nations producing nuclear weapons immediately convene experts to design a system for terminating, under verification procedures, all production of fissionable material for weapons purposes . . .

"The proposed working group of experts could also consider how to verify the complete elimination of nuclear weapons. . . . There is as yet no known means of demonstrably accomplishing this; we would hope that the experts could develop a system.

"United States officials are willing to meet immediately with representatives of other countries for a preliminary exchange of views on these proposals."

"1. We agree that celestial bodies are not subject to national appropriation by any claims of sovereignty.

"2. We agree that the nations of the world shall not engage in warlike activities on these bodies.

"3. We agree, subject to appropriate verification, that no nation will put into orbit or station in outer space weapons of mass destruction. All launchings of space craft should be verified in advance by the United Nations.

"4. We press forward with a program of international cooperation for constructive peaceful uses of outer space under the United Nations . . ."

No Reference to 'Open Sky' Plan

Eisenhower did not specifically renew his 1955 proposal for "open skies" inspections across the national boundaries. He said the question of methods can be left to experts.

He announced the United States is ready to join in a world food for peace program handled through the UN. American shipment of surplus foods abroad now are on an individual country basis.

He said the U.S. is prepared to supply "substantial air and sea transport facilities on a standby basis," to meet Hammarskjold's request that UN members earmark contingents for possible future requests to handle sudden crisis.

Eisenhower said the world lost an opportunity in 1946 to ensure that atomic energy be devoted exclusively to peaceful purposes when the Soviet Union turned down a comprehensive control plan submitted by the United States.

A similar chance for control of outer space must not be lost, Eisenhower said.

He said he was not devoting attention in this speech to some other immediate problems but that these still were of major concern.

In this connection, he mentioned "accumulating evidence of threatening encroachments to the freedom of the people of West Berlin" and the shooting down of an American RB-47 plane July 1, followed by "trumped - up spy charges" against its crew members.

Tito Asks Neutrals Help Stop Cold War

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia called on the non-committed countries in the United Nations to play a greater role in ending the cold war.

Demanding peaceful co-existence in a world threatened by big power conflict, the Yugoslav chief of state said, "We are attaching particular importance to the contribution that the so-called non-committed countries can make towards the betterment of international relations and as to the great role that the United Nations can and should play in this respect."

Speaking immediately after President Eisenhower, Tito announced that his country gave full and complete support to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's disarmament program unfolded a year ago in the UN General Assembly.

Tito also was the first to raise the question of Communist China's admission to the United Nations. He said he hoped the UN would recognize Red China's right to admission.

He attacked what he called the revival of militarism in West Germany and called for an end to the five-year war in Algeria.

Russ Blast Ike's Speech In Advance

LONDON (Reuters) — Moscow Radio early today anticipated President Eisenhower's speech to the United Nations assembly by declaring any new "open skies" plan would be a scheme "for UN-sanctioned spy flights over sovereign countries."

A broadcast beamed to North America said: "The world public expects the General Assembly to reach decisions that would speed effective disarmament, not to examine plans for aerial espionage."

"People want decisions that will help eliminate the means of warfare," the broadcaster said.

(Mr. Eisenhower in his address made no reference to his "open skies" proposals.)

Rescue of Boy From Suffocation Wins Langford Mother's Gratitude

A greatly relieved Langford mother today expressed the strongest gratitude to a neighbor who early Wednesday evening saved her four-year-old boy from certain death.

Little Brian Pedden, 2686 Selwyn, was almost completely buried in soft silt from a nearby excavation when he was pulled out and given mouth-to-mouth respiration by Mrs. Eugene Yates, 25, a trained nurse who lives at 2676 Selwyn.

"I am most certainly grateful to her. Brian would have been a goner if it wasn't for her fast actions. It was extremely close. Words fail me . . ."

FRIENDS SCREAMED

Brian was "a little pale today. But he ate a good breakfast."

Mrs. Yates' sons, Bobby, 5, and Kelly, 3, were playing with Brian when Mrs. Yates heard the children scream and saw them at the silt pile.

"I ran as fast as I could. The children said nothing. They were paralyzed. Then I saw Brian's coat tail."

She grabbed the coat tail and lifted the boy clear. He was blue from suffocation.

"He wasn't breathing at all," she said.

She hit him hard on the back to clear silt and sand from his mouth and nose.

ANXIOUS TIME

"Then I put him over my knees, his head back, and used mouth-to-mouth respiration. I covered both his nose and mouth, his face was so small.

"It seemed an awfully long time before he came around. I was exhausted, though it was probably between three and four minutes."

Mrs. Yates said she had thought during the time about calling the Langford fire department, "but if I had he would have died."

Mrs. Yates said her children had been warned to stay away from the excavation, dug Wednesday for a new house, "but you know what children are like."

She is a graduate of Vancouver General Hospital.

"I just did what I knew how," she said.

The Pedden's were not so lucky in relation to husband Don.

He was recently hospitalized with burns suffered in an accident near Comox when a Coleman lantern he was using on a hunting trip blew up.

Red Light-Rifle Robbery Fails

Two Youths Sought After Car Chase

Police were searching today for two youths after David Shields, 1607 Camosun, reported that a car drew up alongside him shortly after midnight Wednesday and one of its occupants confronted him with a rifle.

Mr. Shields said he was driving home and when he reached Gladstone Avenue, between Fernwood and Chambers, he noticed a car following him with a red light flashing.

He thought it was an ambulance or police car and pulled up beside him and a youth began to get out holding a rifle.

He reversed his car for two blocks and managed to get away.

Mr. Shields described the car as a 1947 model Ford. The driver was about 16 years old with bushy, black hair and the passenger had light hair, a pointed nose and wore a light jacket.

ASK The TIMES

Q. What is the difference between listed and unlisted stocks? R.J.

A. As a general rule, a listed stock is one on which particulars have been filed with a recognized stock exchange, and are traded only on the exchange. Unlisted stocks can be sold "over the counter" like a loaf of bread.

Q. We have a Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here. What does astrophysics mean? K.L.

A. It's the branch of astronomy concerned with the physical composition and constitution of the heavenly bodies.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealer.

Doctors Hit Chiropractors 'Free' Offer

The registrar of the British Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons said today an offer by provincial chiropractors of free spinal checks of all school children is the most blatant form of advertising he has heard of.

Dr. Lynn Gunn said the offer, announced Wednesday by the B.C. Chiropractors' Association, is a means to try and get more patients.

"They'll probably give the first exam free but after that it will cost the children's parents money."

W. O. Morgan, director of the chiropractors' association, said chiropractors are not allowed to tell patients to come back to see them after the free check-up.

The check-up will be available Monday through Saturday next week at offices of chiropractors, not in the schools, and children will be given a card to take home detailing the results of the examination.

TRAFFIC FINES

In Esquimalt police court today:

Leonard Robert Smith, 1355 Lyle Street, fined $250 on a charge of impaired driving Wednesday evening. He was remanded until Monday for a probation report as to suspension of his licence.

FRIDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Lions Club: Noon, Empress Hotel. Hugh A. Smith, Seattle, will speak on the forthcoming international exposition there.

Canadian Club: Noon, Empress Hotel. Sir Robert H. Hadow, former British consul in San Francisco, will address members on "Africa and the Commonwealth."

CCF-LABOR LINK DIVISION AMONG CIVIL SERVANTS

A clash emerged today within the ranks of Victoria civil servants about the connection of the labor movement and the CCF.

Victoria president of the B.C. Government Employees' Association, Larry Huck, has resigned.

The fact that the labor group actively backs the CCF and that the government employees pay dues to it implies a connection, he said.

The man who took over from Mr. Huck, Jack Gowan of the attorney-general's department, said today he supports the former president's views. However, other members disagree.

He won't resign, Mr. Gowan said, because he felt bound to take over (he was vice-president) and because "one resignation would create sufficient interest among the members."

Mr. Huck said today he wants the issue raised at the association's provincial convention in Vancouver next month.

WANTS REFERENDUM

Mr. Huck said he had offered to stay on as president if the local allowed him to call a referendum on what members felt about the labor-CCF link.

"That was rejected in August," he said. Mr. Huck was also on the dissenting side of a June resolution by the local which asked the provincial executive to ensure it is "excused" from political activities, but at the same time backs affiliation with organized labor.

During the election campaign a statement by provincial president Dave Block said the association is absolutely non-political. Mr. Huck said today he felt this was "not enough."

Mr. Gowan said he agreed that if the civil servants paid dues to the B.C. federation "we're tarred with the same brush."

He suggested the federation might be able to show these dues are not used politically.

SEEK CLEAR RULE

"We hope to get some clear-cut ruling at the convention, said Mr. Gowan, "clearly establishing our position as being non-political."

Mr. Huck said he is not quitting the association. He said he would feel the same no matter what party was connected with the labor group.

In a statement in Gem, the local civil service magazine, Mr. Huck says: "I cannot go along with this policy of continued affiliation with the labor movement any longer because of labor participation in party politics."

Easier Passage On Money Votes Asked at UBCM

By JOHN MIKA
Times Staff Reporter

B.C. civic leaders today overwhelmingly favored a proposal for making a simple majority of ratepayers sufficient to pass money bylaws.

But the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention in New Westminster turned down another proposal which would have allowed municipal councils to undertake large-scale capital works without any vote by ratepayers.

The successful resolution, if adopted by the provincial legislature, would eliminate the present requirement that 60 per cent of the ratepayers approve money bylaws.

WORKS HARDSHIP

The resolution, proposed by the muncipality of Richmond, pointed out that defeat of many bylaws for needed services in expanding communities "is working a hardship in that such works must eventually be provided at greatly increased cost."

Richmond also was successful in winning endorsation of a resolution which would permit municipalities to put up a composite money bylaw for ratepayers' approval involving several related projects.

Present legislation requires a separate vote on each project.

WIDER SCOPE

But delegates here indicated they needed freedom to put up a "package" bylaw to give them wider scope in planning future developments.

Burnaby Reeve Alan Emmett fought for even wider powers by proposing the resolution which would have enabled two-thirds of a municipal council, with the provincial cabinet's approval, to undertake construction of "essential services" without any reference to ratepayers.

He said this was the practice in Great Britain, and some eastern Canadian communities, but his motion was defeated after an attack by Saanich Councillor Leslie Passmore and others that it would be undemocratic.

LONG LEASES

The Delta resolution adopted by the delegates aimed at obtaining legislation to permit municipalities to lease publicly-owned land for a period of 99 years rather than sell it outright.

As the convention settled down to grinding its way through more than 90 resolutions, a behind-the-scenes battle began shaping up between Victoria delegates and representatives of Victoria police and firemen's unions.

The union men have been lobbying delegates here, in personal contacts and a circulated brief, to oppose a Victoria resolution urging establishment of arbitration boards headed by judges for settling wage disputes between councils and police and firemen's unions.

DOUBT SUPPORT

Victoria council delegates, alarmed at the fact that more than half of the 117 UBCM municipalities have no professional civic police or firemen, feel their case may not be fully understood by these delegates.

So several in the Victoria delegation began a counter-lobbying campaign overnight, buttonholing other delegates and preparing a mimeographed brief for circulation in opposition to the union's statement.

CHALLENGE TO YOUNG MEN

Junior Chambers Enjoy World-Wide Affiliations

This is JAYCEE WEEK across Canada and members of the local branch of the Junior Chamber of Commerce have prepared a series of articles on the work and organization of the young businessmen's group. Fourth in the series appears below. It was written by Ray Rawnsley, a past president of Jaycees who, in business life, is a partner in a TV repair firm.

By RAY RAWNSLEY

Citizens of Victoria are aware of the activities of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, but few are aware of its world-wide affiliations.

In addition to our provincial and national organization, our unit is a member of Junior Chamber International.

The purpose of JCI can be explained by our world theme, "Young Men Can Change the World," and the thoughts of Henry Giessenbier (the founder of Junior Chamber) who hoped that "from the soul of this organization, where in the foundation of character and good citizenship are laid, a message will come in the sometime tomorrow that will stir the people toward the establishment of permanent and everlasting peace."

CHALLENGE REWARDING

The challenge of extending the formula of Junior Chamber to young men in other countries, and having them put it to work for themselves and their communities is worthwhile and rewarding.

Since JCI was founded December 11, 1944, it has grown to include 58 member nations, with 31 other countries and territories now being organized and receiving service. It has a membership of approximately 250,000 and is the second largest international organization of its kind.

The world secretariat of JCI is at Miami Beach, Florida, and is maintained by the dues of individual members, local chapters, national bodies and life members (senators). The secretariat serves all these echelons — answers inquiries, publishes material aids for Jaycees and co-ordinates Jaycee news items each month in a magazine, printed in English, Spanish, French and Japanese.

RAY RAWNSLEY

INTERCHANGE

From this secretariat, project information is available to any chapter in the world, and in this way worthwhile information and projects are interchanged from one country to another.

Residents of Greater Victoria will perhaps remember some of the programs that have been carried on locally and have received publicity.

Some three years ago Operation Brotherhood was a world-wide program of special note. Its purpose was to raise funds for the purchase of medical supplies for Vietnam refugees. Jaycee and other medical teams were then sent to Vietnam to administer these supplies to the sick and wounded refugees. Local churches and organizations greatly assisted Victoria Jaycees in making a sizable contribution to this fund and helped in the successful completion of this two-year project.

ART PROJECT

A highly successful and continuing project originating in Japan some five years ago is an "exchange of art" by school children. Through co-operation with the school boards a display of children's painting is collected by the Jaycees and shipped to Jaycees of another country. A similar shipment is returned and after display is presented to the original contributors for their information and study. Victoria has participated for four years, mainly with Japan.

Operation FLOW (future leaders of the world) is another youth program, school children being urged to correspond with other children throughout the world in an exchange of information. At present connections are being made for Victoria children to correspond with youngsters in South Africa, Australia, France and the U.S.A.

COMMUNICATE

Jaycees themselves exchange information on projects, organization, as well as details of their country and especially their community under a program called Operation Friendship. This is done by correspondence, tape recording, slides, tourist literature, etc., and at present Victoria is working with several countries including South Africa, New Zealand, Algeria and Israel.

IMPATIENTLY AWAITING start of the winter season, five young members of Victoria Figure Skating Club are getting costumes and equipment ready for the first session to be held in Memorial Arena, Oct. 8. From left are Jan Stenstrom, Sharon Wood, Deidre Humphries, Sandra Tregellas and Carole Johnson. Club boasts a membership of over 800, of whom 500 are under 11. Youngest member is 3 and the oldest over 80. (Times Photo by Irving Strickland.)

SHOPPING GUIDE

Get Your Young 'Cowboy' One of These Bedspreads

By PENNY SAVER

Mothers of young "cowboys" will be interested in new line of bedspreads that have action-filled Wild West scenes splattered all over their yardage. Made of sturdy sailcloth, spreads will withstand any punishment that husky youngsters may give them! Background is in natural shade and a smart trim of brown piping adds an adult touch. They are twin-bed size and sell at $9.95 each.

An older boy would be proud of the hunting and fishing bedspread that's included in this line. Fishermen, hunters, pheasants, ducks and fish are all used in colorful decor. These, too, sell at $9.95.

I arrived in one downtown store just in time to see a new shipment of boys' corduroy pants being unpacked. They are well tailored with elasticized backs and self belt. Coming in sizes 3 to 6X, color range includes charcoal, medium grey, navy and brown. These are a good buy at $4.50.

Mornings are apt to get a little chilly now that fall is here. Your young son or daughter will be both warm and well dressed if they slip on one of the cotton cashmere dressing gowns that have just arrived. These sell at $3.98 and are available in sizes 2 to 6X. Gowns are in colorful tartans and have tie belts, two front patch pockets and smartly-tailored collars.

For older brothers and sisters there are similar gowns in sizes 8 to 14. These sell at $4.98.

Teen-agers and their fathers will love to wear practical navy blue, turtle-neck sweaters when tinkering with the car or doing cleanup chores in the garden on chilly weekends.

Ones I saw this week in small, smooth-ribbed pattern sell at $4.50 and come in sizes 38 to 44. Others in popular bulky knit rib are priced at $4.95.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

You Can Fight Those Mounting Pounds Daily

Josephine

If you increase the amount you eat by just a little bit and cut down on physical activity just a little bit, given time, this will add up to a gain in weight — given enough time, to a big gain. Even if you continue eating as you have in the past and decrease your physical activity, your gain will not be as rapid as in the first instance, however.

Few people gain suddenly and dramatically or change their eating habits suddenly, and few folks change overnight from very active persons to very sedentary ones, except in case of illness. The weight-gaining process is usually much more subtle and gradual than that.

For this reason we can fight mounting pounds in small ways, as a life-time habit. We are so accustomed to being transported that we overlook many small opportunities for walking. We can walk when going on some errands instead of jumping into the car. We can walk up a couple of flights of stairs instead of taking an elevator. We can get off a bus or subway, or leave the car eight blocks from work and walk the rest of the way to the office and back.

As a usual habit we can drink skim milk instead of whole milk. We can use low-calorie dressings. We can broil or bake instead of fry our foods. We can form the habit of not eating between meals and passing up second helpings, of eating fresh fruit instead of rich desserts. All of these seemingly small changes will add up to a big total, given time.

According to experts there is a difference of nine calories an hour for each square metre of body surface between sitting quietly and standing quietly.

If you are a lot overweight, then adopt a strenuous but well-planned reducing diet and lose those pounds. However, in order to keep your ideal weight, you will have to form life-time habits such as I have outlined.

Special occasions still are permitted. The day-by-day habit is the important thing!

Linnea Miller Married In Candlelight Ceremony

White and flame-colored gladioli decorated Metropolitan United Church for the ceremony uniting Linnea Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Miller, Salmon Arm, and Donald Daniels Fouracre, son of J. Fouracre, Victoria, and the late Mrs. Fouracre. Dr. J. H. James conducted the candlelight ceremony, assisted by Rev. Laura Butler. Organist was Eric Boothroyd.

Bride was given in marriage by her father. Her floor-length gown of white nylon organza had a portrait neckline with a lace insert sprinkled with mother-of-pearl sequins. Sleeves were lily point. Floor-length skirt was posed over hoops. Crown of matching lace and sequins held her finger-tip veil. Pink roses and white stephanotis were in the bridal bouquet.

Maid of honor Miss Glendine Barr, bridesmaid Miss Glenda Miller and Mrs. Don Crawford, bridesmatron, wore gowns in deep turquoise blue silk organza over taffeta. Trio wore feather bandeaux and carried bouquets of white carnations.

Monty Pepin was best man and ushers were Carl Noel, Don Crawford and Brian Huddlestone.

Uncle of the bride, Karl Sjodin, proposed the toast at reception in Holyrood House. For a honeymoon trip, the bride wore a soft blue fitted suit in blin and blin. Her whimsie hat was en tone and her corsage was of yellow roses.

Couple are making their home at 1975 Lee Street.

DEAR ABBY

Tell the Truth, Honey!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I started having my dates pick me up at my grandmom's and I'd spend the night there because I was (and still am) ashamed of my father. He is always drunk. I am 19 and am very serious about a young man I'll call Joe. I told Joe I live with my grandparents, but I can't keep lying to him forever. I know it's wrong to hide your parents from your friends, but I can't bring myself to let Joe meet my father in his normal stone-drunk condition. What should I do? ASHAMED.

DEAR ASHAMED: Tell Joe your father is an alcoholic who hasn't the strength to help himself. If your Joe is as wonderful as you think he is, he won't think less of you or your father's weakness. "Lying" is a weakness, too, you know.

DEAR ABBY: Why is shaking a rug or mop out of the window considered such a terrible breach of etiquette? Recently I married and moved to a larger community than the one I grew up in. Though we were not "top drawer" at home, we were not far from it. All my family has been fairly well educated with several college degrees and I know that back home almost everyone used a back window to shake out the dust.

If no one is underneath and there is no danger of shaking the dust on anyone, what is so wrong with it?

DEAD SERIOUS

DEAR DEAD: There is nothing actually "wrong" with it—but it looks bad. Sorry, but that's the way the mop flops.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Why must the Canadian public pay for a business owner's payroll? If restaurant owners, cab companies and beauty shop owners really don't make enough profit to pay a decent living wage, I wish they would raise their prices a little, so their employees wouldn't have to stand there with their hands out. I tip for the same reason everyone else does. Because I know it's expected and I am ashamed not to.

"NO GUTS"

DEAR ABBY: I'm glad "Proud" (that beautician who considered a "tip" an insult) can't speak for all beauticians. I know lots of hairdressers who have raised families on those "insults."

TODAY'S RECIPE

PLANKED SALMON LOAF DINNER

Two cups canned salmon (1-pound can), ½ cup soft bread crumbs, 2 eggs, lightly beaten, ¼ cup light cream or evaporated milk, ¼ cup melted butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper, ¼ cup sweet pickle relish, 6 tomato halves, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, 2 to 3 cups seasoned hot mashed potatoes, 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon milk.

Prepare plank or breadboard by brushing with salad oil and preheating at least 10 minutes in hot oven, preheated to 440 degrees F. Meanwhile, combine and mix thoroughly the salmon, bread crumbs, two beaten eggs, cream, melted butter, lemon juice, salt, pepper and relish. Shape salmon mixture into a loaf, in the centre of heated plank. Bake at 400 degrees F., about 25 minutes. Then arrange tomato halves around loaf, sprinkle cut surfaces with grated cheese. Spoon mashed potatoes around border of plank, drawing up spoon to give potatoes peaked effect. Brush top surfaces with mixture of egg yolk and one tablespoon of milk. This gives a browned, glazed appearance. Brown in oven or broiler for about five minutes. Makes four to six servings.

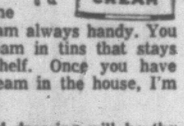
CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

—by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, Sept. 22nd—Like modern things? . . . If you're like me you'll say "yes and no" to that question. Some I like and would like to have—others I just can't see! One modern thing I go for wholeheartedly is the BANK OF MONTREAL Family Finance Plan. There's modernity at its best! As long as you are able to make monthly payments without hardship, this comprehensive plan can provide you with the money you need to buy the things you want for your home and family. It's low in cost and the loans are life-insured, too! Be modern — see your neighbourhood B of M branch soon!



SOMETHING FOR YOUR GUESTS to rave about . . . the delicious taste and rich creaminess of this Savery Onion Dip, made with NESTLE'S PURE THICK CREAM.

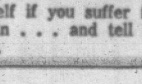
Turn ½ package dehydrated onion soup mix into small bowl. Blend in contents of 1 (6 ounce) tin Nestlé's Pure Thick Cream and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Yield: Approximately 1 cup dip.

Such an easy and popular treat any time friends drop in—when you keep Nestlé's Cream always handy. You see, Nestlé's Cream is the rich country cream in tins that stays fresh indefinitely, right on your kitchen shelf. Once you have these handy tins of Nestlé's Pure Thick Cream in the house, I'm sure you'll never be without them.

I PROMISE YOU, this light and lively salad dressing will be the life of many a party menu. So when you're planning an afternoon tea or an evening of bridge, be sure you have plenty of MIRACLE WHIP on hand. I always buy Miracle Whip in the big, economical 32-ounce size, then I can be sure it's handy when I want it . . . which is often. Yes, Miracle Whip is the best taste in all good-tasting salads and sandwich fillings. You'll use it so often, it will always be fresh on your kitchen shelf . . . and on your grocer's shelves too. Miracle Whip's popularity guarantees its freshness . . . you'll find it's always fresh when you buy it!

YOU'RE "FLIRTING" WITH DANGER unless you use GILLETT'S DRAIN CLEANER once a week. For dangerous sewer germs lurk in every drain. No liquid disinfectant can budge the muck they breed in. It takes Gillett's special churning, boiling action to quickly scour out muck and sewer germs that collect in filthy, clogged-up sink drains. So, it's easy to see why Gillett's keeps drains fast-running and sanitary . . . and why it always leaves your sink a safe place in which to wash dishes. Do be wise . . . put 2 tablespoons of Gillett's Drain Cleaner in every drain, every week . . . then you'll know they are clean and clear!

A FLAVOUR BONUS FOR BAKED POTATOES! . . . mix finely chopped chives or shallots with melted BLUE BONNET MARGARINE and pour into hot baked potatoes. Season with salt and pepper and you have what I call a real taste sensation! Yes, everything tastes better with Blue Bonnet on it. That's because it's made from the finest ingredients . . . pure vegetable oils and pasteurized skim milk, with Vitamins A and D added. Do serve nutritious, sunny-sweet Blue Bonnet with every meal, on vegetables and as a spread for bread!



HERE'S A HAPPY NOTE from a man in Vancouver who writes:—"I used to suffer from rheumatic pain in the fingers of my right hand. Fortunately I learned of TEMPLETON'S T-R-C's and found that after taking it, the pain in my hand would be so much relieved that I would go weeks without taking another dose." He goes on to say that he often goes for several months without any return of the pain for which he uses T-R-C's. Do try them yourself if you suffer from arthritic, neuritic, sciatic or rheumatic pain . . . and tell your friends about long-famous, reliable T-R-C's.

ABOUT TOWN

Young Lad Says 'Hello' In Spanish

By Judy Nicholson

How do you converse with a youngster of eight who speaks fluent Spanish when your only claim to language fame is a smattering of high school French?

Nicholson

This was the problem confronting me yesterday when I met Mrs. Gordon Stenner and her two children, Robert and Barbarita, a delightful family from the Dominican Republic in South America.

"Como astra?" (How are you?), asked Robert in his clear young voice.

I nodded—and smiled. That was my reply.

The Stenners are hoping to make their home in Victoria. Mr. Stenner, who was in the telephone industry in Cuidad Treujillo for several years, has now taken a transfer to Canada and shortly will be joining his family here.

LIVED HERE

Mrs. Stenner is a former Victorian. "My maiden name was Gwendalene Garner," she said with her lovely smile. "I don't suppose I'll be remembered here now—it was a long time ago."

Before her marriage she was employed with the B.C. Telephone Company's traffic department here. "That's where I met my husband," she laughed. "We were married in Montevideo and from there we jumped from the West Indies to the United States, back to Canada and down to the Dominican Republic."

Mrs. Stenner and the children loved the life in Cuidad Treujillo. "It was gay and friendly and a very easy way to live," she admitted. "We had help in the home," she said, "very pleasant, but one becomes easily spoiled in that atmosphere."

Schools in the south were ideal, according to Mrs. Stenner. "Robert was learning Spanish in his first grade and until we arrived here, Barbarita could speak only Spanish. My husband and I hope that they'll hold on to what they know, it would be invaluable in later studies."

HEALTH CARE

She praised the hospital and medical system in South America. "We had some major operations down there and I cannot speak highly enough of the care we received."

At present Mrs. Stenner and the children are staying at the Olde England Inn.

Robert has started school. "I'm doing really well," he said proudly.

As we parted, my little friend waved and shouted cheerily "adios!"

At least I knew what that word meant and, in turn, I said to him—"adios!"

Women's Editor Elizabeth Forbes

At a staff gathering in the office of Confederation Life Association here, Miss Verna M. Beek, branch secretary, Vancouver Island Division, was presented with a silver tea service as a token of regard and appreciation on completing 25 years' service with the company. Presentation was made by Mr. D. R. Mulholland, until recently manager of the local branch, who has now been transferred to Puerto Rico. Also present was the new manager, Mr. A. B. Coburn, transferred here from Nanaimo. (Hi-Fidelity Photo.)

Honeymoon on Orcas Follows Recent Vows

A honeymoon on Orcas Island followed recent marriage of Miss Ruth Vernette Margaret King and Richard Francis Chudley. St. Mary's Anglican Church, Saanichton was setting for the afternoon wedding.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn L. King of Prince George and her groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Chudley of Exeter, Devon, Eng. Rev. O. Foster officiated and organ music was played by Mrs. M. Smith.

For her marriage, the bride chose a classic floor-length gown of delustered satin, with slightly scooped neckline and lily point sleeves. A high coronet of seed pearls held her finger-tip length veil. She carried a bouquet of deep yellow roses and fern. Bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. A. Noble, Calgary, and Miss E. Smith were attendants. They wore full skirted dresses in apple green and mauve taffeta respectively, topped with overblouses of white sheer. They had white velvet petal caplets and carried bouquets of mauve and white chrysanthemums and fern.

Best man was Sub.-Lt. Jim Bell RCN. John King and Major Roy Coleman ushered.

A three-tier cake topped with flowers centred bridal table at reception in the parish hall. W. A. Smart, Prince George, proposed the toast.

Travelling on honeymoon bride wore a navy blue suit with blue and white accessories.

Newlyweds are living at 1925 Dean Park Road, Saanichton.

At Lake Resort

Among Victorians who have been holidaying at Shawnigan Beach Hotel, Shawnigan Lake, are Miss Norah Bell, Miss Alice Bell, Mrs. Charles Walker, Major J. H. Bellamy and Mrs. Bellamy, Mrs. H. M. Mist, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hay, Mrs. J. H. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ward, Mrs. S. G. Cave, Mrs. C. R. Wickson, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. C. Hemberow, Mrs. C. E. Tildesley and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bray.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Clarke, 1112 Norma Court, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Angela Huntley, to Mr. James Evan Love, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Love of Vancouver. The wedding will take place on Oct. 7 in Church of Our Lord at 8 p.m. Attendants will be Misses Carol Marks, Jill Chudleigh and Virginia Stark, and the best man, Mr. Ray Chudleigh.

Trio of Attendants Wear Orange Gowns

Orange sherbet toned gowns in crystalline fabric with softly draped cummerbunds were worn by trio of attendants at recent wedding of Miss Caroline Vivian Florence and William David Simpson, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Headpieces of orange net with rose centres and bouquets of tiny chrysanthemums completed the ensembles of matrons of honor, Mrs. L. P. Lambrick, bride's sister, and Mrs. P. Cummins, and the bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy Rose.

Dr. J. L. W. McLean conducted the ceremony. Parents of the wedding principals are Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Florence and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Simpson, all of Victoria.

Baskets of white and orange gold chrysanthemums decorated church.

Bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of white taffeta and nylon chiffon had a lace bodice enhanced by a sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves. Dropped waistline extended into a floor-length skirt, accented with panels of same lace. Finger-tip veil floated from a tiara of tiny pearl sequins. Gardenias, white rosebuds and ivy were in the bridal bouquet.

Richard Smith was best man. Robert Cummins and William Metz ushered.

Reception was held in the Golden Slipper Supper Club where Ronald Campion proposed the toast.

White tulle and vases of pink rosebuds surrounded three-tier wedding cake which was topped with an ornament used by the bride's parents on their wedding day.

Couple left for a honeymoon at Banff. For going away, the new Mrs. Simpson wore a lime green fitted suit, beige accessories and corsage of yellow orchids.

INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN

Housing, Education of Women, Rights Of Children Included in Resolutions

ISTANBUL (Reuters)—Housing, the family and education of women were the top subjects occupying the attention of 348 women representing 34 nations at the recent 16th triennial conference of the International Council of Women here.

The delegates, some from Asia and newly-founded states of Africa, decided to support the activities of the United Nations for the peaceful use of outer space and a declaration of children's rights approved by the UN General Assembly.

The conference will also support plans drafted by the International Red Cross Congress for the protection of civilian population from the effects of war.

On the subject of women's education, it was decided that women should have equal access with men to technical education.

Ideas were exchanged in the housing committee on such subjects as building modern houses for workers to replace the old and unhealthy homes.

Turkey, Bolivia, Colombia, Haiti, Iran, Korea, Singapore, Thailand and Tunisia were admitted as members of the international council, founded in Washington in 1888. The aim of the council, which claims to be the oldest existing women's organization in the world, is to work for the welfare of humanity.

There are national councils in 45 countries.

"THE CAPTAIN FROM KOEPENICK"
(Germany, 1958, Color)

This widely acclaimed recent German production is based on Hoffman's famous satire set in militaristic Prussia at the turn of the century and tells of a lowly tailor who cannot get a passport suddenly finding doors that were formerly closed to him wide open just because he puts on a captain's uniform that he finds in a used clothing shop. Stars Germany's famous comedian, Heinz Rhuman in the title role.

PROMOTE BETTER PROGRAMS

BBG Plans Changes In Radio Regulations

AMHERST, N.S. (CP)—Dr. Andrew Stewart, chairman of the Board of Broadcast Governors, asked Canadian radio broadcasters Wednesday to assist the board in its consideration of amendments to Canada's radio regulations.

Dr. Stewart said the board is particularly anxious to receive suggestions and recommendations concerning three phases of radio broadcasting.

Specifically listed by Dr. Stewart were the desire for more satisfactory programming, including station promotion; more diversification in programming, and a better dispersal of advertising messages during the broadcasting period.

Dr. Stewart said he wondered if there was some way the board could "set some limitatoin on contest type of station promotion" which he described as "self-defeating."

HI-JINKS IN RAF

Audience Chortles At Wartime Satire

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

A light and lively satire on life in the RAF during the war was ably presented by St. Matthias Little Theatre Society Wednesday night.

Their choice was "Worm's Eye View"—the comedy which ran for more than five years in London—and it brought them a rewarding measure of laughter and applause from a large audience attending the opening performance in St. Matthias' Church hall.

The story, by R. F. Delafield, is full of hilarious situations with fashes of high drama and a pleasing romantic theme.

The year is 1942 and five RAF "types" are billeted in a shoddy North of England residence where they are made as uncomfortable as possible by a frowsy ill-natured landlady and her pompous bureaucratic son.

OUTWIT HOSTS

By sheer high spirits and some ingenuity the men contrive to outwit these poisonous people and get themselves into all kinds of fun-making complications.

Fullest credit goes to Margaret Belford as the landlady and Angus Smith, as the son, for making themselves so thoroughly hateful. In a less sophisticated age they would probably have been booed by the audience.

Much of the comedy is sustained by Edward Pigott and Frank Allen as the kind of servicemen who get into trouble as if by instinct and are never very far from the guardhouse.

In the romantic lead, Michael Rose gives a suave performance as the corporal in charge of the billet who falls very inconveniently in love with the landlady's red-headed daughter.

ENDS IN BRAWL

This fairly sets off the fireworks and ends in a brawl with Rose rolling around the stage in combat with the landlady's son, and heading straight for a court martial.

Pamela Harris is sweet and winsome as the landlady's daughter and, in between the bouts of comedy, acts out a tender love scene with Rose.

A pleasant performer throughout is Erith Smith in the role of an old RAF "sweat" who serves the billet as father confessor and general smoother-outer.

Don Jacobs is delightful as the landlady's hen-pecked husband who, as usual, comes out strong in the third act and roars like a lion.

Laurance Richards is good in the part of a "wolfish" RAF type, and Sandra Pigott turns in a sparkling performance as the Cockney "skivvy."

David Shearer is suitably dignified and aloof as the squadron leader who is called in at the height of all the strife.

The play was ably directed by John Poulton with Florence Cameron as stage manager.

ALASKA LEGISLATORS TOLD

Marine Highway Best Plan

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (CP)—Supporters of a marine highway linking the Alaskan Panhandle and Prince Rupert, B.C., Wednesday told the joint finance committee of the Alaskan legislature the ferry plan will benefit the whole state.

Bob Sharp, president of the Southeastern Conference, an association of 20 cities and several Alaskan chambers of commerce, told the committee:

1. The marine highway will cost about $15,000,000.

2. It will provide a second and shorter route for travellers to Alaska.

3. It will benefit the entire state because about one-half the traffic using the system will terminate in the interior.

Sharp, also city manager of Ketchikan and former Anchorage and Kodiak city manager, said the cost of a land highway in southeastern Alaska would be "staggering."

The marine highway, first described at a meeting of Alaskan, B.C. and Yukon heads of government at Victoria, would use ferries to link highways along the B.C. and Alaskan coast.

9 IN MEMORIAM

RODGER—In treasured memory of my only beloved son, Collin, passed away Sept. 21, 1954.

There is a picture deep in my heart
Of a fair-haired, blue-eyed boy,
Whose loving smile and winning way
Are forever in my heart.
'Twas hard to lose you, Collie dear,
But still, God knew what was best.

SMITH—In loving memory of Anna Smith, who passed away September 22, 1952.

The world may change from year to year
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we loved
From memory pass away.
—Her husband and family.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

By JIMMY HATLO

WHEN THE ACCIDENT HAPPENED, BULLGRAVY WAS DEAD SET AGAINST SETTLING... HE INSISTED ON FIGHTING THE CASE TO THE BITTER END.
I'M FROM YOUR INSURANCE COMPANY—DON'T WORRY—YOU'RE FULLY COVERED...
YEAH?! WELL, IT WAS ALL HIS FAULT! I DON'T WANT TO PAY HIM A NICKEL!! I'LL GLADLY GO TO COURT!! IF YOU OFFER TO SETTLE I'LL GIVE MY BUSINESS TO SOMEBODY ELSE!!
SO THE ADJUSTER TOOK HIM AT HIS WORD AND SET THE LEGAL WHEELS IN MOTION...
THANX AND A TIP OF THE HATLO HAT TO JOSEPH LORING, 630 E. 43RD ST., BKLYN. 3, N.Y.
WE GO TO COURT IN TWO WEEKS—NOW LET'S GO OVER THE FACTS AGAIN...
COURT?! I CAN'T LEAVE MY BUSINESS TO GO TO COURT... CAN'T YOU HANDLE THINGS? WOULD YOU PAY ME FOR THE TIME I'D LOSE? DON'T BE SO TIGHT.... SETTLE OUTA COURT!!

Opening lead—♥J

I have considerable quarrel with the play. South won the opening heart lead in his own hand and led a club to dummy's ace. East showed out and South spent 15 minutes trying to salvage his slam from the wreckage. Needless to say, the salvage act failed miserably.

About 10 seconds thought at trick two would have shown South that he had a safety play that would work against any combination of clubs at all. He should have played the king from his hand.

If both opponents followed, South would have no worries. When East showed out, South would still have no worries. He could lead either the jack or eight and play the appropriate card from dummy after West made his play.

Suppose that West showed out. South would still have no trouble. He would go over to dummy and lead a club. East could play anything he wished but once more South would make his slam.

Western RED CEDAR Bevel SIDING

"Keystone" clear kiln dried siding is the finest available—a quality material for all applications where perfection is required.

With its "grow-in" workability, weather resistance and lasting good looks, "Keystone" clear Western Red Cedar Siding has long been recognized as the standard of quality home construction.

It has a distinctive "shadow line" which enhances any architectural style in any setting, and is used to create a variety of interesting decorative effects on indoor surfaces as well as exterior.

5 GRADES TO CHOOSE FROM!

"FOREST" CEDAR SIDING

WHAT IS FOREST SIDING?

Made of dry 1½" stock in 10 and 12-inch widths, "FOREST" siding is a new type of siding obtained from specially selected cedar logs sawn to show the beauty and character of knots, burls, etc.

APPEARANCE?

For homes and buildings where a distinctive and pleasing appearance is desired, enhanced by heavy shadow lines. Sound intergrown knots ranging in size from 2-inch in 6-inch widths to 4-inch in 12-inch widths add to the rustic appearance of this grade.

WHAT ARE ITS QUALITIES?

"FOREST" siding, with its substantial thickness and greater wood volume, adds to the structural STRENGTH and solidity of the building.

The design of "FOREST" siding ensures a tight weather seal at the lap which, together with its thickness and flush-to-base principle, makes excellent material from the INSULATION standpoint.

"FOREST" siding represents an ECONOMY to home-builders. Costing less than most other types of siding the lap design ensures easy fitting and speedy application at less labor cost.

HOW IS IT APPLIED?

As easily and quickly as common shiplap. Each piece of "FOREST" siding fits snugly on the one below and requires only one mitre cut.

HOW CAN IT BE FINISHED?

If a natural finish is desired, use equal proportions of raw linseed oil and any well-known brand of waterproof sealer. This not only protects the wood surface, but also brings out the natural beauty of the knots and the grain. If a colored finish is desired "FOREST" siding can easily be painted. It is recommended that a sharp instrument be used to score the finished product underneath the butt (where it will not show) to stop formation of a vapor barrier.

"RANCH-PANEL"

The handsome new siding designed to give "NEW" natural beauty to your home, inside and out!

ONE LOOK — and you'll want to "RANCHPANEL" RIGHT AWAY!

You'll want to be first to "RANCHPANEL" your home the very moment you get your first look at this distinctive new siding. Sawn from specially selected cedar logs and graded to accentuate the naturally beautiful markings of British Columbia cedar, new "RANCHPANEL" provides a delightfully different, unmistakably modern look wherever it's used.

Ernie Ford Starts Fifth Season at 9.30; Ike Before UN at 11.30

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

WHEN THE HALF-HOUR WAS OVER, Monday night, I couldn't make up my mind whether I had been watching "Jackpot Berling" or "Milton Bowl."

As a matter of fact Uncle Milty didn't seem quite sure what the name of his new show was either.

Or perhaps it was the juxtaposition of Berle and bowling alleys that unnerved me. I've always been very susceptible to atmosphere.

For instance, Esther Williams in a tank is right and proper because the blend of Esther and water is what I have come to expect.

On the other hand the sight of Esther popping out of a deep blueberry pie in the same swim suit to dance on the table for the Knights of Pythias would leave me feeling somewhat uneasy no matter what it did for the Knights of Pythias.

Now this susceptibility business may sound silly when one remembers that Berle owns so many bowling alleys that if they were placed end to end they would provide a bicycle track for the next Olympic Games of a length that would cause proud Coroebus of Elis or Armenia's mighty Varastad to revolve madly in their ancient graves.

Nonetheless, Berle's brash, obvious, wisecracking humor needs a definite atmosphere upon which to thrive. Even though his stage is only something concocted for television it should contain the undertones of clinking glasses, of music that is hot and swampy and of stale tobacco smoke that looks like a London pea-souper.

Take this "feeling" away and all you have left is Uncle Milty, two dedicated bowlers and a program that is neither soup-and-fish nor foul. That is to say, Berle detracts from the suspense engendered by the bowling as the two competitors vie for the $5,000 jackpot (for six strikes in a row in nine frames) or for $1,000 to the bowler who makes the most strikes. And to be fair about it all, the kegglers never allow Uncle Milty an honest try at being funny for a sustained period.

* * *

IN SPITE OF THE SPRINKLING of first night notables on hand, such as Edward G. Robinson, Danny Thomas, etc., somehow someone who sounded suspiciously like a heckler had managed to slip through the screen. This person engaged Uncle Milty in some heavy-handed fencing that succeeded only in throwing Uncle Milty somewhat off-stride and the entire show momentarily off pace.

What's more, Uncle Milty appeared to encounter difficulty in engendering any degree of bonhomie on the few occasions he chatted with the contestants. And they were in such an advance state of concentration they didn't seem to know he was alive until the end when he started reaching into the pocket of his dinner jacket for the winner's cheque.

However, in spite of these obvious frailties I would imagine that "Jackpot Bowling" will be around for sometime to come if for no other reason than bowling buffs in the U.S. and Canada are not far outnumbered by the sands of the desert. What's more, they are of a breed who will watch bowling come Berle or high water.

ODDS AND SODS—Veteran Barbara Stanwyck's opening stanza, Monday night, "The Mink Coat," came through as a rather frantic sermon against materialism. Worse, if you weren't up on your toes the format was such that it might make some think they were viewing Miss Stanwyck doing a guest stint on the Loretta Young Show—the difference between the two being only in the names of the leading ladies . . . Joey Bishop makes such an engaging guest panelist on "What's My Line?, Sunday nights, that one wonders why he isn't taken on as a permanent member. The comedian supplies much needed spit and fire to this venerable show that has become so refined and smooth by time that some nights it threateneds to replace chloroform as a sleep inducer.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

AS THE BARD SAYS, "ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL," EH, TWIGGS? I USED A PORTION OF THE REWARD MONEY TO REIMBURSE THAT PARSIMONIOUS FURNITURE STORE! THEY'LL OF COURSE RETURN MARTHA'S SOFA BEFORE SHE COMES BACK AND — HEH-HEH — IGNORANCE MOST ASSUREDLY IS BLISS
HAVE A CIGAR! THEY WERE FLOWN IN TODAY FROM MY LONDON TOBACCONIST!
DON'T FLY YOUR KITE TOO HIGH, MAJOR — THERE COULD BE AN ELECTRICAL STORM IF YOUR BETTER HALF GETS HOME FIRST!

TAKES OWN LIFE

Paroled Killer Shoots Down 3

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)— A paroled murderer Wednesday night shot and killed three persons in a crowded downtown bar and then took his own life.

Police said it "was impossible to tell this early" whether the berserk shooting resulted from a personal feud or a love triangle.

Witnesses told police Walter L. Ferry, 45, killed owner-bartender Alfred Phillipsen, 31, with a single shot through the chest after telling him, "Red, you're going to get yours."

Ferry then fatally wounded Jo Ann Gilson, 31, believed to have been Phillipsen's girl friend, and killed Mrs. Patricia M. Meetz, 22 of Kaukauna, Wis., before turning the 30-30 rifle on himself.

Green Bay police Lieut. Fred Paulu said there was no indication Ferry knew Mrs. Meetz, a divorcee and mother of four young children.

Paulu said "10 or 12 customers" in Red's Wander Inn said Ferry had several drinks at the bar earlier, stalked out after an argument with Phillipsen and returned shortly before midnight with the rifle.

Ferry was a former resident of Marion, Wis., about 45 miles west of Green Bay, where police said he was convicted in 1950 of second degree murder in the fatal stabbing of his ex-wife. Marion police said Ferry was "a model parolee" for about six years "until he started drinking a little too much the last couple of weeks."

ATOM SPYING CHARGE LAID

VIENNA (AP)—Russia today accused the United States, Britain and Canada of spying on the atomic secrets of underdeveloped countries.

Professor Vasily Yemelianov, Soviet chief delegate to the fourth general conference of the International Atomic Energy Agency, said this was done under the pretext of preventing diversion for military use of nuclear fuels given to these countries for peaceful developments.

Stratford Names Music Directors

TORONTO (CP) — Pianist Glenn Gould, cellist Leonard Rose and violinist Oscar Shumsky have been named to direct the 1961 Stratford, Ont., music season.

The festival's artistic director, Michael Langham, also announced that Ezra Schabas, special lecturer in the faculty of music at the University of Toronto, will be music manager.

Gould, Rose and Shumsky replace Louis Applebaum who retired earlier this year as music director.

Mr. Langham also announced further casting for the 1961 season. Scottish-born Douglas Campbell has been signed for the lead in Henry VIII. Kate Reid, Douglas Rain, Bruno Gerussi, Jack Creley and Leo Ceceri of the 1960 season will return.

The three Shakespearean plays to be produced are Coriolanus, Love's Labors Lost, and Henry VIII. The company will be headed by Paul Scofield, one of England's leading classical actors.

W. FRANK KENWOOD
. . . meets warehousemen

High Taxes Lose Revenue For Province

British Columbia is losing revenue because firms moving household goods by road from other provinces are discouraged by high provincial taxes, says W. Frank Kenwood, president of the Canadian Warehousemen's Association, now visiting here from his home in Montreal.

"There is no profit on resale from moving household goods from one province to another," Mr. Kenwood said. "But moving firms have to pay high provincial taxes and this is passed on to the owner of the goods in higher charges.

"We are therefore trying to promote some kind of reciprocity between the provinces."

ON AGENDA

Mr. Kenwood will discuss this problem with Victoria warehousemen at a meeting in the Pacific Club this evening.

He is accompanied on a cross-Canada tour by H. Cecil Rhodes, who is manager of the Canadian Warehousemen's Association in Toronto.

Mr. Kenwood said B.C. is in an "unfavorable position" because it has no reciprocal agreements with other provinces regarding taxation of vehicles moving from one to the other.

"This means that the B.C. operator, wherever he goes, has to purchase licence plates and pay other provincial taxes.

WANT RECIPROCITY

"On the other hand there are reciprocal agreements between Ontario and Alberta, and Quebec and Ontario, whereby moving firms are given transportation permits at a much smaller fee.

"We are striving for this kind of reciprocity between all provinces."

Mr. Kenwood said he understood the B.C. government is now considering a method of overcoming the difficulty.

He added that his organizations had negotiated with Commercial Transport Minister Lyle Wicks earlier this year.

Chiefs Back Death Law For Murder

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP)— The officers responsible for tracking down and catching murderers reaffirmed their opinion that capital punishment should be retained.

Delegates to the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police convention here unanimously approved a resolution calling for the death penalty for murder.

In a discussion on drug smuggling and addiction, it was agreed that international smuggling accounted for about 85 per cent of the narcotics used by addicts in Canada. Stopping the international traffic was the main problem in this field.

U.S. SENATOR FAVORS FORCE TO OUST FIDEL

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) said here he would not be opposed to using force to depose Cuba's premier, Fidel Castro.

He added he believed the time may be "pretty well at hand" when such force must be used.

"The word I get is we would help ourselves by getting rid of the Castro government by almost any means," Goldwater said at a town hall meeting.

"The Cuban people should be the ones to overthrow this government and if they don't the Americans are going to have to do something about it," said Goldwater.

" . . . If it requires force, I'm not against it," he said.

Goldwater said he doubted that Russia would go to war to save the Castro government.

Dairy Queen Served Milk, Of Course

The United Kingdom's Dairy Queen visited Victoria Wednesday and had a glass of milk.

Eirian Evans, 21, from Llanwrst in North Wales, was joined in the "toast" at city hall by Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell and B.C. Dairy Princess Clara Taylor of Saanichton.

The acting mayor presented her with a brass tray engraved with the city's seal, and commissioner William Hawkins of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau gave her an honorary membership in the Treasure Island Club.

Earlier at Duncan, Miss Evans said she felt "at home" because of the more than 200 Evans' in the area which comprised a large portion of the welcoming party.

OPENING OCT. 4

Nine Cases Listed For Assize Court

Three charges of breaking and entering and theft, one of robbery with violence and five morals charges are down for hearing at Victoria's fall assizes at the courthouse.

Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane is expected to preside at the opening on Oct. 4. Lloyd G. McKenzie will be crown counsel with E. George MacMinn assisting.

First to be heard is the case against John Weaver Hamel and Clarence William Kraft, charged with breaking into Peoples Credit Jewellers, Ltd. at 1104 Douglas, last March.

JOINT CHARGE

Next on the list Aaron Anselm O'Brien, will be charged with an indecent act. Frank Aleck and David Gordon Underwood will be charged jointly with attempted sexual relations with a girl under the age of 14.

Grant Shaver will be charged with breaking, entering and theft, Rex Howard with a sex offence, Walter Trevor Donoldson and Garry Leo Groen with robbery with violence, Imre Zsiros with a sex offence, and Edward Gordon Paul with attempted rape.

'Blue Chips' Top Prizes In Contest

Gas station customers are matching wits against an electronic computor for a new type of promotion prize—$12,500 worth of prime B.C. stocks and bonds.

The contest is sponsored by Home Oil Distributors Ltd.

The object is to predict the population of B.C. at Sept. 1, 1971.

An electronic "brain" at University of B.C. will make the official prediction Oct. 31 when the contest closes. It will be fed information now being collected by Prof. Ira M. Robinson of B.C.'s department of planning.

Closest entry will win $5,000 worth of stocks and bonds taken from B.C.'s top companies.

The second prize is $2,500 worth. There will be 99 consolation prizes of $50 worth of shares in Giant Mascot Mines.

The "blue chips" selected for the winners include: B.C. Hydro, B.C. Power Corp., Macmillan, Bloedel and Powell River, B.C. Telephone and B.C. Forest Products.

PLEASURE AFLOAT By DON INGHAM

Coast Guard Will Need Help In Marine Protection Work

A coast guard, as announced Sept. 14 by Transport Minister George Hees, will not be the whole answer to rescue work on the west coast, according to a transport department official.

Capt. J. C. Barbour, marine adviser in the department, this week in Vancouver told delegates of organizations engaged in rescue work about the duties of the two patrol vessels when they start operating here.

But one of the things they will not do, he said, is to replace the existing search and rescue setup which gives such excellent protection.

Will Not Be Fast

Presence of the cutters will reduce requests to private vessels for assistance, and they will carry some equipment.

"However," he said, "if you want a vessel that will take the weather, you cannot have a fast one."

In other words, the two ships will be spread rather thinly over the 500 miles of exposed coast between the 49th parallel and the Alaskan Panhandle.

And unless ships in trouble take care to have their grief while one of the new cutters is near by, they had better rely on commercial and other vessels for assistance.

Their most valuable contribution to shipping will be the dissemination of up-to-date weather news. This is what the government intends them to do, and this should prevent disasters instead of curing them.

Number of marine incidents has risen 25 per cent per year for the past three years, Sqdn. Ldr. John Howarth, chairman of the organization, said at the same meeting.

The Vancouver Rescue Co-Ordination Centre averaged five incidents daily during July, he said.

This number increases sharply when the weather is good, he said, thus apparently confounding the issue as far as the new coast guard vessels are concerned. But it is a fairly safe guess that although there are more incidents in good weather than bad, there also are many more craft at sea, and that the ratio of accidents to boat-miles will show that a sunny, calm day is still safer than a dull, stormy one.

Aircraft Added

Communications have been improved, Sqdn. Ldr. Howarth said. In addition, two Albatross and two North Star aircraft, specially equipped for search and rescue and carrying Lindholm dinghies, are scheduled to arrive at headquarters of RCAF 121 Rescue Flight, Sea Island.

Vancouver Rescue Co-ordination Centre is nearly complete and will be staffed by extra personnel, he said.

Present at the meeting were representatives of the U.S. Coast Guard, Canadian transport department, B.C. Towboat Owners Association, federal hydrographic surveys, fisheries, and public works departments, National Harbors Board, Canadian Merchant Service Guild, Royal Canadian Navy, Canadian Army, B.C. Forest Service, RCMP, and Vancouver police and fire services.

No Curbs Intended

LONDON (Reuters) — Finance Minister Felix Dias Bandaranaike of Ceylon said here Tuesday night his government's decision to take over national newspapers was in the public interest and not intended to curb press freedom.

Bandaranaike, here for the Commonwealth finance ministers meeting, told a press conference the Ceylon newspapers still would be able to criticize the government if they wanted. Full compensation would be paid for assets taken over.

ELIMINATE PRIVATE PROFIT, PROPAGANDA SAYS CHURCH

'Nationalize Liquor Industry'

EDMONTON (CP)—A call for the nationalization of the liquor and beer industry was made Wednesday by the United Church of Canada.

The church, advancing a principle first approved 16 years ago, said nationalization should be regarded as a step forward in solving what it calls the liquor problem.

"Nationalization would eliminate the private profit motive and the propaganda which so misled the public," said the report approved by general council.

Church policy is "active resistance to the evils of the liquor traffic."

The church agreed Wednesday to hold its 20th general council in London, Ont., in 1962, voiced opposition to gambling and trading stamps, took a new stand on liquor plebiscites and approved the reorganization of women's groups.

General council said the United Church must oppose "every effort to increase gambling, including the legalizing of sweepstakes, give-away projects and such doubtful methods of stimulating business as trading stamps."

Sales gimmicks flourish "because of individual and corporate weakness confronted by the twin evils of cupidity and credulity," the resolution said.

General council relaxed its policy on liquqor plebiscites by approving a recommendation which said the "democratic principle of a majority vote" should be the rule.

Under the old view a 60 per cent majority was necessary. The new view calls for a simple majority of 51 per cent.

No new or additional liquor outlets should be established without a plebiscite, the church said.

It also urged that the serving of liquor and beer on planes be declared illegal and it opposed all forms of liquor advertising.

A new organization, United Church Women, will come into existence in January, 1962, and take over the functions of the Women's Missionary Society (289,000 members) and the Woman's Association (221,000 members).

Both groups are active in most United Churches but have no recognition as one of the boards of the church. This will be changed with the establishment of a Board of Women.

Charge Reduced To Manslaughter

OTTAWA (CP)—An Ontario Supreme Court jury Wednesday found Joseph Francis Sullivan, charged in connection with the fatal beating June 1 of Mrs. Ethel Lahaye, not guilty of murder but guilty of manslaughter. He was remanded to Friday for sentence.

Sullivan, 48, was charged with fatally beating the woman with whom he lived.

Government Adds Voice For Aid to Pensioners

By Staff Reporter

NEW WESTMINSTER — Municipal Affairs Minister W. D. Black Wednesday told the annual meeting of the Union of B.C. Municipalities here that his department is ready to co-operate in efforts to help retired civic employees on pre-inflation pensions.

He said that it was well-known many civic employees who retired before the new Superannuation Act came into force in 1957 were struggling through desperate financial need because of low pensions.

(Several hundred retired civic employees last year asked Greater Victoria councils to supplement their pensions but were told the municipalities could not afford the substantial outlay required in view of raising taxes on the homes which affected all retired persons on fixed incomes.)

EARNINGS UP

Mr. Black revealed that interest earnings of the new superannuation fund had run well above expectations and civic employee associations on the mainland and Vancouver Island had indicated they would forego the additional benefits of the increase if it was used to raise the pensions of those retired before 1957.

He said if municipal councils were willing to go along with the employees' suggestion, the UBCM should set up a committee to work out an acceptable formula.

The government's superannuation branch, which administers the civic pension fund, "are ready and willing to work with" municipal representatives on the problem, he said.

Mr. Black also told the delegates that "regardless of what you or I personally think about civil defence, it is your responsibility and mine."

PLAN FOR WAR

He urged municipal councils to work out new plans for continuing to function during a nuclear war by: establishing automatic lines of succession for appointed and elected officials; arranging for preservation of essential records to protect the rights of individuals and to conduct emergency operations; establising "reasonably safe" emergency locations for civic government offices; and drawing up plans for using civic staffs and equipment in an emergency.

SUBDIVIDERS UNDER ATTACK AT CONVENTION

UBCM Urges More Controls

By JOHN MIKA
Times Staff Reporter

NEW WESTMINSTER — Union of B.C. Municipalities Wednesday voted to ask the provincial government for more power in controlling land developments and forcing subdividers to contribute towards the cost of roads, sidewalks, street lights and parks.

The favorable vote was decisive despite an attack on the request led by Ald. Elmer McEwen of Victoria and Coun. Leslie Passmore of Saanich.

The proposals were drawn up in a 17-page report of recommendations to bring zoning and planning sections of the Municipal Act up to date.

Convention asked the provincial government to give permissive power to municipalities to:

1. Prohibit anyone from erecting a building on land which would be costly to service, such as swamps or rock piles;
2. Require developers to provide for "public safety and amenity, sanitary facilities, water supply and drainage" before permitting construction of buildings;
3. Plan exact locations of roads and building lines that must be followed before undeveloped areas are subdivided;
4. Require subdividers to install water mains, sewers, street lighting, sidewalks, roads and tree plantings;
5. Require subdividers to pay part of the cost of trunk water mains, sewers and other services that will serve the new development and to pay a predetermined amount into a reserve fund which the municipality will use for developing new parks.

PROPER BALANCE

UBCM president Coun. C. W. MacSorley of Burnaby, who was chairman of the committee that drew up the report, said it was designed to strike a "proper balance between the desire of a council to control the orderly and proper development of its land area and the rights of an individual to do what he wants with his own property."

But Ald. McEwen led a sporadic attack on the proposals with the warning that it would prevent "from doing anything because he would have to pay for everything.

"If you take the incentive out of land development, you're just asking for NHA to build everything and I think that's entirely wrong."

Coun. Passmore, agreeing with Ald. McEwen gave warning to other Saanich councillors that he was opposed to the proposals.

Saanich Reeve George Chatterton told the convention he felt that in general most municipalities had the parks and services they required at present and if new persons entered the community creating the need for more parks and services they should be the ones to pay for them as the report contended.

Lawyer Douglas Hogarth, who served on the UBCM committee, pointed out the report sought only permissive legislation.

Convicted Murderer Linked to Killing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI Wednesday linked Joseph Corbett, Jr., a convicted murderer who broke jail five years ago, with the disappearance and death of Adolph Coors III, millionaire Colorado industrialist.

Crowd Broken Up

LONDON (Reuters) — Mounted police Wednesday night broke up an angry crowd of demonstrators threatening to storm the town council building of a London borough in a protest against high rents. Eleven demonstrators were arrested. A 13-year-old girl was injured.

PTA FAVORS SCHOOL BOARD PARKING BAN

Executive of Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council decided at a meeting Wednesday to back Greater Victoria School Board in its refusal to provide student parking at Oak Bay High School.

The decision, however, is that of the executive only—the issue has not yet been brought before a general meeting.

Council president Mrs. B. A. Byers said if the matter was brought before a general meeting at North Ward school Friday night, it would be discussed. Otherwise the executive would do nothing about it."

Wedding Food Proved Fatal

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — A coroner's jury ruled Wednesday Angela Mule, 38, died from poison in food that sat for 17 hours in temperatures up to 88 degrees before being served at a wedding supper.

She was one of 38 persons who became ill after the supper Aug. 13. The jury recommended public health authorities issue periodical bulletins warning the public to refrigerate perishable foods not prepared for immediate consumption.

Chile Rocked Again

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — An earth tremor, accompanied by subterrenean noises, shook Santiago and the adjoining region of central Chile Wednesday. There were no reports of casualties or damage.

La Viscaina was on heels of Fleet Silk for three-eighths and when latter bore out slightly going into far turn, drove through to take over and move out to safe lead. Porter's Pebble, never far out of it, moved up turning for home to prove best of others. Frencheco Tinda lay in good position throughout, but could never move up to challenge for lead. Fleet Silk lasted for fourth place after setting pace for three and a half furlongs.

Doll Song was hustled to front from break, opened up clear lead on field in early stages and managed to hang on long enough to win. Morning Call moved up on stretch turn to challenge for lead, but went wide, losing ground and possibly the race. Our Hour tried to pick up leaders in final stages, but was unable to make any impression on them. Rossburn was up in contention most of the way. Fayum took back out of tight quarters on first turn. Dinna Forget drove up between horses going into first turn and caused a jam.

Early Rambler was taken in hand at break, lay back for three-quarters, then came fast, picking up leaders gradually, and was going away from field at end. Merrica was sent out to set pace, was under pressure all the way, but held on gamely to prove best of others. Count Maple also provided strong contention throughout, but was unable to take over at any time. Ned's Freedom was closing strongly on outside at finish. Looks Better got too far out of the early running and although making up a lot of ground, was unable to reach leaders in time. Music Runner provided strong contention in final eighth, then could not keep up. Polly's K.O. was up with leaders early, then was outrun.

John D. Planning UN Trip

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
— Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker is making plans to attend the United Nations General Assembly, it was reported today.

Announcement of the prime minister's decision was expected to be forthcoming later in the day.

With the announcement from London that Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan is planning on going to the United Nations, Mr. Diefenbaker was conferring with external affairs advisers. He has also been in touch by long distance telephone with External Affairs Minister Howard Green, who is now in New York.

The decision of Mr. Macmillan and Mr. Diefenbaker to go to New York is taken here as an indication that both Britain and Canada have been informed that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will submit new disarmament proposals to the UN.

Mr. Diefenbaker's decision to go to the UN may set back by a few days his call to Ottawa of representatives of farm, business, labor and other leaders to discuss unemployment.

EISENHOWER
... asks arms talks

5-Point Plan Urged to Fight Poverty, Illness

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—President Eisenhower today pleaded for acceptance of the United States program to help countries overcome poverty and develop in independence without outside interference.

The president, in his address to the 15th United Nations General Assembly, put forward a five-point program for Africa and also made specific recommendations calling for controlled disarmament, international control of outer space, food for peace, and the transfer fissionable materials from military to peaceful purposes.

He urged the United Nations to open an offensive against poverty, illiteracy and disease in Africa and called on the major world powers to avoid an arms race in the awakening continent.

Eisenhower charged that "a few nations" had flagrantly violated United Nations edicts in the Congo crisis "for their own selfish purposes."

Intervention Would Deny Rights

He said the attack by the Communist bloc on Secretary-General Dag Hammarksjold regarding his Congo policies was nothing less than a direct attack against the United Nations itself.

"The people of the Congo are entitled to build up their country in peace and freedom," said Eisenhower.

"Intervention by other nations in their internal affairs would deny them that right and create a focus of conflict in the heart of Africa."

An attentive listener to Eisenhower was Soviet Premier Khrushchev, whose mission to the UN has been interpreted as a desire to extend Soviet influence in Africa as well as promote Russia's disarmament concepts.

The president completed his speech and left the assembly shortly before one o'clock (10 a.m. PDT).

Khrushchev brushed off a request for comment with a terse: "I'm going to lunch."

Yugoslav President Tito said: "It was a positive speech. That's all I can say now."

Polish Communist boss Wladyslaw Gomulka said: "It's too early to comment." Hungarian Communist chief Janos Kadar gave a similar reply.

Eisenhower said the issues posed in the Congo "could well arise elsewhere in Africa."

Adding that the issue would determine whether the UN would be able to protect not only African countries but also countries elsewhere from outside pressure, he said:

"It is the smaller nations that have the greatest stake in the effective functioning of the UN."

"Any nation, seduced by glittering promises into becoming a catspaw for an imperialistic power, thereby undermines the United Nations and places in jeopardy the independence of itself and all others. . ."

The president said the African nations themselves should "choke off competition in armaments."

"The outstanding speed and success of the United Nations in dispatching substantial forces to the Congo should give these states assurance that they can rely on the United Nations to organize an effective response if their security is threatened," he said.

Briefly Eisenhower's proposals for Africa were:

1. Non-interference in the African countries' internal affairs;
2. Help in ensuring their security without wasteful and dangerous competition in armaments;
3. Emergency aid to the Congo;
4. International assistance in shaping a long-term African development program;
5. UN aid for education.

Khrushchev Withholds Applause

When President Eisenhower finished, the delegates applauded briefly, but Khrushchev and the Communist bloc refrained from applauding.

The president left and Yugoslavia's President Tito came to the stage to make his major speech.

External Affairs Minister Howard Green was at his place at the head of the Canadian delegation which greeted Eisenhower with warm applause.

All diplomatic and gallery seats were taken in the blue and gold assembly chamber but the crowd seemed more subdued than at the Assembly opening Tuesday.

The United States, Eisenhower said, is ready to submit to any effective and truly reciprocal inspection system.

He criticized the Russians' walkout from Geneva disarmament negotiations June 27, just as the United States was submitting new proposals, and said:

"Time and time again, the American people have voiced this yearning—to join with men of good will everywhere in building a better world. We

'Constructive And Helpful'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—External Affairs Minister Green said today President Eisenhower's speech to the General Assembly was "very constructive and helpful."

"I was very pleased at his support for the UN and for his attitude towards Africa. In addition, we were pleased that he urged resumption of disarmament talks by saying negotiations can and should resume.

"That is the plea we placed before the recent meeting of the UN disarmament commission."

PM Calls 'Brain Trust' On Unemployment

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government plans to mobilize the collective brainpower of representative national organizations to help it combat the rising tide of unemployment in Canada.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, in a national television address Wednesday night, said he will confer before the next session of Parliament with business, labor, farm and other leaders to get their proposed solutions.

At the same time, in pledging that the unemployment problem will not be left to work itself out, he said the government already has drawn up for parliamentary approval plans based on "a current and realistic appraisal" of the situation.

The prime minister's speech came hard on the heels of the government's latest unemployment report earlier in the day. For the second straight month, it showed the jobless rolls increasing in a summer period when they normally decline slightly before the usual winter rise to peak figures.

"Before the next session of Parliament I intend to call to

STONES, ROTTEN EGGS THROWN

Rent Strikers Out After Fierce Riot

LONDON (AP)—A force of 400 policemen today evicted two embattled tenants from municipally-owned flats in the tough St. Pancras borough after a riotous clash with angry crowds.

A dozen policemen and rioters were injured and 17 persons were arrested.

At the height of the melee, stones and rotten eggs were thrown at the police.

Bailiffs who broke through the crowds with police assistance finally removed the tenants—Don Cook, 38, and Arthur Rowe, 59, a waiter.

Cook and Rowe had been barricaded in their flats behind barbed wire entanglements since eviction notices for non-payment of their rent fell due Aug. 28.

Cook and Rowe stopped paying their rent as a protest against increases decreed by the St. Pancras borough council.

COMMUNIST LINK CHARGED

Mobutu Guarded After Uprising

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (Reuters)—Army strongman Joseph Mobutu pressed today for the withdrawal of Ghanaian and Guinean troops from the Congo and sought ways to arrest former Premier Patrice Lumumba.

At the same time, police opened fire to disperse several hundred Congolese troops who marched on Mobutu's home after holding a meeting to protest against their irregular pay.

Ghana officers at Camp Leopold said the soldiers were not armed and fled when the gendarmerie fired over their heads. No casualties were reported.

Three officers were arrested but later released. Two armored cars were brought in to guard Mobutu's home after the demonstration.

The 30-year-old colonel demanded the departure of the Ghana and Guinea United Nations contingents Wednesday night after the reported discoverey of a plot by the two nations to restore Lumumba as premier.

Mobutu told reporters he had found documents linking "Communists and Guineans and President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana."

Meanwhile, Lumumba remained in the official residence of the premier with a

BANK RATE HITS LOW

OTTAWA (UPI)—The Bank of Canada's weekly discount rate dipped to 1.93 per cent today, its lowest level since September, 1958.

The rate, an indication of credit demand, stood at 2.32 per cent a week ago.

HUGE WELCOME

Armed Man Held As Ike Nears

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower got a tumultuous welcome from an estimated 125,000 New Yorkers today as he arrived to address the historic United Nations meeting. The president grinned broadly and waved.

Police and security forces had one bad moment in the midst of the cheering reception, however. A man with a rifle was seized just as the president's car was about to pass by.

The incident occurred near the Manhattan end of the Queens-midtown tunnel while the presidential motorcade was en route from Idlewild Airport to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The man identified himself as Julius Maar, 67. He said he was taking the rifle to a gunsmith to have the stock lengthened. The gun was not loaded and Marr had no ammunition.

Maar, a neatly dressed man of medium build with tinges of grey hair, said in halting English that he held a doctorate of law in Hungary. He showed papers indicating he arrived in the United States on July 17, 1956, as an immigrant from Hungary.

Four persons, one a young woman, held aloft printed signs saying:

"We are counting on you, Ike." "Please don't trust the Red murderers." "No compromise with communism."

Eisenhower stood in the open limousine and gave a "V" for victory sign.

Before the president's arrival, press secretary James Hagerty told reporters there would be no Eisenhower conference here with Russian Premier Khrushchev.

JULIUS MAAR

PRO-WESTERNS LOSE IN LAOS

SAIGON (UPI) — Laotian government troops today recaptured the town of Paksane, 80 miles east of Vientiane, and drove the revolutionary forces of pro-western Gen. Phoumi Nosovan into retreat, Vientiane Radio said in a broadcast heard here.

The radio, quoting the Laotian army high command, said the recapture of Paksane, where heavy fighting had been reported for two days, "definitely puts an end to the revolutionary committee's military ambitions."

Girl, 9, Innocent Victim Of Cuban Riot in N.Y. Cafe

NEW YORK (AP)—A nine-year-old Venezuelan girl, struck in the back by a stray bullet in a fight between supporters and opponents of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, died today at St. Clare's Hospital.

The girl, Magdalina Urdaneto of Caracas, Venezuela, was dining with her tourist parents in a restaurant Wednesday, when a gang of Castro sympathizers burst in. An anti-Castroite, Louis Rodriguez, 25, was wounded in the shoulder.

Beer bottles flew, fists swung, and tables and chairs were overturned during the melee. It was touched off after a pro-Castro man sighted five anti-Castro men who came in to order sandwiches at the El Prado restaurant, on Eighth Avenue near 51st Street.

A man was arrested today in connection with the free-for-all, and another man was being sought as the actual gun-wielder.

The pro-Castro man used a telephone in the restaurant, and minutes later about a dozen adherents of Castro appeared.

RESTAURANT EMPTIED

When police arrived, the restaurant was practically empty. Lying on the floor were the girl, wounded in the back, and Louis Rodriguez, 25, an anti-Castroite, shot in the shoulder.

Rodriguez, whose wound was not serious, listed his home as Brooklyn. Two other anti-Castro victims who required hospital treatment were Francisco Pereira and Humberto Triana, both 23, who said they were Cuban exiles. They were beaten over the head.

Rancher Murdered Woman Cook Held

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C. (CP)—A ranch owner was shot through the chest and his body dumped into a ditch, RCMP reported today.

Police discovered the body of Louis Hudgens, in his 70s, late Wednesday after receiving reports that a body had been seen in the ditch.

Charged in the shooting was cook Veronica Gladys Kroner.

Lookin' at New York t'day, whatever made Ringling think people didn't want circuses any more?

TITO, CASTRO GRAB SPOTLIGHT

Nikita Finally Outshone

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Cuba's Fidel Castro and Yugoslavia's President Tito outshone Nikita Khrushchev briefly today at the UN General Assembly meeting.

Just before the session began, Khrushchev had the unusual experience of being bypassed by photographers. They shot over his head to photograph the greeting between Castro and Tito, who was sitting right behind the Soviet premier.

Castro, swaggering in his revolutionary fatigues, had just walked across the assembly hall to greet Khrushchev—the second time the two have embraced warmly since the assembly opened three days ago.

After chatting for a few minutes, Khrushchev resumed his seat and Castro stepped along to greet Tito.

It was then that some of the photographers ignored Khrushchev for the Yugoslav and Cuban.

Khrushchev and Tito met for the first time since their arrival in New York as they entered the lobby of the UN building. The two smiled, chatted and marched together down the aisle to their seats.

Khrushchev immediately began to complain to Tito about the Soviet premier's treatment in New York. Officials have confined him to Manhattan.

Speaking in Russian, Khrushchev said: "I have a small territory, so I have to come out in the corridors to take a walk."

Continuing his complaints, Khrushchev told Tito:

"They shout and shout, the demonstrators, and now I recognize the same voices. . . . This is decadence."

Tito, speaking in halting Russian and a low voice, remarked to Khrushchev that Fidel Castro, "is a hero."

How the matter of Castro came up at that moment was not clear.

Tito and the Russians fell out in Stalin's days when he publicly refused to bow to total Moscow domination.

Trans-Canada 'Local' Trains Start Saturday

MONTREA (CP)—Canada's major railways are introducing a new transporta ion concept this weekend: The trans-continental local train.

The CNR and CPR both operate two trains daily each way between Montreal and Vancouver, with separate sections of each train linking Toronto to the trans-continental routes.

But they have decided, for the sake of efficiency and economy of operation, to encourage travellers to use one train for short distances and this means that if you are travelling from Vancouver to Winnipeg or Montreal by train, you will be better advised to take the CPR's Canadian or the CNR's Super-Continental. They alone will have sleeping-car accommodation and dining facilities along their entire routes.

If your trip is to be a short one, say from Regina to Swift Current, Sask., or from Gogama, Ont., to Hornepayne, Ont., one of the "locals" will be the train you want.

The CPR's Dominion and the CNR's Continental are being "re-tailored," effective Saturday, to provide local service along the entire trans-continental routes.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Quiet Trading Seen At Toronto, N.Y.

Quiet trading was the order today on both the Toronto and New York stock markets.

Buyers adopted a wait and see attitude and the trading pace was slow.

Downward trend also continued in dealings on the Montreal exchange.

AT TORONTO Calgary Power paced industrials with a two-point gain at 24. Noranda led mines lower, off ¼ at 38¾.

Western Oils, always susceptible to change, were moving lower, led by Home A and B with drops of 15 cents at $8.35 and $8. Pacific Petroleum was up ⅛ at 10½.

AT NEW YORK on a quiet Canadian list, Dome Mines added ½ and International Nickel dropped ¼.

American exchange prices—generally irregular—included a ¼ drop for Canadian Marconi.

AT MONTREAL the downward trend continued on the stock exchange amid light trading today.

AT LONDON there was a further recovery on the stock market today. Best prices were not always held but selective buying of industrial equities produced fairly widespread gains.

Gilt-edged securities were firm and dollar stocks improved.

Mining markets were generally quiet but golds improved slightly. Coppers were dull and oils were mainly lower.

AT VANCOUVER trading was quiet with prices off slightly. Peace River Pete moved 5,000 at 30. Canam Copper traded 2,000 at 18. Craigmont sold 800 at $5.60. Silver Standard moved 6,000 at 28. Silbak traded 2,500 at 44.

B.C. Cattlemen Face Reduced Exports to U.S.

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Reduced demand from the U.S. is expected to result in a marked reduction in B.C. cattle exports this year but ranchers are hopeful that increased demand from Eastern Canada will prevent any sharp decline in total sales.

Manager Ralph Devick of the B.C. Livestock Producers Co-operative here says the association hopes to market a total of 20,000 head of cattle this year compared with 21,300 in 1959.

Prices are slightly lower than last year, however, with feeder cattle selling at about 20 cents a pound.

Rescue of Boy From Suffocation Wins Langford Mother's Gratitude

A greatly relieved Langford mother today expressed the strongest gratitude to a neighbor who early Wednesday evening saved her four-year-old boy from certain death.

Little Brian Pedden, 2686 Selwyn, was almost completely buried in soft silt from a nearby excavation when he was pulled out and given mouth-to-mouth respiration by Mrs. Eugene Yates, 25, a trained nurse who lives at 2676 Selwyn.

"I am most certainly grateful to her. Brian would have been a goner if it wasn't for her fast actions. It was extremely close. Words fail me . . ."

FRIENDS SCREAMED

Brian was "a little pale today. But he ate a good breakfast."

Mrs. Yates' sons, Bobby, 5, and Kelly, 3, were playing with Brian when Mrs. Yates heard the children scream and saw them at the silt pile.

"I ran as fast as I could. The children said nothing. They were paralyzed. Then I saw Brian's coat tail."

She grabbed the coat tail and lifted the boy clear. He was blue from suffocation.

"He wasn't breathing at all," she said.

She hit him hard on the back to clear silt and sand from his mouth and nose.

ANXIOUS TIME

"Then I put him over my knees, his head back, and used mouth-to-mouth respiration. I covered both his nose and mouth, his face was so small.

"It seemed an awfully long time before he came around. I was exhausted, though it was probably between three and four minutes."

Mrs. Yates said she had thought during the time about calling the Langford fire department, "but if I had he would have died."

Mrs. Yates said her children had been warned to stay away from the excavation, dug Wednesday for a new house, "but you know what children are like."

She is a graduate of Vancouver General Hospital.

"I just did what I knew how," she said.

The Pedden's were not so lucky in relation to husband Don.

He was recently hospitalized with burns suffered in an accident near Comox when a Coleman lantern he was using on a hunting trip blew up.

Red Light-Rifle Robbery Fails

Two Youths Sought After Car Chase

PEANUTS
I WAS GOING TO ASK YOU IF YOU WANTED TO PLAY A LITTLE BALL, SNOOPY...
BUT THEN I REMEMBERED... THIS IS "NATIONAL DOG WEEK" SO I DON'T SUPPOSE YOU'D WANT TO CHASE A BALL DURING "NATIONAL DOG WEEK," WOULD YOU?
WOULD YOU?
9-22
I DIDN'T THINK YOU WOULD!

Police were searching today for two youths after David Shields, 1607 Camosun, reported that a car drew up alongside him shortly after midnight Wednesday and one of its occupants confronted him with a rifle.

Mr. Shields said he was driving home and when he reached Gladstone Avenue, between Fernwood and Chambers, he noticed a car following him with a red light flashing.

He thought it was an ambulance or police car and pulled up beside him and a youth began to get out holding a rifle.

He reversed his car for two blocks and managed to get away.

Mr. Shields described the car as a 1947 model Ford. The driver was about 16 years old with bushy, black hair and the passenger had light hair, a pointed nose and wore a light jacket.

Easier Passage On Money Votes Asked at UBCM

By JOHN MIKA
Times Staff Reporter

B.C. civic leaders today overwhelmingly favored a proposal for making a simple majority of ratepayers sufficient to pass money bylaws.

But the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention in New Westminster turned down another proposal which would have allowed municipal councils to undertake large-scale capital works without any vote by ratepayers.

The successful resolution, if adopted by the provincial legislature, would eliminate the present requirement that 60 per cent of the ratepayers approve money bylaws.

WORKS HARDSHIP

The resolution, proposed by the muncipality of Richmond, pointed out that defeat of many bylaws for needed services in expanding communities "is working a hardship in that such works must eventually be provided at greatly increased cost."

Richmond also was successful in winning endorsation of a resolution which would permit municipalities to put up a composite money bylaw for ratepayers' approval involving several related projects.

Present legislation requires a separate vote on each project.

WIDER SCOPE

But delegates here indicated they needed freedom to put up a "package" bylaw to give them wider scope in planning future developments.

Burnaby Reeve Alan Emmett fought for even wider powers by proposing the resolution which would have enabled two-thirds of a municipal council, with the provincial cabinet's approval, to undertake construction of "essential services" without any reference to ratepayers.

He said this was the practice in Great Britain, and some eastern Canadian communities, but his motion was defeated after an attack by Saanich Councillor Leslie Passmore and others that it would be undemocratic.

LONG LEASES

The Delta resolution adopted by the delegates aimed at obtaining legislation to permit municipalities to lease publicly-owned land for a period of 99 years rather than sell it outright.

As the convention settled down to grinding its way through more than 90 resolutions, a behind-the-scenes battle began shaping up between Victoria delegates and representatives of Victoria police and firemen's unions.

The union men have been lobbying delegates here, in personal contacts and a circulated brief, to oppose a Victoria resolution urging establishment of arbitration boards headed by judges for settling wage disputes between councils and police and firemen's unions.

DOUBT SUPPORT

Victoria council delegates, alarmed at the fact that more than half of the 117 UBCM municipalities have no professional civic police or firemen, feel their case may not be fully understood by these delegates.

So several in the Victoria delegation began a counter-lobbying campaign overnight, buttonholing other delegates and preparing a mimeographed brief for circulation in opposition to the union's statement.

ASK The TIMES

Q. What is the difference between listed and unlisted stocks? R.J.

A. As a general rule, a listed stock is one on which particulars have been filed with a recognized stock exchange, and are traded only on the exchange. Unlisted stocks can be sold "over the counter" like a loaf of bread.

Q. We have a Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here. What does astrophysics mean? K.L.

A. It's the branch of astronomy concerned with the physical composition and constitution of the heavenly bodies.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealers.

Doctors Hit Chiropractors 'Free' Offer

The registrar of the British Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons said today an offer by provincial chiropractors of free spinal checks of all school children is the most blatant form of advertising he has heard of.

Dr. Lynn Gunn said the offer, announced Wednesday by the B.C. Chiropractors' Association, is a means to try and get more patients.

"They'll probably give the first exam free but after that it will cost the children's parents money."

W. O. Morgan, director of the chiropractors' association, said chiropractors are not allowed to tell patients to come back to see them after the free check-up.

The check-up will be available Monday through Saturday next week at offices of chiropractors, not in the schools, and children will be given a card to take home detailing the results of the examination.

FRIDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Lions Club: Noon, Empress Hotel. Hugh A. Smith, Seattle, will speak on the forthcoming international exposition there.

Canadian Club: Noon, Empress Hotel. Sir Robert H. Hadow, former British consul in San Francisco, will address members on "Africa and the Commonwealth."

TRAFFIC FINES

In Esquimalt police court today:

Leonard Robert Smith, 1355 Lyle Street, fined $250 on a charge of impaired driving Wednesday evening. He was remanded until Monday for a probation report as to suspension of his licence.

CCF-Labor Link Division Among Civil Servants

A clash emerged today within the ranks of Victoria civil servants about the connection of the labor movement and the CCF.

Victoria president of the B.C. Government Employees' Association, Larry Huck, has resigned.

The fact that the labor group actively backs the CCF and that the government employees pay dues to it implies a connection, he said.

The man who took over from Mr. Huck, Jack Gowan of the attorney-general's department, said today he supports the former president's views. However, other members disagree.

He won't resign, Mr. Gowan said, because he felt bound to take over (he was vice-president) and because "one resignation would create sufficient interest among the members."

Mr. Huck said today he wants the issue raised at the association's provincial convention in Vancouver next month.

WANTS REFERENDUM

Mr. Huck said he had offered to stay on as president if the local allowed him to call a referendum on what members felt about the labor-CCF link.

"That was rejected in August," he said. Mr. Huck was also on the dissenting side of a June resolution by the local which asked the provincial executive to ensure it is "excused" from political activities, but at the same time backs affiliation with organized labor.

During the election campaign a statement by provincial president Dave Block said the association is absolutely non-political. Mr. Huck said today he felt this was "not enough."

Mr. Gowan said he agreed that if the civil servants paid dues to the B.C. federation "we're tarred with the same brush."

He suggested the federation might be able to show these dues are not used politically.

SEEK CLEAR RULE

"We hope to get some clear-cut ruling at the convention, said Mr. Gowan, "clearly establishing our position as being non-political."

Mr. Huck said he is not quitting the association. He said he would feel the same no matter what party was connected with the labor group.

In a statement in Gem, the local civil service magazine, Mr. Huck says: "I cannot go along with this policy of continued affiliation with the labor movement any longer because of labor participation in party politics."

CHALLENGE TO YOUNG MEN

Junior Chambers Enjoy World-Wide Affiliations

This is JAYCEE WEEK across Canada and members of the local branch of the Junior Chamber of Commerce have prepared a series of articles on the work and organization of the young businessmen's group. Fourth in the series appears below. It was written by Ray Rawnsley, a past president of Jaycees who, in business life, is a partner in a TV repair firm.

By RAY RAWNSLEY

Citizens of Victoria are aware of the activities of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, but few are aware of its world-wide affiliations.

In addition to our provincial and national organization, our unit is a member of Junior Chamber International.

The purpose of JCI can be explained by our world theme, "Young Men Can Change the World," and the thoughts of Henry Giessenbier (the founder of Junior Chamber) who hoped that "from the soul of this organization, where in the foundation of character and good citizenship are laid, a message will come in the sometime tomorrow that will stir the people toward the establishment of permanent and everlasting peace."

CHALLENGE REWARDING

The challenge of extending the formula of Junior Chamber to young men in other countries, and having them put it to work for themselves and their communities is worthwhile and rewarding.

Since JCI was founded December 11, 1944, it has grown to include 58 member nations, with 31 other countries and territories now being organized and receiving service. It has a membership of approximately 250,000 and is the second largest international organization of its kind.

The world secretariat of JCI is at Miami Beach, Florida, and is maintained by the dues of individual members, local chapters, national bodies and life members (senators). The secretariat serves all these echelons — answers inquiries, publishes material aids for Jaycees and co-ordinates Jaycee news items each month in a magazine, printed in English, Spanish, French and Japanese.

INTERCHANGE

From this secretariat, project information is available to any chapter in the world, and in this way worthwhile information and projects are interchanged from one country to another.

Residents of Greater Victoria will perhaps remember some of the programs that have been carried on locally and have received publicity.

Some three years ago Operation Brotherhood was a world-wide program of special note. Its purpose was to raise funds for the purchase of medical supplies for Vietnam refugees. Jaycee and other medical teams were then sent to Vietnam to administer these supplies to the sick and wounded refugees. Local churches and organizations greatly assisted Victoria Jaycees in making a sizable contribution to this fund and helped in the successful completion of this two-year project.

ART PROJECT

A highly successful and continuing project originating in Japan some five years ago is an "exchange of art" by school children. Through co-operation with the school boards a display of children's painting is collected by the Jaycees and shipped to Jaycees of another country. A similar shipment is returned and after display is presented to the original contributors for their information and study. Victoria has participated for four years, mainly with Japan.

Operation FLOW (future leaders of the world) is another youth program, school children being urged to correspond with other children throughout the world in an exchange of information. At present connections are being made for Victoria children to correspond with youngsters in South Africa, Australia, France and the U.S.A.

COMMUNICATE

Jaycees themselves exchange information on projects, organization, as well as details of their country and especially their community under a program called Operation Friendship. This is done by correspondence, tape recording, slides, tourist literature, etc., and at present Victoria is working with several countries including South Africa, New Zealand, Algeria and Israel.

IMPATIENTLY AWAITING start of the winter season, five young members of Victoria Figure Skating Club are getting costumes and equipment ready for the first session to be held in Memorial Arena, Oct. 8. From left are Sharon Wood, Deirdre Humphries, Sandra Tregellas, Carole Johnson and Jan Stenstrom. Club boasts a membership of over 800, of whom 500 are under 11. Youngest member is 3 and the oldest over 80. (Times Photo by Irving Strickland.)

Arms Cut Urged On World Powers

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—President Eisenhower today pleaded for acceptance of the United States program to help countries overcome poverty and develop in independence without outside interference.

The president, in his address to the 15th United Nations General Assembly, put forward a five-point program for Africa and also made specific recommendations calling for controlled disarmament, international control of outer space, food for peace, and the transfer fissionable materials from military to peaceful purposes.

He urged the United Nations to open an offensive against poverty, illiteracy and disease in Africa and called on the major world powers to avoid an arms race in the awakening continent.

Eisenhower charged that "a few nations" had flagrantly violated United Nations edicts in the Congo crisis "for their own selfish purposes."

Intervention Would Deny Rights

He said the attack by the Communist bloc on Secretary-General Dag Hammarksjold regarding his Congo policies was nothing less than a direct attack against the United Nations itself.

"The people of the Congo are entitled to build up their country in peace and freedom," said Eisenhower.

"Intervention by other nations in their internal affairs would deny them that right and create a focus of conflict in the heart of Africa."

An attentive listener to Eisenhower was Soviet Premier Khrushchev, whose mission to the UN has been interpreted as a desire to extend Soviet influence in Africa as well as promote Russia's disarmament concepts.

The president completed his speech and left the assembly shortly before one o'clock (10 a.m. PDT).

Khrushchev brushed off a request for comment with a terse: "I'm going to lunch."

Yugoslav President Tito said: "It was a positive speech. That's all I can say now."

Polish Communist boss Wladyslaw Gomulka said: "It's too early to comment." Hungarian Communist chief Janos Kadar gave a similar reply.

Eisenhower said the issues posed in the Congo "could well arise elsewhere in Africa."

Adding that the issue would determine whether the UN would be able to protect not only African countries but also countries elsewhere from outside pressure, he said:

"It is the smaller nations that have the greatest stake in the effective functioning of the UN."

"Any nation, seduced by glittering promises into becoming a catspaw for an imperialistic power, thereby undermines the United Nations and places in jeopardy the independence of itself and all others. . ."

The president said the African nations themselves should "choke off competition in armaments."

"The outstanding speed and success of the United Nations in dispatching substantial forces to the Congo should give these states assurance that they can rely on the United Nations to organize an effective response if their security is threatened," he said.

Briefly Eisenhower's proposals for Africa were:

1. Non-interference in the African countries' internal affairs;
2. Help in ensuring their security without wasteful and dangerous competition in armaments;
3. Emergency aid to the Congo;
4. International assistance in shaping a long-term African development program;
5. UN aid for education.

Khrushchev Withholds Applause

When President Eisenhower finished, the delegates applauded briefly, but Khrushchev and the Communist bloc refrained from applauding.

The president left and Yugoslavia's President Tito came to the stage to make his major speech.

External Affairs Minister Howard Green was at his place at the head of the Canadian delegation which greeted Eisenhower with warm applause.

All diplomatic and gallery seats were taken in the blue and gold assembly chamber but the crowd seemed more subdued than at the Assembly opening Tuesday.

The United States, Eisenhower said, is ready to submit to any effective and truly reciprocal inspection system.

He criticized the Russians' walkout from Geneva disarmament negotiations June 27, just as the United States was submitting new proposals, and said:

"Time and time again, the American people have voiced this yearning—to join with men of good will everywhere in building a better world. We

Girl, 9, Innocent Victim Of Cuban Riot in N.Y. Cafe

NEW YORK (AP)—A nine-year-old Venezuelan girl, struck in the back by a stray bullet in a fight between supporters and opponents of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, died today at St. Clare's Hospital.

The girl, Magdalina Urdaneto of Caracas, Venezuela, was dining with her tourist parents in a restaurant Wednesday, when a gang of Castro sympathizers burst in. An anti-Castroite, Louis Rodriguez, 25, was wounded in the shoulder.

Beer bottles flew, fists swung, and tables and chairs were overturned during the melee. It was touched off after a pro-Castro man sighted five anti-Castro men who came in to order sandwiches at the El Prado restaurant, on Eighth Avenue near 51st Street.

A man was arrested today in connection with the free-for-all, and another man was being sought as the actual gun-wielder.

The pro-Castro man used a telephone in the restaurant, and minutes later about a dozen adherents of Castro appeared.

RESTAURANT EMPTIED

When police arrived, the restaurant was practically empty. Lying on the floor were the girl, wounded in the back, and Louis Rodriguez, 25, an anti-Castroite, shot in the shoulder.

Rodriguez, whose wound was not serious, listed his home as Brooklyn. Two other anti-Castro victims who required hospital treatment were Francisco Pereira and Humberto Triana, both 23, who said they were Cuban exiles. They were beaten over the head.

HUGE WELCOME

Armed Man Held As Ike Nears

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower got a tumultuous welcome from an estimated 125,000 New Yorkers today as he arrived to address the historic United Nations meeting. The president grinned broadly and waved.

Police and security forces had one bad moment in the midst of the cheering reception, however. A man with a rifle was seized just as the president's car was about to pass by.

The incident occurred near the Manhattan end of the Queens-midtown tunnel while the presidential motorcade was en route from Idlewild Airport to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The man identified himself as Julius Maar, 67. He said he was taking the rifle to a gunsmith to have the stock lengthened. The gun was not loaded and Marr had no ammunition.

Maar, a neatly dressed man of medium build with tinges of grey hair, said in halting English that he held a doctorate of law in Hungary. He showed papers indicating he arrived in the United States on July, 17, 1956, as an immigrant from Hungary.

Four persons, one a young woman, held aloft printed signs saying:

"We are counting on you, Ike." "Please don't trust the Red murderers." "No compromise with communism."

Eisenhower stood in the open limousine and gave a "V" for victory sign.

Before the president's arrival, press secretary James Hagerty told reporters there would be no Eisenhower conference here with Russian Premier Khrushchev.

PRO-WESTERNS LOSE IN LAOS

SAIGON (UPI) — Laotian government troops today recaptured the town of Paksane, 80 miles east of Vientiane, and drove the revolutionary forces of pro-western Gen. Phoumi Nosovan into retreat, Vientiane Radio said in a broadcast heard here.

The radio, quoting the Laotian army high command, said the recapture of Paksane, where heavy fighting had been reported for two days, "definitely puts an end to the revolutionary committee's military ambitions."

TITO, CASTRO GRAB SPOTLIGHT

Nikita Finally Outshone

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Cuba's Fidel Castro and Yugoslavia's President Tito outshone Nikita Khrushchev briefly today at the UN General Assembly meeting.

Just before the session began, Khrushchev had the unusual experience of being bypassed by photographers. They shot over his head to photograph the greeting between Castro and Tito, who was sitting right behind the Soviet premier.

Castro, swaggering in his revolutionary fatigues, had just walked across the assembly hall to greet Khrushchev—the second time the two have embraced warmly since the assembly opened three days ago.

After chatting for a few minutes, Khrushchev resumed his seat and Castro stepped along to greet Tito.

It was then that some of the photographers ignored Khrushchev for the Yugoslav and Cuban.

Khrushchev and Tito met for the first time since their arrival in New York as they entered the lobby of the UN building. The two smiled, chatted and marched together down the aisle to their seats.

Khrushchev immediately began to complain to Tito about the Soviet premier's treatment in New York. Officials have confined him to Manhattan.

PM Calls 'Brain Trust' On Unemployment

BANK RATE HITS LOW

OTTAWA (UPI)—The Bank of Canada's weekly discount rate dipped to 1.93 per cent today, its lowest level since September, 1958.

The rate, an indication of credit demand, stood at 2.32 per cent a week ago.

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government plans to mobilize the collective brainpower of representative national organizations to help it combat the rising tide of unemployment in Canada.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, in a national television address Wednesday night, said he will confer before the next session of Parliament with business, labor, farm and other leaders to get their proposed solutions.

At the same time, in pledging that the unemployment problem will not be left to work itself out, he said the government already has drawn up for parliamentary approval plans based on "a current and realistic appraisal" of the situation.

The prime minister's speech came hard on the heels of the government's latest unemployment report earlier in the day. For the second straight month, it showed the jobless rolls increasing in a summer period when they normally decline slightly before the usual winter rise to peak figures.

"Before the next session of Parliament I intend to call to Ottawa representatives of business, labor, farm and other leaders of the nation," Mr. Diefenbaker said.

Later, he said in an interview that he plans to seek the views of organizations such as the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Manufacturers Association, the Canadian Construction Association, the agricultural federations and labor leaders.

He said he looks for expressions of opinion at meetings, indicating there may be a series of talks and not one conference. Invitations would be going out soon.

Mr. Diefenbaker's statements lent weight to persistent speculation in the capital that Parliament will be summoned into session this fall before the full onslaught of winter unemployment comes.

MUST EXPAND TRADE

Mr. Diefenbaker said in his TV address that the long-term solution of the unemployment problem is dependent in large measure on continued expansion of Canada's trade. He warned:

"We cannot achieve this if we price ourselves out of the markets of the world because of unreasonable demands from any quarter."

In the last three fiscal years exports had increased by 10 per cent while imports declined slightly. National annual income had increased by 12.4 per cent and was still rising.

"Unfortunately, our economy is not going ahead fast enough to meet the demands of the unprecedented increase in the number of our people who, for various reasons, are looking for jobs."

COMMUNIST LINK CHARGED

Mobutu Guarded After Uprising

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (Reuters)—Army strongman Joseph Mobutu pressed today for the withdrawal of Ghanaian and Guinean troops from the Congo and sought ways to arrest former Premier Patrice Lumumba.

At the same time, police opened fire to disperse several hundred Congolese troops who marched on Mobutu's home after holding a meeting to protest against their irregular pay.

Ghana officers at Camp Leopold said the soldiers were not armed and fled when the gendarmerie fired over their heads. No casualties were reported.

Three officers were arrested but later released. Two armored cars were brought in to guard Mobutu's home after the demonstration.

The 30-year-old colonel demanded the departure of the Ghana and Guinea United Nations contingents Wednesday night after the reported discoverey of a plot by the two nations to restore Lumumba as premier.

Mobutu told reporters he had found documents linking "Communists and Guineans and President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana."

Meanwhile, Lumumba remained in the official residence of the premier with a guard of Ghanaian troops. The Ghanaians said they would not resist any attempt at the "lawful arrest" of Lumumba. Mobutu conferred with legal advisers Wednesday on how to go about taking Lumumba into custody.

Mobutu also disclosed that he has ordered the expulsion from the Congo of left wingers Serge Michel, Lumumba's press officer, and Mrs. Andree Blouin, a close friend of Lumumba's deputy premier, Antoine Gizenga.

Reliable African sources said the plot to restore Lumumba to power as premier was discovered in three letters found in Lumumba's briefcase when he was held in custody briefly last week at camp Leopold.

One letter was said to be from Nkrumah asking Lumumba to station Ghanaian troops in key places in the Congo and then demand the withdrawal of the UN.

A second letter was said to be from the Guinean capital of Conakry, urging Lumumba to trust no one but the Guineans and Communists. The third was aleged to be signed by Ginzenga calling for 30 Czech technicians to take up posts in the Congolese administration.

Mobutu's administrative commission, appointed Tuesday to run the country until the end of the year, took over the government buildings in Leopoldville Wednesday. The commissioners — university graduates and students — said no members of the rival governments of Lumumba and Joseph Ileo would be allowed to enter the buildings.

Some Congolese sources said the commission now has the backing of President Joseph Kasavubu, who two weeks ago named Ileo as premier in Lumumba's place and later appointed Mobutu chief of staff.

'Too Little Too Late' —Perrault

VANCOUVER (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker's plan for meetings to study unemployment problems "sounds like too little and too late to the Liberals," British Columbia Liberal leader Ray Perrault said in a statement Wednesday night.

"Surely the Prime Minister requires no further evidence that the need for new jobs is critical," Mr. Perrault said.

The government needs more than advice; it needs representation from bodies which control public funds—such as municipalities and provinces—bodies prepared to spend money co-operatively to get the country out of the unemployment rut."

He said the Liberal party has urged federal and provincial unemployment conferences for several months, but these conferences had to be "more than talk sessions."

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP) — A three-alarm fire at the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation steel plant today brought all available equipment from the three city departments to the scene.

John D. Planning UN Trip

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker is making plans to attend the United Nations General Assembly, it was reported today.

Announcement of the prime minister's decision was expected to be forthcoming later in the day.

With the announcement from London that Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan is planning on going to the United Nations, Mr. Diefenbaker was conferring with external affairs advisers. He has also been in touch by long distance telephone with External Affairs Minister Howard Green, who is now in New York.

The decision of Mr. Macmillan and Mr. Diefenbaker to go to New York is taken here as an indication that both Britain and Canada have been informed that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will submit new disarmament proposals to the UN.

Mr. Diefenbaker's decision to go to the UN may set back by a few days his call to Ottawa of representatives of farm, business, labor and other leaders to discuss unemployment.

chev said: "I have a small territory, so I have to come out in the corridors to take a walk."

Continuing his complaints, Khrushchev told Tito:

"They shout and shout, the demonstrators, and now I recognize the same voices. . . . This is decadence."

Tito, speaking in halting Russian and a low voice, remarked to Khrushchev that Fidel Castro, "is a hero."

How the matter of Castro came up at that moment was not clear.

Tito and the Russians fell out in Stalin's days when he publicly refused to bow to total Moscow domination.

Austin Willis

One of Canada's best-known stage, screen and television personalities—Austin Willis—is now being presented to the local radio audience in a refreshingly-different type of five-minute daily program. It is called "Stories to Remember" and it features Mr. Willis narrating intriguing vignettes of life picked up in his travels through many lands. These stories are unusual, often poignant, frequently humorous, sometimes ironic — always deeply interesting. "Stories to Remember" is brought to you by MATINEE, the cigarette that tastes right all day . . . and is heard each day Monday through Friday on CKDA at 9.25-9.30 a.m.

STONES, ROTTEN EGGS THROWN

Rent Strikers Out After Fierce Riot

LONDON (AP)—A force of 400 policemen today evicted two embattled tenants from municipally-owned flats in the tough St. Pancras borough after a riotous clash with angry crowds.

A dozen policemen and rioters were injured and 17 persons were arrested.

At the height of the melee, stones and rotten eggs were thrown at the police.

Baliffs who broke through the crowds with police assistance finally removed the tenants—Don Cook, 38, and Arthur Rowe, 59, a waiter.

Cook and Rowe had been barricaded in their flats behind barbed wire entanglements since eviction notices for non-payment of their rent fell due Aug. 28.

Cook and Rowe stopped paying their rent as a protest against increases decreed by the St. Pancras borough council.

PRISONER AT GRAVE

'Thank You for Seeing My Son'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Roland Lopez, his hands manacled, stood between two detectives and cried quietly beside a little boy's grave.

Lopez, 27, a convicted robber, had escaped from prison to attend the funeral of his stepson, Joseph, 5. But police caught him first.

After the services Wednesday he turned to detective Vernon Weigand and said: "Thank you. Thank you for letting me see my son before he went to Heaven."

The officers led Lopez away —back to prison, where he faces a charge of escape. It carries a sentence of from one year to life.

Last January Lopez began serving five years to life at Chino prison, a minimum security facility, for the robbery of a bowling alley near his Sacramento home Dec. 15.

His wife, Josephine, and Joseph Cordova, her child by a previous marriage, moved to a hotel in nearby Pomona so they could see Lopez on visiting days.

On Aug. 18 little Joseph fell down a stair. After 18 days in general hospital, he died.

Lopez asked prison officials for permission to attend the funeral. Rules prohibit it.

So, Lopez said, he walked away from a work gang. He knew Joseph's body had been taken to the coroner's office, because he and his wife didn't have money for funeral services.

"I spent five days and nights outside the coroner's office," he said, "as near as I could get to Joseph."

Detectives traced Lopez and arrested him. In the meantime, services had been arranged. A couple Mrs. Lopez met in the hospital while Joseph lay dying, raised $50 and called a mortuary to see if that would buy a funeral.

The mortician heard the story and agreed to provide the funeral arrangements free.

Pomona police heard Lopez' story and agreed to let him attend.
